French Travel Writing in the Ottoman Empire Michele Longino, 2015-03-05 Examining the history of the French experience of the Ottoman world and Turkey this comparative study visits the accounts of early modern travelers for the insights they bring to the field of travel writing The journals of contemporaries Jean Baptiste Tavernier Jean Th venot Laurent D Arvieux Guillaume Joseph Grelot Jean Chardin and Antoine Galland reveal a rich corpus of political social and cultural elements relating to the Ottoman Empire at the time enabling an appreciation of the diverse shapes that travel narratives can take at a distinct historical juncture Longino examines how these writers construct themselves as authors characters and individuals in keeping with the central human project of individuation in the early modern era also marking the differences that define each of these travelers the shopper the envoy the voyeur the arriviste the ethnographer the merchant She shows how these narratives complicate and alter political and cultural paradigms in the fields of Mediterranean studies 17th century French studies and cultural studies arguing for their importance in the canon of early modern narrative forms and specifically travel writing The first study to examine these travel journals and writers together this book will be of interest to a range of scholars covering travel writing French literature and history

A Study of French Travel Habits and Patterns Karol Gess, 1974 A Study of French Travel Habits and Patterns: This report analyzes the findings from a sample of French residents with respect to their travel patterns, in general and specifically with respect to the U.S., attitudes towards and images of the U.S. as a travel destination, demographic and trip characteristics Karol Gess, United States Travel Service. Office of Research and Analysis, 1974

A Study of French Travel Habits and Patterns United States Travel Service, 1974 Alternative Modernities in French Travel Writing Gillian Jein, 2016-06-19 Ever since human beings first travelled cities have constituted important material and literary destinations While the city has formed a key theme for scholars of literary fiction travellers modes of writing the city have been somewhat neglected by travel studies However travel writing with its attention to difference provides a rich source for the study of representational strategies and tactics in the modern city Tracing spatial practices of French travel writers in London and New York from 1851 to the 1980s this book contributes to a body of work that analyses travel and travel writing beyond the Anglophone context and engages a variety of travel writing in questions surrounding French modalities for negotiating and establishing a nexus of meanings for life in the modern city One of the central tenets of the book is that in the way its spaces are planned encountered and represented the city is operational in the formulation of identities and ideologies and the book's guiding question is how travel and travel writing allow for the exploration of urban modernity from a perspective of exchange Bringing together the strands of theory context and poetic analysis this book examines travel writing as a spatial practice of the modern city engaging urban space in questions of nationality power and legibility and opening avenues for the exploration of urban modernity from a position of alterity where alternative imaginative geographies of the city might emerge

Bulletin of the Department of Education Massachusetts. Department of Education. Department of University Extension,1920 Visual Dictionary: French: For Home, Business, and Travel PONS Editorial Team,2015-02-03 This title is written for travelers students and lovers of language who will soon find this dictionary to be indispensable This eBook features 15 000 words and concepts sorted into 13 clearly formatted and color coded categories These categories are easily navigable by clicking on the links in the Table of Contents The eBook also features 3 000 full color pictures that provide helpful visualization for instant recognition How to Learn French in Canada Victor E Graham,1965-12-15 It is well known that even after several years exposure to high school French most English Canadians remain unable to speak the language It is equally well known that many French Canadians are bilingual One of the more obvious explanations for this relative deficiency on the part of the English Canadian is his lack of opportunities to use the French language in day to day situations and conversely the French Canadian's need to know the second language too often perhaps for economic reasons Professor Graham's book gives useful and practical suggestions on how to go about becoming fluent in French It offers not a course of instruction but a listing of practical ways of applying oneself to a study of the language There is specific up to date information and advice regarding services provided by the governments of Quebec and France courses offered in various Canadian communities clubs and societies correspondence courses universities and summer schools and language laboratories A feature which will be especially helpful for those in remote areas is the listing of publications books newspapers and periodicals music and songs records films and radio and television programmes which provide instruction in French The reader will quickly see that the available means are much more varied than he realizes and it is in providing this concise convenient enumeration of them that Professor Graham performs a great service Any adult who is reasonably proficient in French but wishes to improve will find this a practical and useful guide to ways of making a personal contribution to bilingualism in Canada This study has been prepared under the sponsorship of the Canadian Association for Adult Education French Political Travel Writing in the Interwar Years Martyn Cornick,Martin Hurcombe,Angela Kershaw,2017-02-10 This book studies travel writing produced by French authors between the two World Wars following visits to authoritarian regimes in Europe and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics USSR It sheds new light on the phenomenon of French political travel in this period by considering the well documented appeal of Soviet communism for French intellectuals alongside their interest in other radical regimes which have been much less studied fascist Italy the Iberian dictatorships and Nazi Germany Through analyses of the travel writing produced as a result of such visits the book gauges the appeal of these forms of authoritarianism for inter war French intellectuals from a broad political spectrum It examines not only those whose political sympathies with the extreme right or extreme left were already publicly known but also non aligned intellectuals who were interested in political models that offered an apparently radical alternative to the French Third Republic This study shows how travel writing provided a space for reflection on the lessons France might learn from the radical political experiments of the inter war years It argues that such writing can usefully be read as a form of utopian thinking distinguishing this from colloquial understandings of utopia as an ideal location Utopianism is understood neither as a fantasy ungrounded in the real nor as a dangerously totalitarian ideal but in line with Karl Mannheim Paul Ric ur and Ruth Levitas as a form of non congruence with the real that it seeks to transcend The utopianism of French political travel writing is seen to lie not in the attempt to portray the destination visited as utopia but rather in the pursuit of a dialogue with radical political alterity

New Approaches to Twentieth-century Travel Literature in French Charles Forsdick, Feroza Basu, Siobhán Shilton, 2006 From the postcolonial perspective of the early twenty first century the importance of travel literature for considerations of national and international cultures and identities has become increasingly apparent Travel literature in French has however received little critical scrutiny This book contributes to contemporary reassessments of the form in a number of disciplines focusing specifically on the discourses and contexts of travel in twentieth century texts written in French Its scope is interdisciplinary involving theoretical and generic considerations as well as a historical overview of colonial and postcolonial texts The book provides essential reading for all students of travel literature in French and of travel literature in general
