Going the Distance Elizabeth McQuoid, 2013-03-15 How do we respond to the silent appeal in the dark eyes of the child in the charity catalogue or the blanketed figure in the cold shop doorway Should we share the gospel with them or a bowl of soup Throughout history men and women such as Wilberforce Shaftesbury Carey and Booth have recognised a call to help the needy Others have argued that our first task is evangelism that Christians should not meddle in politics that social action is a distraction Do we serve Christ through preaching his Word or should we use words only when necessary Tim Chester argues that evangelism and social action are inseparable as two arms of the church's mission He presents a biblical case for truly evangelical social action that is shaped and inspired by the gospel He urges conservatives not to marginalize those who uphold the cause for the oppressed and those involved in social action not to neglect the preaching of the Word Consistent mission minded evangelicals have always refused to choose between a commitment to gospel proclamation and an active concern for the poor Tim Chester digs deep into the Bible to show us why both are vital and what it means to be Christ's people in a world of need Keith Walker director of SIM UK N Europe A must read for those looking for a way to integrate word and deed mission to advance God's purposed in our needy world Tom Sine author of Living on Purpose Finding God's Best For Your Life

Going the Distance? National Research Council, Transportation Research Board, Nuclear and Radiation Studies Board, Committee on Transportation of Radioactive Waste, 2006-06-21 This new report from the National Research Council's Nuclear and Radiation Studies Board NRSB and the Transportation Research Board reviews the risks and technical and societal concerns for the transport of spent nuclear fuel and high level radioactive waste in the United States Shipments are expected to increase as the U S Department of Energy opens a repository for spent fuel and high level waste at Yucca Mountain and the commercial nuclear industry considers constructing a facility in Utah for temporary storage of spent fuel from some of its nuclear waste plants The report concludes that there are no fundamental technical barriers to the safe transport of spent nuclear fuel and high level radioactive and the radiological risks of transport are well understood and generally low However there are a number of challenges that must be addressed before large quantity shipping programs can be implemented successfully Among these are managing social risks The report does not provide an examination of the security of shipments against malevolent acts but recommends that such an examination be carried out Going the Distance David R.
