Green, Samson Lotven,2024-06-17 There is a long and rich tradition of excellence in Ghanaian linguistics and the detailed study of Ghanaian languages This tradition has expanded by leaps and bounds in recent years thanks in part to a cadre of renowned and highly productive Ghanaian linguists conducting research at universities around the globe as well as in Ghana itself So too has the commitment to careful description documentation and theorizing underlying this tradition been extended to the students that these scholars have trained The papers in this volume reflect the vast reach of this research tradition grounded in but expanding beyond Ghanaian languages ranging from experimental phonetics to language description to political discourse analysis Go Sleep in Your Own Bed Candace Fleming,2017-05-02 From bestselling award winning author Fleming and beloved illustrator of the Maple books Nichols comes a giggle inducing read aloud starring a cast of comically grumpy barnyard animals Sure to become a bedtime favorite This funny and irresistible picture book feels like a classic in the making When Pig plops into his sty at bedtime he finds Cow fast asleep in his spot Go sleep in your own bed he squeals and sends her packing But when Cow finally snuggles down into her stall she finds Hen sleeping there So begins a chain reaction of snoozing barnyard animals being awakened and sent off to their own beds until every last one is in just the right place Young children will delight in repeating the refrain Go sleep in your own bed and laugh at the antics of these hilarious and very sleepy farm animals Praise for Oh No by Candace Fleming Reads like an instant classic Oh yes This is a terrific new picture book Kirkus Reviews Starred It s a book with the feel of an old classic and it may well become one Publishers Weekly Starred A winner for 3 and 4 year olds The New York Times Praise for the Maple series by Lori Nichols Readers will fall in love with Maple School Library Journal Starred

Utterly charming The New York Times No Wings to Fly Abraham Biar Chol, 2011-07-19 I was born from Dinka tribes where Polygamy is predominantly pride of cultural values in Southern Sudan Eastern Africa My mother is the last of the eleven wives of my father and I am the last born of the fifty siblings I am not exactly sure of my birth date because of no written records from my parents However based on the date that was given to me by the United Nation I was born in 1984 and grew up in a traditional cattle herding from Pakeer Ciir in Jongeli State In the late 1980s I was only four years old child amongst the fifty siblings living an incredible life of illiteracy The nomadic cattle life values a lot more than education So education was not something I ever dream of My peers and I played different games that don't exist in the western countries when we were at our sweet village where there was no electricity or clean waters Those games such as Gugura molding cows from clay and the Dinka games of kids playing marrying your wife and built toggles and slept in it while looking after calves was the best game we enjoyed the most as kids We were very much happy like the rest of the kids before the Sudanese government troops began bombarded our village from the sky with helicopters and Russians made airstrikes antinovels in Arabic In 1987 when Civil war reaches its climax and Sudanese government keeps sending troops South and burned down our villages to ashes and obliterated the entire villages I fled into the bush with my brothers and cousins when we were looking after cattle to escape the bullets and not to be captured and made slaves The chaos and violence that happened forced me to flee into the bush when bullets were whizzing in the air and burning smoke at nearby village rise up high into the sky This led to uprooting and drifting through horrendous lives I never imagined My first nights ever in the bush were horrible which led to unknown journey of which none of my great grand parents or parents ever had been before We then became orphaned and began to walk thousands miles on foot to Ethiopia guided by army rebels known as Sudan Peoples Liberation Army SPLA not to be killed or kidnapped by Murle militiamen on the way On our way I witnessed the deaths of cousins friends and colleagues Besides I witness the born and sculpture of humans remains on the way that I had never seen before During the journey I starved to death and got thirsty to the point where I drank my own urines to quench my thirst for the survival Through my entire time I had lived in refugees camps for fourteen years before coming to America I passed through hunger violence and fatigues and became malnourish child living on one cup of maize and one cup of beans of which to last for six days The violence and suffering I went through had left very many people dead from Sudan to Ethiopian and then Sudan to Kenya but not sure of what kept me alive I am very happy that with God's grace I am who I am today In April 3 2001 I came to Rochester New York and later joined by my close friend Peter Agok I had lived in Rochester for the past ten years On my arrival to the United States I had often faced with cultural shocks and shaken by F and B words an Americans favor expressions while adapting to Americans life both at work and school I had been chasing Americans dreams and the dreams are too far yet to be reach During the course of stays at U S A I went to high school for a year before enrolled at Community College to improve my English After two years at Community College I transferred to University of Rochester and graduated in May 2007 with major in Biology and minor in Chemistry I work at Xerox Webster New York and looking forward to go back to school and pursuit field in medicine specially Pharmacy to return back to Sudan to alleviate the suffering my people are experiencing

A Dandelion for Dereau Lansford O'Dell Lilly, 2008-01-24 A story about the American South how an interracial group of young and old flee Sheridan's burning of the Shenandoah Valley during the Civil War and settle together in West Virginia The story is interwoven with clandestine interracial love affairs and marriages the miracles and bigotry of old time religions corrupt back hills justice wars and the aftermath of wars Murders rapes and other injustices are often never known by the law but are met with heavy vengeance in the quiet of the hills There is also some humor This is a tale of days gone by but not so far gone that we cannot still get glimpses of them a down home story about love honor faith courage patriotism and loyalty that follows the group and their descendants from the early 1800s to the late 1940s

The Devil's Backbone Bill Wittliff, 2014-10-01 The last the boy Papa saw of his Momma she was galloping away on her horse Precious in the saddle her father took from a dead Mexican officer after the Battle of San Jacinto fleeing from his Daddy Old Karl a vicious tight fisted horse trader Momma's flight sets Papa on a relentless quest to find her that thrusts him and his scrappy little dog Fritz into adventures all across the wild and woolly Hill Country of Central Texas down to Mexico and even into the realm of the ghostly Shimmery People In The Devil's Backbone master storyteller Bill Wittliff takes readers on an exciting journey through a rough 1880s frontier as full of colorful characters and unexpected turns of events as the great American quest novel Adventures of Huckleberry Finn Wittliff grew up listening to stories and memories like these in his own family and in this imaginative novel they come to vivid life creating an engrossing story of a Texas Huck Finn that brims with folk wisdom and sly humor A rogue's gallery of characters thwart and aid Papa's path Old Karl hell bent on bringing the boy back to servitude on his farm and Herman Papa's brother who's got Old Karl's horse trading instincts and greed Calley Pearsall an enigmatic cowboy with other Fish to Fry who might be an outlaw or a trustworthy o Amigo o Jeffey a black seer who talks to the spirits but won't tell Papa what she has divined about his Momma Mister Pegleg a three legged coyote with whom Papa forms a poignant nearly tragic friendship the Mexkins Pepe and Peto and their father Old Crecencio whose longing for his lost family is as strong as Papa's and blind Bird a magical blue baby who can't see with his eyes but who helps other people see what they hold in their hearts Papa's adventures draw him ever nearer to a mysterious cave that haunts his dreams an actual cave that he discovers at last in the canyons of the Devil's Backbone but will he find Momma before Old Karl finds him
