important films from the early classic of montage Battleship Potemkin to his late masterpiece Ivan the Terrible Alongside these however the Soviet filmmaker also toiled over a compelling array of unrealized projects from ideas that never grew beyond complex passionate notebook scrawls and sketches to productions that were mounted and shot to some degree of completion without ever being finished Working from the archival remnants of several of the director s most fascinating unrealized projects from his bold vision to film Marx s Das Kapital to his time in Hollywood struggling to adapt Dreiser s An American Tragedy Dustin Condren s book reveals new aspects of Eisenstein s genius showing the filmmaker in a constant state of process open to working toward impossible and sometimes utopian ends and committed to the pursuit of creative and theoretical discovery Condren s analysis of these unrealized projects in An Imaginary Cinema reveals Eisenstein at crucial moments of his personal and artistic biography and it also tells the wider story of a canonical artist negotiating the political labyrinths of Stalinist Russia the economic pitfalls of Hollywood and the technological shifts of early cinema Review of early twentieth century Shanghai was the center of China s new media culture Described by the modernist writer Mu Shiying as transplanted from Europe and paved with shadows for many of its residents Shanghai was a city without a past paradoxically haunted by the absent past s traces In Shadow Modernism William Schaefer traces how photographic practices in Shanghai provided a forum within which to debate culture ethnicity history and the very nature of images The central modernist form in China photography was neither understood nor practiced as primarily a medium for realist representation rather photo layouts shadow photography and photomontage rearranged and recomposed time and space cutting apart and stitching places people and periods together in novel and surreal ways Analyzing unknown and overlooked photographs photomontages cartoons paintings and experimental fiction and poetry Schaefer shows how artists and writers used such fragmentation and juxtaposition to make visible the shadows of modernity in Shanghai the violence the past the ethnic and
