Golden Boy Memories Of A Hong Kong Childhood:

Golden Boy Martin Booth, 2005-11-29 The last work of the internationally known Booker shortlisted writer is a memoir of growing up in 1950s Hong Kong

Golden Boy Martin Booth, 2024-08-06 A vivid re creation of a lost time and place In this quite wonderful book Booth brings the Hong Kong of his youth back to life The Washington Post Book World At seven years old Martin Booth found himself with all of Hong Kong at his feet His father was posted there in 1952 and this memoir is his telling of that youth a time when he had access to the corners of a colony normally closed to a Gweilo a pale fellow like him His experiences were colorful and vast Befriending rickshaw coolies and local stallholders he learned Cantonese sampled delicacies such as boiled water beetles and one hundred year old eggs and participated in vibrant festivals He even entered the forbidden Kowloon Walled City wandered into a secret lair of Triads and visited an opium den From the plink plonk man with his dancing monkey to the Queen of Kowloon a crazed tramp who may have been a Romanov Martin Booth saw it all but his memoir illustrates the deeper challenges he faced in his warring parents a broad minded mother who embraced all things Chinese and a bigoted father who was enraged by his family s interest in going native Martin Booth s compelling memoir the last book he completed before dying glows with infectious curiosity and humor and is an intimate representation of the now extinct time and place of his growing up Eloquent and engrossing People A grand adventure seen through a boy s eyes but remembered by a novelist with a sensualist s appreciation of sights sounds and tastes An extraordinarily happy book filled with hilarious set pieces and pulsating with Hong Kong s vibrant street life The New York Times

Hong Kong and British culture, 1945-97 Mark Hampton, 2015-11-01 This book examines the British cultural engagement with Hong Kong in the second half of the twentieth century It shows how the territory fit unusually within Britain s decolonisation narratives and served as an occasional foil for examining Britain s own culture during a period of perceived stagnation and decline Drawing on a wide range of archival and published primary sources Hong Kong and British culture 1945 97 investigates such themes as Hong Kong as a site of unrestrained capitalism modernisation and good government as well as an arena of male social and sexual opportunity It also examines the ways in which Hong Kong Chinese embraced British culture and the competing predictions that British observers made concerning the colony s return to Chinese sovereignty An epilogue considers the enduring legacy of British colonialism This book will be essential reading for historians of Hong Kong British decolonisation and Britain s culture of declinism

Innocents Abroad Too Michael Pearson, 2008-10-21 Most people don t get the opportunity to circumnavigate the globe Michael Pearson has had the good fortune to do it twice As a two term professor in the Semester at Sea Program Pearson journeyed by ship in 2002 and 2006 to such countries as Japan China Vietnam India Myanmar Egypt Turkey South Africa and Cuba In Innocents Abroad Too he shares his experiences and candid impressions transporting the reader from bustling streets outside Shanghai s City God s Temple to the Masai Mara plain Along the way Pearson provides a literary journey enriching his encounters with descriptions of the great books and great writers who have also brought the world closer to their readers These touchstones are combined with journalistic sketches of the people and places he visits and Pearson s thoughtful meditations on the significance of travel and the importance of encountering the new In the rich tradition of travel literature Innocents Abroad Too offers a blend of experience and imagination worlds familiar and strange

Bruce Lee Matthew Polly, 2019-06-04 The definitive The New York Times biography of film legend Bruce Lee who made martial arts

a global phenomenon bridged the divide between eastern and western cultures and smashed long held stereotypes of Asians and Asian Americans Forty five years after Bruce Lee s sudden death at age thirty two journalist and bestselling author Matthew Polly has written the definitive account of Lee s life It s also one of the only accounts incredibly there has never been an authoritative biography of Lee Following a decade of research that included conducting more than one hundred interviews with Lee s family friends business associates and even the actress in whose bed Lee died Polly has constructed a complex humane portrait of the icon Polly explores Lee s early years as a child star in Hong Kong cinema his actor father s struggles with opium addiction and how that turned Bruce into a troublemaking teenager who was kicked out of high school and eventually sent to America to shape up his beginnings as a martial arts teacher eventually becoming personal instructor to movie stars like James Coburn and Steve McQueen his struggles as an Asian American actor in Hollywood and frustration seeing role after role he auditioned for go to a white actors in eye makeup his eventual triumph as a leading man his challenges juggling a sky rocketing career with his duties as a father and husband and his shocking end that to this day is still shrouded in mystery Polly breaks down the myths surrounding Bruce Lee and argues that contrary to popular belief he was an ambitious actor who was obsessed with the martial arts not a kung fu guru who just so happened to make a couple of movies This is an honest revealing look at an impressive yet imperfect man whose personal story was even more entertaining and inspiring than any fictional role he played onscreen Book Lust to Go Nancy Pearl,2010-06-01 Adventure is just a book away as bestselling author Nancy Pearl returns with recommended reading for more than 120 destinations both worldly and imagined around the globe From Las Vegas to the Land of Oz Naples to Nigeria Philadelphia to Provence Nancy Pearl guides readers to the very best fiction and nonfiction to read about each destination Even within one country she traverses decades to suggest titles that effortlessly capture the different eras that make up a region s unique history This enthusiastic literary globetrotting guide includes stops in Korea Sweden Afghanistan Albania Parma Patagonia Texas and Timbuktu Book Lust To Go connects the best fiction and nonfiction to particular destinations whether your bags are packed or your armchair is calling From fiction to memoir poetry to history Nancy Pearl s Book Lust to Go takes the reader on a globetrotting adventure no passport required Women of China ,2006-07 Hazel Barnes Andrew Jantz,2013-02-07 A collection of letters from Dr Hazel E Barnes to Andrew Jantz a friend and fellow existentialist They date from 2002 till her death in 2008 Her letters express her reflections on philosophy and culture and perhaps just as interesting her day to day life in Colorado with her partner and their many travels Dr Barnes was crucial both through her translations and her own writings in importing French existentialism into America during the mid twentieth century Those interested in the life works and philosophy of Dr Barnes should find these letters insightful The Book Review Digest ,2005 Gweilo: Memories Of A Hong Kong Childhood Martin Booth,2009-09-15 Martin Booth died in February 2004 shortly after finishing the book that would be his epitaph this wonderfully remembered beautifully told memoir of a childhood lived to the full in a far flung outpost of the British Empire An inquisitive seven year old Martin Booth found himself with the whole of Hong Kong at his feet when his father was posted there in the early 1950s Unrestricted by parental control and blessed with bright blond hair that signified good luck to the Chinese he had free access to hidden corners of the colony normally closed to a Gweilo a pale fellow like him Befriending rickshaw coolies and local stallholders he learnt Cantonese sampled delicacies such as boiled water beetles and one hundred year old eggs and participated in colourful festivals He even entered the forbidden Kowloon Walled City wandered into the secret lair of the Triads and visited an opium den Along the way he encountered a colourful array of people from the plink plonk man with his dancing monkey to Nagasaki Jim a drunken child molester and the Queen of Kowloon the crazed tramp who may have been a member of the Romanov family Shadowed by the unhappiness of his warring parents a broad minded mother who like her son was keen to embrace all things Chinese and a bigoted father who was enraged by his family s interest in going native Martin Booth s compelling memoir is a journey into Chinese culture and an extinct colonial way of life that glows with infectious curiosity and humour
