storefront nickelodeons going to the movies has been an integral part of life across America By the 1950s there were over 230 theaters in southern New Jersey ranging from lavish palaces like the 2 000 seat Stanley in Camden to modest venues like the 350 seat Little in Haddonfield Today sadly less than a dozen remain standing and most of those are now used for other commercial purposes Only the Broadway in Pitman continues to operate as the last of the original motion picture palaces South Jersey Movie Houses is a pictorial tour of the theaters that once raised their curtains to audiences across the southern part of the state It offers a nostalgic look at their neon marquees and silver screens bringing back memories of Saturday matinees 3 D glasses and movie date nights

The Hunt for Tokyo Rose Russell Warren Howe,1993-08-13 A dramatic affecting account Publishers Weekly

The Scarlett Letters John Wiley,2014-10-08 One month after her novel Gone With the Wind was published Margaret Mitchell sold the movie rights for fifty thousand dollars Fearful of what the studio might do to her story I wouldn't put it beyond Hollywood to have Scarlett seduce General Sherman she joked the author washed her hands of involvement with the film However driven by a maternal interest in her literary firstborn and compelled by her Southern manners to answer every fan letter she received Mitchell was unable to stay aloof for long In this collection of her letters about the 1939 motion picture classic readers have a front row seat as the author watches the Dream Factory at work learning the ins and outs of filmmaking and discovering the peculiarities of a movie crazed public Her ability to weave a story so evident in Gone With the Wind makes for delightful reading in her correspondence with a who's who of Hollywood from producer David O Selznick director George Cukor and screenwriter Sidney Howard to cast members Clark Gable Vivien Leigh Leslie Howard Olivia de Havilland and Hattie McDaniel Mitchell also wrote to thousands of others aspiring actresses eager to play Scarlett O'Hara fellow Southerners hopeful of seeing their homes or their grandmother's dress used in the film rabid movie fans determined that their favorite star be cast and creators of songs dolls and Scarlett panties who were convinced the author was their ticket to fame and fortune During the film's production she corrected erring journalists and the producer's over the top publicist who fed the gossip mills accuracy be damned Once the movie finished she struggled to deal with friends and strangers alike who fought and trampled little children and connived and broke the ties of lifelong friendship to get tickets to the premiere But through it all she retained her sense of humor Recounting an acquaintance's denial of the rumor that the author herself was going to play Scarlett Mitchell noted he ungallantly stated that I was something like fifty years too old for the part After receiving numerous letters and phone calls from the studio about Belle Watling's accent the author related her father was convulsed at the idea of someone telephoning from New York to discover how the madam of a Confederate bordello talked And in a chatty letter to Gable after the premiere Mitchell coyly admitted being feminine enough to be quite charmed by his statement to the press that she was fascinating but added Even my best friends look at me in a speculative way probably wondering what they overlooked that your sharp eyes saw As Gone With the Wind marks its seventy fifth anniversary on the silver screen these letters edited by Mitchell historian John Wiley Jr offer a fresh look at the most popular motion picture of all time through the eyes of the woman who gave birth to Scarlett Gone with the Wind on Film Cynthia Marylee Molt,1990 This is the definitive collection of data about all aspects of this film the ten sections focus on characters in the novel the players and their own histories costuming every major garment worn major set furnishings the filming schedule etc Also bibliographies discographies filmographies of the actors and actresses and collectibles An appendix lists available still photographs Margaret Mitchell's Gone With the Wind Ellen F. Brown,John Wiley,2023-01-02 This book now updated with 2 new chapters presents the first comprehensive overview of how the iconic novel became an international phenomenon that has managed to sustain the public s interest for 85 years It tells how Mitchell s book was developed marketed distributed and otherwise groomed for success in the 1930s and the savvy measures taken since then by the author her publisher and her estate to ensure its longevity Billboard ,1985-08-10 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world s premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends Buying Power Lawrence B. Glickman,2009-06-10 A definitive history of consumer activism Buying Power traces the lineage of this political tradition back to our nation s founding revealing that Americans used purchasing power to support causes and punish enemies long before the word boycott even entered our lexicon Taking the Boston Tea Party as his starting point Lawrence Glickman argues that the rejection of British imports by revolutionary patriots inaugurated a continuous series of consumer boycotts campaigns for safe and ethical consumption and efforts to make goods more broadly accessible He explores abolitionist led efforts to eschew slave made goods African American consumer campaigns against Jim Crow a 1930s refusal of silk from fascist Japan and emerging contemporary movements like slow food Uncovering previously unknown episodes and analyzing famous events from a fresh perspective Glickman illuminates moments when consumer activism intersected with political and civil rights movements He also sheds new light on activists relationship with the consumer movement which gave rise to lobbies like the National Consumers League and Consumers Union as well as ill fated legislation to create a federal Consumer Protection Agency "Frankly My Dear-- " Herb Bridges,1995 Glimpses into the soul of a people and a nation New Approaches to Gone With the Wind ,2015-12-14 Since its publication in 1936 Gone with the Wind has held a unique position in American cultural memory both for its particular vision of the American South in the age of the Civil War and for its often controversial portrayals of race gender and class New Approaches to Gone with the Wind offers neither apology nor rehabilitation for the novel and its Oscar winning film adaptation. Instead the nine essays provide distinct compelling insights that challenge and complicate conventional associations. Racial and sexual identity form a cornerstone of the collection. Mark C. Jerng and Charlene Regester each examine Margaret Mitchell's reframing of traditional racial identities and the impact on audience sympathy and engagement. Jessica Sims mines Mitchell's depiction of childbirth for what it reveals about changing ideas of femininity in a postplantation economy while Deborah Barker explores transgressive sexuality in the film version by comparing it to the depiction of rape in D. W. Griffith's earlier silent classic Birth of a Nation. Other essays position the novel and film within the context of their legacy and their impact on national and international audiences. Amy Clukey and James Crank inspect the reception of Gone with the Wind by Irish critics and gay communities respectively. Daniel Cross, Turner Keaghan, Turner and Rich Richardson consider its aesthetic impact and mythology and the ways that contemporary writers and artists such as Natasha Trethewey and Kara Walker have engaged with the work. Finally, Helen Taylor sums up the pervading influence that Gone with the Wind continues to exert on audiences in both America and Britain. Through an emphasis on intertextuality, sexuality and questions of audience and identity, these essayists deepen the ongoing conversation about the cultural impact and influence of this monumental work. Flawed in many ways yet successful beyond its time, Gone with the Wind remains a touchstone in southern studies.

Movie Roadshows Kim R. Holston, 2013-01-01 This work examines a film distribution system paralleling the rise of early features and persisting until 1972 when Man of La Mancha was the final roadshow to require reserved seating. Synonymous with Hollywood's star-studded premieres, roadshows were longer and cost more than regular features, making the experience similar to attending the legitimate theater. Roadshows often epic in subject matter, played selected theaters in major urban centers until demand decreased. De rigueur by the 1960s were musical overtures, intermissions, entre acte and exit music, and souvenir programs for sale in the lobby. Throughout the text are recollections by people who attended roadshows, including actor John Kerr and actresses Barbara Eden and Ingrid Pitt. The focus is on roadshows released in the United States, but an appendix identifies international roadshows and films forecast but not released as roadshows. Included are plots, contemporary critical reaction, premiere dates, production background, and methods of promotion, i.e. the ballyhoo.
