Are You In The House Alone? Amanda Reyes,2017-04-05 Beginning in the 1960s through its heyday in the 1970s and beyond the telefilm remains an important cultural artefact masquerading as disposable entertainment Made specifically for the small screen within the tight constraints of broadcasting standards what these humble movies lacked in budget and star appeal they made up for in other ways Often they served as an introduction to genre films particularly horror mirroring their theatrical counterparts with a focus on sinister cults women in prison haunted houses and even animals in revolt They were also a place to address serious contemporary issues drugs prostitution sexual violence and justice albeit in a cosy domestic environment Production of telefilms continues to this day but their significance within the history of mass media remains under discussed Are You in the House Alone seeks to address this imbalance in a series of reviews and essays by fans and critics alike It looks at many of the films the networks and names behind them and also specific genres everything from Stephen King adaptations to superheroes to true life dramas So kickback and crack open the TV guide once more for the event that is the Movie of the Week     The Sea Glass Gift Julie Rogers-Martin,2018-08-16 The Sea Glass Gift is the story of Jenna a woman who survived child abuse and the surrender of her son for adoption She walks a journey of brokenness and painful memories and then her life takes a turn when her son contacts her As they exchange letters they uncover insights about the relations among fragility transparency and destruction in a world of persistent change Combining the intrigue of New Orleans with the allure and science of glassblowing Jenna s story based on a true one is a tale of souls on the edge which captures the hope that the broken bits of life like shards of glass can be transformed into spectacular displays of artistry Author Julie Rogers Martin gleans stories from thirty years of working with at risk youth and witnessing the shattering changes in their lives She sheds light on pain and hope brokenness and restoration abandonment and homecoming
