Education And Social Change In China The Beginnings Of The Modern Era:

Education and Social Change in China Sally Borthwick, 1983      The Changing Face of Women's Education in China Xiaoyan Liu, 2017 This book offers a critical study on the history of Shanghai No 3 Girls Middle School from its missionary predecessors St Mary's Hall and McTyeire School to its present form as a public school By bringing together three historical periods late imperial the Republic of China and the People's Republic of China and their respective political regimes into one project and tracing continuities and discontinuities in terms of education between the Nationalists and Communists the book argues that education in Chinese modern history affords another example of continuous revolution Dissertation Series Sinologie Vol 5 Subject Education Chinese Studies Asian Studies Gender Studies History Politics      John Dewey, Liang Shuming, and China's Education Reform Huajun Zhang, 2013-04-19 This book explores the central question of how to cultivate a continued sense of self in the radically changing Chinese society a question that is highly related to the current ongoing educational reform If education cannot respond to the problem of students disconnection from the changing society learning cannot truly happen in school and the reform will fail Zhang suggests a philosophy of education that highlights the cultivation of students unique but inclusive individuality so that students learn how to nurture their own mind in this profoundly changing society rather than becoming empty and lost The discussion of this proposed question is inspired by the thoughts of the American pragmatist John Dewey and Chinese Confucian scholar Liang Shuming It is not the author's intention to have a pure philosophical discussion but rather to refer to their philosophies to help answer the practical question of cultivating individuality in an educational setting during this period of China's modern transition      Education, Culture, and Identity in Twentieth-century China Glen Peterson, Ruth Hayhoe, Yongling Lu, 2001 A comprehensive collection on twentieth century educational practices in China      The Politics of Historical Production in Late Qing and Republican China Tze-ki Hon, Robert Culp, 2007-08-13 By examining various forms of historical production happening outside the mainstream of academic history in early 20th century China this book shows how historical writings were central to the Chinese debate on the nation elite authority and active citizenry      The Cambridge Economic History of China Debin Ma, Richard von Glahn, 2022-02-24 A comprehensive survey of Chinese economic history from 1800 to the present from an international team of leading experts      Transforming History Brian Moloughney, Peter Zarrow, 2012-02-03 Transforming History examines the profound transformation of historical thought and practice of writing history from the late Qing through the midtwentieth century The authors devote extensive analysis to the common set of intellectual and political forces that shaped the study of history from the ideas of evolution positivism nationalism historicism and Marxism to political processes such as revolution imperialism and modernization Also discussed are the impact and problems associated with the nationstate as the subject of history the linear model of historical time and the spatial system of nationstates The result is a convincing study that illustrates how history has transformed into a modern academic discipline in China      A Cultural

History of Education in the Age of Empire Heather Ellis,2023-04-20 A Cultural History of Education in the Age of Empire presents essays that examine the following key themes of the period church religion and morality knowledge media and communications children and childhood family community and sociability learners and learning teachers and teaching literacies and life histories The period between 1800 and 1920 was pivotal in the global history of education and witnessed many of the key developments which still shape the aims context and lived experience of education today These developments included the spread of state sponsored mass elementary education the efforts of missionary societies and other voluntary movements the resistance agency and counter initiatives developed by indigenous and other colonized peoples as well as the increasingly complex cross border encounters and movements which characterized much educational activity by the end of this period An essential resource for researchers scholars and students in history literature culture and education

The Routledge Encyclopedia of Modern Asian Educators Shin'ichi Suzuki,Gary McCulloch,Mingyuan Gu,Parimala V.

Rao,Ji-Yeon Hong,2021-06-29 This handbook is a unique and major resource on modern educators of Asia and their contribution to Asian educational development through the 19th and 20th centuries when modernization started in Asia In one comprehensive volume this handbook covers a selection of modern educators from East Asia South Asia and Southeast Asia and their contributions to the development of modern education practically and theoretically The diversity of cultures and religion as well as the multilinguistic and ethnic context have made Asian modernization unique and complex Educational modernization in Asia reflected this historical context in many ways and resulted in the diverse forms of learning teaching institutions and administration Modern Asian educators compiled in this handbook represent various fields of Asian society not only educational but cultural and social fields like academia politics economics religion literature theatre fine arts and civic genres including the media Through this Handbook readers may discover the individual modern educators male and female and their contributions to Asian educational modernization All of them were committed to the cause of education for children youth adults and in particular women In addition this volume has an extraordinarily rich subject index which can be an excellent guide and introduction to information touching divergent dynamics of educational developments in modern Asia This insightful volume is perfect for students and researchers working on history of education comparative education and educational development particularly for those interested in Asian contexts Changing Clothes in China Antonia

Finnane,2023-05-30 Historians have long regarded fashion as something peculiarly Western In this surprising sumptuously illustrated book Antonia Finnane challenges this view which she argues is based on nineteenth and twentieth century representations of Chinese dress as traditional and unchanging Fashions she shows were part of Chinese life in the late imperial era even if a fashion industry was not then apparent In the early twentieth century the key features of modern fashion became evident particularly in Shanghai and rapidly changing dress styles showed the effects The volatility of Chinese dress throughout the twentieth century matched vicissitudes in national politics Finnane describes in detail how the close fitting jacket and high collar of the 1911 Revolutionary period the skirt and jacket blouse of the May Fourth era and the military style popular in the Cultural Revolution gave way finally to the variegated globalized wardrobe of today She brilliantly connects China's modernization and global visibility with changes in dress offering a vivid portrait of the complex subtle and sometimes contradictory ways the people of China have worn their nation on their backs U.S.- China Educational Exchange Hongshan Li,2007-12-01 U S China relations became increasingly important and complex in the twentieth century While economic political and military interactions all grew over time the most dramatic expansion took place in educational exchange turning it into the strongest tie between the two nations By the end of the 1940s tens of thousands of Chinese and American students and scholars had crisscrossed the Pacific leaving indelible marks on both societies Although all exchange programs were terminated during the cold war the two nations reemerged as top partners within a decade after the reestablishment of diplomatic relations Approaching U S China relations from a unique and usually overlooked perspective Hongshan Li reveals that both the drastic expansion and complete termination of educational ties between the two nations in the first half of the twentieth century were largely the results of direct and deep intervention from the American and Chinese governments Benefiting from government support and collaboration educational exchange succeeded in diffusing knowledge and improving mutual understanding between the two peoples across the divide of civilizations However the visible hand of government also proved to be most destructive to the development of healthy intercultural relations when educational interactions were treated merely as an instrument for crisis management

Handbook of Christianity in China Gary Tiedemann,2009-12-02 This second volume on Christianity in China covers the period from 1800 onwards up to the present divided into three main periods and dealing with the complexities of both Catholic and Protestant aspects Also in this volume the reader will be guided to and through the Chinese and Western primary and secondary sources by carefully selected major scholars in the field Produced with financial support from the Ricci Institute at the University of San Francisco Center for the Pacific Rim China's English Bob Adamson,2004-04-01 This book traces the history of English education in the People's Republic of China from 1949 to the present day It uses the junior secondary school curriculum as the means to examine how English curriculum developers and textbook writers have confronted the shifting ambiguities and dilemmas over five distinct historical periods The study of the processes of curriculum development and the products such as syllabi and textbooks offers insights into the construction of an official English as well as what was considered as acceptable content in English This book addresses fundamental and significant questions concerning the English promoted in China namely its characteristics its changes over time and explanations for such changes and the kind of content that has been viewed as appropriate for textbooks To investigate these issues the analysis draws on qualitative and quantitative data such as interviews with principal stakeholders and analysis of the syllabus and recommended textbooks Specifically it looks at the choice and organization of linguistic components and the orientation and messages of the curriculum Language education in China during the second half of the twentieth century might arguably be called the world's largest language engineering project In this comprehensive study Dr Adamson examines a part of that project by charting the twists and turns of English language education from the pre revolutionary period to the present He successfully illustrates how tensions in China's massive educational system are negotiated from center to periphery how textbook writers adapt to the socio political mandates of their time to construct formal school curricula Adamson also raises significant questions regarding the contradictions inherent in Chinese globalization Heidi Ross Professor Department of Educational Leadership and Policy Studies School of Education Indiana University at Bloomington Bob Adamson has provided in this book one of the first detailed studies published in English of the history of a school subject in the PRC The study provides fascinating insights into the changing nature of the English curriculum the shifting socio political context of the PRC and their complex inter relationships Paul Morris President The Hong Kong Institute of Education The learning of English is a crucial aspect of China's opening up to the world and increasingly prominent global role This welcome volume provides an in depth historical perspective on this important subject including the recent periods of modernization 1978 1993 and globalization 1993 to the present It should be compelling reading for all those involved with contemporary China across a wide spectrum of areas Ruth Hayhoe University of Toronto President Emerita The Hong Kong Institute of Education

Routledge Library Editions: Education in Asia Various,2021-07-14 This set of reissued books examines education in Asia from a variety of different angles From the westernisation of early twentieth century Chinese education to the impact of the Communist revolution to education and society in Korea to Asian women's experiences of education this set collects some key texts by a range of original thinkers Timothy Richard's Vision Eunice V Johnson,2015-02-26 The Welsh Baptist missionary Timothy Richard served for over forty years in China from 1870 and became a household name among educated Chinese Largely forgotten for decades his amazing life is reintroduced in this most welcome volume In 1880 Richard first articulated a vision for modern higher education as the basis for overall progress in China His influence grew along with high official honours after 1891 when he became general secretary of the Christian Literature Society and continued as a leader in the Educational Association of China By the mid 1890s many Chinese scholars and officials began to embrace his expanding vision and approach to reform After the 1900 Boxer Uprising Richard was invited by the Chinese government to represent Protestant missions advising and mediating the settlement for the losses of life and property especially heavy in Shanxi Following his recommendation which received Imperial approval by June 1901 the province paid a fine but it was used to found a college of Western learning in its capital city The Imperial University of Shansi now Shanxi University with Chinese and Western Learning Departments overseen by Richard and the provincial governor as joint chancellors was to serve as the model institution in a national system of modern higher education Globalization and the Rise of Mass Education David Mitch,Gabriele Cappelli,2019-10-24 This edited collection explores the historical determinants of the rise of mass schooling and human capital accumulation based on a global long run perspective focusing on a variety of countries in Europe the Middle East Asia Africa and the Americas The authors analyze the increasing importance attached to globalization as a factor in how social institutional and economic change shapes national and regional educational trends Although recent research in economic history has increasingly devoted more attention to global forces in shaping the institutions and fortunes of different world regions the link and contrast between national education policies and the forces of globalization remains largely under researched within the field The globalization of the world economy starting in the nineteenth century brought about important changes that affected school policy itself as well as the process of long term human capital accumulation Large migrations prompted brain drain and gain across countries alongside rapid transformations in the sectoral composition of the economy and demand for skills Ideas on education and schooling circulated more easily bringing about relevant changes in public policy while the changing political voice of winners and losers from globalization determined the path followed by public choice Similarly religion and the spread of missions came to play a crucial role for the rise of schooling globally

Asian-American Education Meyer Weinberg,1997 First historical work to analyze the entire range of Asian American education provide American readers with info about highly individual ethnic groups rather than lumping all Asian Americans together into one all inclusive category Contemporary Chinese Education Ruth Hayhoe,2019-08-01 Education is seen by the Chinese as a key element in the modernisation of their country and in maintaining socialism This book first published in 1984 examines the nature of modern education in China since 1976 and looks at different parts of the system the content of teaching and teaching styles It considers how far the Chinese educational system has been affected by foreign powers and changing political ideology and is unique in that using empirical data it places the Chinese system in a world perspective

The Politics of Language in Chinese Education Elisabeth Kaske,2008 Viewing education as the central battleground over the status of language this book investigates the language policies of various social agents in early 20th century China and offers a comprehensive and fascinating analysis of the emergence of China s national language Mass Education and the Limits of State Building, c.1870-1930 L. Brockliss,N. Sheldon,2012-02-21 The first comparative study of the spread of mass education around the world in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries this unique new book uses a bottom up focus and demonstrates to an extent not appreciated hitherto the gulf between the intentions of the government and the reality on the ground
