Social Efficiency and Instrumentalism in Education James M. Magrini, 2014-04-03 Distinct among contemporary philosophical studies focused on education this book engages the history of phenomenological thought as it moves from philosophy proper the European phenomenological hermeneutic tradition through curriculum studies It thus presents the best of both worlds for the reader there is a play or movement from philosophy proper to educational philosophy and then back again in order to locate and explicate what is intimated suggested and in some cases left unsaid by educational philosophers This amounts to a work on education philosophy that elucidates through various permutations within the unique foci of each essay the general phenomenological theme of the fundamental ontology of the human being as primordial learner Reflecting his experience as scholar teacher and perennial learner the author suggests how research in phenomenology might prove beneficial to the enhancement of both the theoretical and practical aspects of education readers are invited to envision education as far more than merely a means by which to organize an effective learning experience in which knowledge is assimilated and skill sets are efficiently imparted but rather as a holistic and integrated process in which knowing acting and valuing are original ways of Being in the world

The International Library of Essays on Capital Punishment, Volume 1 Peter Hodgkinson, 2016-12-05 This volume provides up to date and nuanced analysis across a wide spectrum of capital punishment issues The essays move beyond the conventional legal approach and propose fresh perspectives including a unique critique of the abolition sector Written by a range of leading experts with diverse geographical methodological and conceptual approaches the essays in this volume challenge received wisdom and embrace a holistic understanding of capital punishment based on practical experience and empirical data This collection is indispensable reading for anyone seeking a comprehensive and detailed understanding of the complexity of the death penalty discourse

Activist Rhetorics and American Higher Education, 1885-1937 Susan Kates,2001 In this study of the history of rhetoric education Susan Kates focuses on the writing and speaking instruction developed at three academic institutions founded to serve three groups of students most often excluded from traditional institutions of higher education in late nineteenth and early twentieth century America white middle class women African Americans and members of the working class Kates provides a detailed look at the work of those students and teachers ostracized from rhetorical study at traditional colleges and universities She explores the pedagogies of educators Mary Augusta Jordan of Smith College in Northhampton Massachusetts Hallie Quinn Brown of Wilberforce University in Wilberforce Ohio and Josephine Colby Helen Norton and Louise Budenz of Brookwood Labor College in Katonah New York These teachers sought to enact forms of writing and speaking instruction incorporating social and political concerns in the very essence of their pedagogies They designed rhetoric courses characterized by three important pedagogical features a profound respect for and awareness of the relationship between language and identity and a desire to integrate this awareness into the curriculum politicized writing and speaking assignments designed to help students interrogate their marginalized standing within the larger culture in terms of their gender race or social class and an emphasis on service and social responsibility Handbook of Research in the Social Foundations of Education Steven Tozer, Bernardo P. Gallegos, Annette Henry, Mary Bushnell Greiner, Paula Groves Price, 2011-07-05 This groundbreaking volume helps readers understand the history evolution and significance of this wide ranging often misunderstood and increasingly important field of study
