Early Tucson Anne I. Woosley, 2008 Tucson is a history of time and a river The roots of prehistoric habitation run deep along the Santa Cruz River reaching back thousands of years Later the river attracted 17th century Spanish explorers who brought military government the church and colonists to establish the northern outpost of their New World empire Later still American westward expansion drew new settlers to the place called Tucson Today Tucson is a bustling multicultural community of more than one million residents These images from the photographic archives of the Arizona Historical Society tell the stories of individuals and cultures that transformed a 19th century frontier village into a 20th century desert city

La Calle Lydia R. Otero,2016-10-01 On March 1 1966 the voters of Tucson approved the Pueblo Center Redevelopment Project Arizona s first major urban renewal project which targeted the most densely populated eighty acres in the state For close to one hundred years tucsonenses had created their own spatial reality in the historical predominantly Mexican American heart of the city an area most called la calle Here amid small retail and service shops restaurants and entertainment venues they openly lived and celebrated their culture To make way for the Pueblo Center s new buildings city officials proceeded to displace la calle s residents and to demolish their ethnically diverse neighborhoods which contends Lydia Otero challenged the spatial and cultural assumptions of postwar modernity suburbia and urban planning Otero examines conflicting claims to urban space place and history as advanced by two opposing historic preservationist groups the La Placita Committee and the Tucson Heritage Foundation She gives voice to those who lived in experienced or remembered this contested area and analyzes the historical narratives promoted by Anglo American elites in the service of tourism and cultural dominance La Calle explores the forces behind the mass displacement an unrelenting desire for order a local economy increasingly dependent on tourism and the pivotal power of federal housing policies To understand how urban renewal resulted in the spatial reconfiguration of downtown Tucson Otero draws on scholarship from a wide range of disciplines Chicana o ethnic and cultural studies urban history sociology and anthropology city planning and cultural and feminist geography On Frank Lloyd Wright's Concrete Adobe Donald Leslie Johnson,2016-12-05 During the years 1919 into 1925 Frank Lloyd Wright worked on four houses and a kindergarten located in metropolitan Los Angeles using concrete blocks as the main building material The construction system has been described by Wright and others as uniquely molded woven like a textile fabric and perceived as ground breaking truly modern unprecedented Many have attempted to uphold these claims while some thought the house designs borrowed from old exotic buildings For the first time this book brings together Wright s declarations the support of upholders and inferences in order to determine their accuracy and correctness or the possibility of feigned or fictional stories It examines technical developments of concrete blocks by Wright and others before his experiences in Los Angeles began in 1919 It also studies the manner of Wright s design process by an examination of relevant pictorial and textual documents A unique in depth and critical analysis of the houses is set within historical biographical and theoretical contexts Consequently the book explains the impact upon Wright of California contemporaries architects Irving Gill and Rudolph Schindler and their instrumentally profound role upon the course of modernism 1907 1923 In doing so it allows a full appreciation of Wright s Gill s and Schindler s buildings beyond their experiential qualities Bibliographic Guide to Art and Architecture New York Public Library.
