Does God Make the Man? Stewart M. Hoover, Curtis D. Coats, 2015-10-02 Many believe that religion plays a positive role in men s identity development with religion promoting good behavior and morality In contrast we often assume that the media is a negative influence for men teaching them to be rough and violent and to ignore their emotions In Does God Make the Man Stewart M Hoover and Curtis D Coats draw on extensive interviews and participant observation with both Evangelical and non Evangelical men including Catholics as well as Protestants to argue that neither of these assumptions is correct Dismissing the easy notion that media encourages toxic masculinity and religion is always a positive influence Hoover and Coats argue that not only are the linkages between religion media and masculinity not as strong and substantive as has been assumed but the ways in which these relations actually play out may contradict received views Over the course of this fascinating book they examine crises contradictions and contestations crises about the meaning of masculinity and about the lack of direction men experience from their faith communities contradictions between men's religious lives and media lives and contestations among men's ideas about what it means to be a man The book counters common discussions about a crisis of masculinity showing that actual men do not see the world the way the crisis talk has portrayed it and interestingly even Evangelical men often do not see religion as part of the solution
