King Vidor in Focus Kevin L. Stoehr, Cullen Gallagher, 2024-07-30 King Vidor 1894 1982 had the longest career of any Hollywood director and his works include some of the most dramatic sublime moments in the history of American cinema. Regarded by many film historians as one of the greatest of silent era filmmakers especially for masterworks The Big Parade, The Crowd and Show People, Vidor is nonetheless one of the most underrated of Hollywood's old masters in terms of his overall career. His sound era films include Hallelujah Street, Scene of the Crime, The Champ, The Stranger's Return, Our Daily Bread, Stella Dallas, The Citadel, Northwest Passage, Duel in the Sun, Beyond the Forest, The Fountainhead, Ruby Gentry and War and Peace. He also helped to establish the Screen Directors Guild and served as its first president. This book charts the ways in which Vidor's vast complex body of work ranges over diverse genres and styles while also expressing his recurring personal interests in spirituality especially Christian Science, aesthetics, metaphysics, social realism and the myth of America. The first book since 1988 to give a comprehensive view of Vidor's career, it discusses his artistic evolution in a way that appeals to the general reader as well as to the film scholar.

Projecting Empire James Chapman, Nicholas J. Cull, 2009-06-17 Popular cinema is saturated with images and narratives of empire. With Projecting Empire, Chapman and Cull have written the first major study of imperialism and cinema for over thirty years. This welcome text maps the history of empire cinema in both Hollywood and Britain through a series of case studies of popular films including biopics, adventures, literary adaptations, melodramas, comedies and documentaries from the 1930s and The Four Feathers to the present with Indiana Jones and Three Kings. The authors consider industry-wide trends and place the films in their wider cultural and historical contexts. Using primary sources that include private papers, they look at the presence of particular auteurs in the cinema of Imperialism including Korda, Lean, Huston and Attenborough as well as the actors who brought the stories to life such as Elizabeth Taylor and George Clooney. At a time when imperialism has a new significance in the world, this book will fulfil the needs of students and interested filmgoers alike.

An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films Denise Lowe, 2014-01-27 Examine women's contributions to film in front of the camera and behind it. An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films 1895-1930 is an A to Z reference guide illustrated with over 150 hard-to-find photographs that dispels the myth that men dominated the film industry during its formative years. Denise Lowe, author of Women and American Television, presents a rich collection that profiles many of the women who were crucial to the development of cinema as an industry and as an art form. Whether working behind the scenes as producers or publicists, behind the cameras as writers, directors or editors, or in front of the lens as flappers, vamps or serial queens, hundreds of women made profound and lasting contributions to the evolution of the motion picture production. An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films 1895-1930 gives you immediate access to the histories of many of the women who pioneered the early days of cinema on screen and off. The book chronicles the well-known figures of the era such as Alice Guy, Mary Pickford and Francis Marion, but gives equal billing to those who worked in anonymity as the industry moved from the silent era into the age of sound. Their individual stories of professional success and failure, artistic struggle and strife and personal triumph and tragedy fill in the plot points missing from the complete saga of Hollywood's beginnings. Pioneers of the motion picture business found in An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films include Dorothy Arnzer the first woman to join the Directors Guild of America and the only female director to make a successful transition from silent films to sound. Jane Murfin playwright and screenwriter who became supervisor of motion pictures at RKO Studios. Gene Gauntier the actress and scenarist whose adaptation of Ben Hur for the Kalem Film Company led to a landmark copyright infringement case. Theda Bara whose on screen popularity virtually built Fox Studios before typecasting and overexposure destroyed her career. Madame Sul Te Wan ne Nellie Conley the first African American actor or actress to sign a film contract and be a featured performer. Dorothy Davenport who parlayed the publicity surrounding her actor husband's drug related death into a career as a producer of social reform melodramas. Lois Weber a street corner evangelist who became one of the best known and highest paid directors in Hollywood. Lina Basquette the Screen Tragedy Girl who married and divorced studio mogul Sam Warner. led The Hollywood Aristocrats Orchestra claimed to have been a spy for the American Office of Strategic Services during World War II and became a renowned dog expert in her later years and many more. An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films 1895-1930 also includes comprehensive appendices of the WAMPAS Baby Stars the silent stars remembered in the Graumann Chinese Theater Forecourt of the Stars and those immortalized on the Hollywood Walk of Stars. The book is invaluable as a resource for researchers librarians academics working in film popular culture and women's history and to anyone interested either professionally or casually in the early days of Hollywood and the motion picture industry. Allan Dwan and the Rise and Decline of the Hollywood Studios Frederic Lombardi, 2013-03-05 It could be said that the career of Canadian born film director Allan Dwan 1885-1981 began at the dawn of the American motion picture industry. Originally a scriptwriter Dwan became a director purely by accident. Even so his creativity and problem solving skills propelled him to the top of his profession. He achieved success with numerous silent film performers most spectacularly with Douglas Fairbanks Sr and Gloria Swanson and later with such legendary stars as Shirley Temple and John Wayne. Though his star waned in the sound era Dwan managed to survive through pluck and ingenuity. Considering himself better off without the fame he enjoyed during the silent era he went on to do some of his best work for second echelon studios notably Republic Pictures. Sands of Iwo Jima and such independent producers as Edward Small. Along the way Dwan also found personal happiness in an unconventional manner. Rich in detail with two columns of text in each of its nearly 400 pages and with more than 150 photographs this book presents a thorough examination of Allan Dwan and separates myth from truth in his life and films. Motion Picture Series and Sequels Bernard A. Drew, 2013-12-04 In 1989 alone for example there were some forty five major motion pictures which were sequels or part of a series. The film series phenomenon crosses all genres and has been around since the silent film era. This reference guide in alphabetical order lists some 906 English Language motion pictures from 1899 to 1990 when the book was initially published.

A brief plot description is given for each series entry followed by the individual film titles with corresponding years directors and performers Animated pictures documentaries and concert films are not included but movies released direct to video are
