Gulf Islands Patchwork:

J. F. Bosher, 2010-04 During the century 1850 1950 Vancouver Island attracted Imperial officers and other Imperials from India the British Isles and elsewhere in the Empire Victoria was the main British port on the north west Pacific Coast for forty years before the city of Vancouver was founded in 1886 to be the coastal terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway These two coastal cities were historically and geographically different The Island joined Canada in 1871 and thirty five years later the Royal Navy withdrew from Esquimalt but Island communities did not lose their Imperial character until the 1950s P 4 of cover A Gulf Islands Patchwork British Columbia Historical Association. Gulf Islands Branch, 1989 Islands in the Salish Sea Judi Stevenson, Sheila Harrington, 2005 Gorgeous fascinating and unconventional the Islands in the Salish Sea show aspects of the Gulf Islands that are most beloved by the residents from heritage orchards fishing spots and patches of endangered wild orchids to ancient First Nations sites and bird colonies The community on each island decided what elements should be depicted and local artists then created each of the magnificent and wildly different maps This volume is a treasure trove of cherished information that could have been lost presented with imagination and great beauty The Islands in the Salish Sea Community Mapping Project was coordinated by Sheila Harrington and Judi Stevenson who live on Salt Spring Island A Gulf Islands Patchwork British Columbia Historical Association. Spalding, 1995 Upcoast Summers Beth Hill, Francis Barrow, 1985 Francis and Amy Barrow spent the summers between 1933 and 1941 exploring the west coast in their little boat searching for and recording First Nations rock art and yarning with the homesteaders in remote bays and inlets Sailing with Vancouver Sam McKinney, 2004 Could I have been one of them was what Sam McKinney wondered as he retraced alone from Puget Sound to Queen Charlotte Strait the explorations of Captain George Vancouver and his men In the 1790s day after day they had rowed for long hours camping on rocky beaches in all weathers and charting the intricate coastline for the first time Two hundred years later McKinney followed them in his 25 foot sailboat anchoring in the same locations as they had done experiencing the same winds and waves and sharing what McKinney calls the link of vulnerability that is the ever present condition of all people who go to sea With his boat his pipe and the occasional glass of rum McKinney invites readers along on a perceptive voyage through time and along the magnificent Pacific Northwest coast from Puget Sound through the Georgia and Queen Charlotte Straits Describing both the historical and contemporary voyages around the Inland Sea McKinney offers insightful comparisons of what sailors saw and experienced in the 18th century and what they see today At the end of his trip McKinney like Vancouver claims the area he had explored not by deed of ownership but out of love for the place its staggering beauty and the memories of the people and cultures who have found homes along its shores Could he have indeed been one of Vancouver's men He isn't sure but he would like to have given it a try A Gulf Islands Patchwork British Columbia Historical. Gulf Islands Branch, 1974

Around the World in a Dugout Canoe John M. MacFarlane, Lynn J. Salmon, 2019-09-28 Anticipating fame and wealth Captain John Voss set out from Victoria BC in 1901 seeking to claim the world record for the smallest vessel ever to circumnavigate the globe For the journey he procured an authentic dugout cedar canoe from an Indigenous village on the east coast of Vancouver Island For three years Voss and the Tilikum aided by a rotating cast of characters visited Australia New Zealand South Africa Brazil and finally England weathering heavy gales at sea and attracting large crowds of spectators on shore The austere on board conditions and simple navigational equipment Voss used throughout the voyage are a testimony to his skill and to the solid construction of the Nuuhachah vessel Both Voss and his original mate newspaperman N K Luxton later wrote about their journey in accounts compromised by poor memories brazen egos and outright lies Stories of murder cannibalism and high seas terror have been repeated elsewhere without any regard to the truth Now over a century later a full and fair account of the voyage and the magnitude of Voss's accomplishment is at last fully detailed In this groundbreaking work marine historians John MacFarlane and Lynn Salmon sift fact from fiction critically examining the claims of Voss's and Luxton's manuscripts against research from libraries archives museums and primary sources around the world Including unpublished photographs letters and ephemera from the voyage Around the World in a Dugout Canoe tells the real story of a little understood character and his cedar canoe It is an enduring story of courage adventure sheer luck and at times tragedy
