Gulf Search A Gulf City Story:

Somewhere in the Night Nicholas Christopher, 2010-05-11 Film noir is more than a cinematic genre. It is an essential aspect of American culture. Along with the cowboy of the Wild West, the denizen of the film noir city is at the very center of our mythological iconography. Described as the style of an anxious victor, film noir began during the post-war period, a strange time of hope and optimism mixed with fear and even paranoia. The shadow of this rich and powerful cinematic style can now be seen in virtually every artistic medium. The spectacular success of recent neo-film noirs is only the tip of an iceberg. In the dead-on nocturnal jazz of Charlie Parker and Miles Davis, the chilled urban landscapes of Edward Hopper, and postwar literary fiction from Nelson Algren and William S. Burroughs to pulp masters like Horace McCoy, we find an unsettling recognition of the dark hollowness beneath the surface of the American Dream. Acclaimed novelist and poet Nicholas Christopher explores the cultural identity of film noir in a seamless, elegant, and enchanting work of literary prose. Examining virtually the entire catalogue of film noir, Christopher identifies the central motif as the urban labyrinth, a place infested with psychosis, anxiety, and existential dread in which the noir hero embarks on a dangerously illuminating quest. With acute sensitivity, he shows how technical devices such as lighting, voice-over, and editing tempo are deployed to create the film noir world. Somewhere in the Night guides us through the architecture of this imaginary world, be it shot in New York or Los Angeles, relating its elements to the ancient cultural archetypes that prefigure it. Finally, Christopher builds an explanation of why film noir not only lives on but is currently enjoying a renaissance. Somewhere in the Night can be appreciated as a lucid introduction to a fundamental style of American culture and also as a guide to film noir's heyday. Ultimately, though, as the work of a bold talent adeptly manipulating poetic cadence and metaphor, it is itself a superb aesthetic artifact. Ends of the Global City Rashmi Varma, Jini Kim Watson, 2025-04-23 This volume of essays explores how the global city is confronting new forms of crises and disruption. Examining cities in the Caribbean, North America, Africa, the Persian Gulf, Asia, and Australia, the essays use literary and cultural analysis to examine the pasts, present, and futures of the global city. Ranging from the period of high postcolonial development, industrialization, and compacted modernization to present-day neoliberal urban planning, the collection considers arrivals and departures in the global city, offering new critical vocabularies to analyse ongoing processes of migration, economic immiseration, and environmental collapse. A Culinary History of Mobile Christopher Andrews, 2023-10-23 Join author Christopher Andrews on a delectable romp through the long food history of Mobile, Alabama. From its founding in 1702 by the French, Mobile has had a lot on its plate. Indeed, the story of food itself is a rich gumbo, a dish created in Mobile, tracing the city's rich history, albeit in far more filling fashion. Native, European, and African traditions met and blended here. From the colonial days through the Civil War and up to the present, this history serves up a full menu for foodies and history buffs alike. T. Livius's Roman History from the Building of the City, with the Supplement of J. Freinsheim. Translated Into English, ... with Notes, Etc Livy, 1761 The Fragmentary City Andrew M. Gardner, 2024-05-15

As Andrew M Gardner explains in The Fragmentary City in Qatar and elsewhere on the Arabian Peninsula nearly nine out of every ten residents are foreign noncitizens Many of these foreigners reside in the cities that have arisen in Qatar and neighboring states The book provides an overview of the gulf migration system with its diverse migrant experiences Gardner focuses on the ways that demography and global mobility have shaped the city of Doha and the urban characteristics of the Arabian Peninsula in general Building on those migrant experiences the book turns to the spatial politics of the modern Arabian city exploring who is placed where in the city and how this social landscape came into historical existence The author reflects on what we might learn from these cities and the societies that inhabit them In The Fragmentary City Andrew M Gardner frames the contemporary cities of the Arabian Peninsula not as poor imitations of Western urban modernity but instead as cities on the frontiers of a global neoliberal and increasingly urban future of islands is booming Small wonder islands have played a key role in the history of continents have been crucial locales of state making have served dictatorships as sites of prison systems and have acted as frontiers and stepping stones of empires However the role that island environments have played in creating and shaping these histories has so far received little attention To understand why an island became a penal colony an atomic test site or a tourist destination we need to take a close look at its environmental peculiarities its physical shape its geology its climate its flora and fauna and its position vis vis other places And to more deeply comprehend an island s place in history we must consider the changing ways in which it was perceived used valued or dismissed protected or mistreated over time Through fourteen stories of islands and archipelagos from around the globe Entire of Itself Towards an Environmental History of Islands showcases islands as dynamic entities that both shape history and are shaped by it Covering time periods from antiquity to the present day Entire of Itself attempts a group portrait of this exceptional category of places in the context of environmental history Exploring the intertwined temporal material and identity layers of island environments and their transformations in response to human endeavours of conservation exploitation and experimentation the contributions in this volume challenge the traditional center periphery perspective and instead take an island centred approach delving into both the islands own stories and their role in larger

Everyday Life in the Spectacular City Rana AlMutawa, 2024-01-09 Everyday Life in the Spectacular City is a groundbreaking urban ethnography that reveals how middle class citizens and longtime residents of Dubai interact with the city s so called superficial spaces to create meaningful social lives Rana AlMutawa shows that inhabitants adapt themselves to top down development projects from big malls to megaprojects These structures serve residents evolving social needs transforming Dubai s spectacular spaces into personally important cultural sites These practices are significant because they expand our understanding of agency as not only subversive but also adaptive Through extensive fieldwork AlMutawa herself an Emirati native to Dubai finds a more nuanced story of belonging This story does not seek to uncover the real city that lies beneath the veneer of the spectacle but rather to demonstrate that social meanings and forms of belonging take place within the spectacle itself By offering an alternative to the discourse of authenticity and elucidating the dynamics of ambivalent belonging AlMutawa belies stereotypes that portray Dubai s developments as alienating and inherently disempowering Everyday Life in the Spectacular City speaks beyond the Middle East to a globalized phenomenon for Dubai s spectacles are unexceptional in today s changing world
