Writing and Producing for Children and Young Audiences Eva Novrup Redvall, 2024-10-18 This book offers a comprehensive analysis of the writing and production strategies used in live action fiction film and television produced for children and young audiences in a period marked by remarkable change in screen consumption Building on ideas and research from the fields of screenwriting production and media industry studies the book uses case studies of Danish film and television productions targeting children from toddlers to teenagers to explore general challenges for reaching young audiences in the multiplatform mediascape as well as to identify specific screenwriting practices and production frameworks The study investigates industry notions of children and adolescents as a particular audience exploring new methods of grounding productions for them through more inquiry driven and co creative writing and production practices combined with new forms of knowledge sharing and talent training initiatives Olav Audunssøn Sigrid Undset, 2023-10-24 The fourth and final volume in the Nobel Prize winning writer's epic of one man's fateful life in medieval Norway Set in thirteenth century Norway a land racked by political turmoil bloody family vendettas and rising tensions between secular powers and an ascendant church Sigrid Undset's spellbinding masterpiece now follows the fortunes of Olav Audunssøn to the final dramatic chapter of his life as it unfolds in Winter the last volume of the tetralogy When the orphaned Olav and his foster sister Ingunn became betrothed in their youth a chain of events was set in motion that eventually led to violence banishment and a family separation lasting years The consequences fracture their marriage and threaten the lineage for generations Now at the end of his life Olav continues to grapple with the guilt of his sins as he watches his children especially Eirik make disastrous choices and struggle to find their rightful place in a family haunted by the past With its precise details and sweeping vision Olav Audunss n summons a powerful picture of Northern life in medieval times as noted by the Swedish Academy in awarding Undset the Nobel Prize in 1928 Conveying both the intimate drama and the epic proportions of Olav s story at its conclusion Winter is a moving and masterly recreation of a vanished world tainted by bloodshed and haunted by sin and retribution yet one that might still offer a chance for redemption As with Kristin Lavransdatter her earlier medieval epic Sigrid Undset wrote Olav Audunss n after immersive research in the legal religious and historical writings of the time to create an astoundingly authentic and compelling portrait of Norwegian life in the Middle Ages And as in her translation of Kristin Lavransdatter Tiina Nunnally does full justice to Undset s natural fluid prose in a style by turns plainspoken and delicately lyrical to convey the natural world the complex culture and the fraught emotional territory against which Olav s story inexorably unfolds

Dawson,2018-11-28 In looking at the celebrations of Christmas at different periods and in different places I have observed that whatever views men hold respecting Christ they all agree that His Advent is to be hailed with joy and the nearer the forms of festivity have approximated to the teaching of Him who is celebrated the more real has been the joy of those who have taken part in the celebrations My aim is neither critical nor apologetic but historical and pictorial it is not to say what might or ought to have been but to set forth from extant records what has actually taken place to give an account of the origin and hallowed associations of Christmas and to depict by pen and pencil the important historical events and interesting festivities of Christmastide With materials collected from different parts of the world and from writings both ancient and modern I have endeavored to give in the present work a chronological account of the celebrations and observances of Christmas

The Way Home Russell Cederberg, 2024-05-22 The word HOME and how it is defined and understood is a very personal experience For our travelers Frank Grant Lilly and Esther this elusive idea of where they actually belong has been stretched to the limit as a result of their amazing experiences and the close friendships they have been able to forge in ancient Scandinavia They now find themselves potentially remaining in Denmark for an extended time in the past and they all are coming to terms with this idea in their own ways Of course the politics in 979 have become even more complicated as various monarchs are struggling for power and our travelers are finding themselves involved in some of those struggles in potentially deadly ways Frank has continued to yield himself to his uncomfortable gifts and the ensuing dreams and visions are never easy but he finds support from Ralf's daughter Aquillina who is also gifted as a seer but is only four years old All four travelers continue to immerse themselves into the culture and community of Jelling THE WAY HOME is a story about how difficult it can be to belong in more than one place but how gratifying it can be to connect to a completely different culture It also illustrates the difficulties in answering the fundamentally important questions of who we are and where we belong
