One Crow Sorrow Lisa Martin-DeMoor, 2011-11-15 Lisa Martin DeMoor's debut collection of poetry One Crow Sorrow is both fearless and vulnerable an exploration of grief and loss that is rooted in life affirmation in deep attention to the natural world From a tangle of snowflakes in Saskatchewan to cell masses like dislodged icebergs the earth and body inform one another their cycles of life entwined The resulting poems explore grief as an extension of love and mortality as an extension of living Pain she writes is the opened bloom of beauty Invested Indifference Kara Granzow, 2020-06-15 In 2004 Amnesty International characterized Canadian society as indifferent to high rates of violence against Indigenous women and girls When the Canadian government took another twelve years to launch a national inquiry that indictment seemed true Invested Indifference offers a divergent perspective by examining practices during three different periods in the place we now call Edmonton juxtaposing early settler texts documents concerning the former Charles Camsell Indian Hospital and contemporary online police materials Kara Granzow reaches a startling conclusion that what we see as societal indifference doesn't come from an absence of feeling but from a deep rooted and affective investment in framing specific lives as disposable Granzow demonstrates that through mechanisms such as the law medicine and control of land and space violence against Indigenous peoples has become symbolically and politically ensconced in the social construction of Canadian nationhood
