aims and methods does not adequately take into account the needs of girls and women There is undoubtedly some truth in both of the opposing views on the one hand that education of women should be determined principally by their function in perpetuating the life of the race and on the other hand that as the laws of mind are identical for the two sexes the education of women should be the same as that of men It is true that in the past the activities of women have been chiefly concerned with the provision of food and clothing and with the comfort and daily well being of the young of the group within the home Such duties now require not simply sound physical life and strong sex impulse but large capacity for administration the ability and the knowledge to enter the industrial and business life of the group and the power to utilize governmental agencies for constructive purposes of well being About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
