have greatly expanded due to globalization This volume examines how strategically minded institutions can better fulfill their mission in a global environment while promoting international collaboration and strengthening the world economy Chapter authors include prominent senior administrators from higher education and leading researchers on higher education and globalization They provide new and actionable information to enhance decision making and inform strategic planning as well as a contemporary examination of the business of higher education and areas of potential new research This book is an excellent resource for academic administrators as well as for researchers and students in business management economics education and public sector economics Multicultural Education in a Global Society James Lynch,1989 Drawing on research from Canada USA and Western Europe this book extends the idea of multicultural education to put it within a global context The core of the book focuses on human rights education as a central motivator in any commitment of multicultural education Language Teacher Education for a Global Society B. Kumaravadivelu,2012-05-22 This book introduces a state of the art model for second foreign language language teacher education Knowing Analyzing Recognizing Doing and Seeing KARDS Its goal is to develop prospective and practicing teachers into strategic thinkers exploratory researchers and transformative teachers Police Education and Training in a Global Society Peter C. Kratcoski,Dilip K. Das,2007-01-01 Police officers working in the 21st century must not only possess vast technical knowledge but also be able to respond with logic and reason when under pressure Producing a highly professional police officer requires the right combination of formal education and technical training Police Education and Training in a Global Society explores the similarities and differences in officer training around the world Education in Emerging Global Society Justus Macias,2019-05-06 Education has always played an important role in shaping the destinies of societies through development of the whole individual It is the most powerful instrument for achieving goals of economic development technological progress and also for establishing social cohesion Education is a dynamic process changing with the prevailing Socio Politico Economic conditions and fast expanding knowledge over the years In the recent years the need for reconstructing education has been felt acutely The present book is a modest effort in this direction It makes an in depth study of emerging issues unraveling relationships between education and development in Indian society Quickly outlining the concept and nature of education it presents in detail its approaches and dimensions history and development It analytically studies the trends processes ideals and philosophy of education against the backdrop of Indian society It brings to light the elements mission and aspirations of Indian society The book is undoubtedly an authentic source for all information on education Basic in language and lucid in style the book is concise and easily comprehensible Students Abroad, Strangers at Home Norman L. Kauffmann,Judith N. Martin,Henry D. Weaver,1992 Colleges and universities face the major problem of how to make a university education meaningful in a global society It is the thesis of this book that study abroad is one of the most powerful tools available for internationalizing the U S higher education curriculum After an Introduction giving a general overview of the book the study begins with four student case histories showing that an individual student's maturity and the extent of his or her immersion in the host country's culture are two key variables that determine to what extent study abroad affects the student. The next two chapters suggest first that as they study abroad students develop intellectually in three ways: 1 through language study, 2 through courses in the student's majors that offer new perspectives, and 3 through knowledge acquisition in broad general areas. Second, that as they study abroad students change in their perceptions of the host culture, their own culture, and global understanding. In chapter 5 a theoretical framework is proposed for understanding the effects of study abroad and the growth which results from it. The conclusion is reached that study abroad is not only a potentially powerful educational technique but also that program design and participant selection can have significant effects upon outcome. Finally, a number of recommendations are offered whereby it is believed the effectiveness of study abroad programs in U.S. educational institutions can be increased and broadened. LBG

The global networking promoted by technology, globalization, and migration that are occurring at a large scale requires school systems that develop in the students new types of skills based on the ability to understand the world and its problems and instill a sense of responsibility and cooperation to enhance the resolution of the great problems of mankind. Rethinking education is essential in a global, transcultural, changing, and communicated world. Throughout the book Rethinking Education for a Global Transcultural World is argued and analyzed how to build relationships between the school and society and the possibilities of transcending the barriers in different national contexts: Chile, Israel, Mexico, Morocco, Poland, and Spain. The main goal we want to achieve with the contributions made in the book is to know how education systems and schools in different countries respond to the social changes caused by globalization, migration, and new communication technologies. The authors are professors of different scientific disciplines and different faiths, cultures, and points of view living the realities described in the chapters and thinking from these realities how to improve and how should be the education in a global, challenging, and ever-changing world. We stress the importance of this book and its implications in the education of children and youth and in the preparation of teachers. For this reason, this is a book designed for teachers of primary and secondary schools, parents, principals, supervisors, university teachers who prepare school teachers, university students, and those who want to know and think about education in a global and intercultural world and new forms of communication to face learning, whether at local or at world level. The mission of all is to continue building education and to facilitate this work. In this book are presented contributions and recommendations of professionals around the world that will allow the reader to know, analyze, understand, and appreciate the importance of education to prepare students to function with open and critical thinking in a global world. The chapters do not offer a panacea but offer many ideas on how through education prepare citizens for a global and transcultural society.
