Educations As An Art:

A History of Art Education Arthur D. Efland, 1990 Arthur Efland puts current debate and concerns in a well researched historical perspective He examines the institutional settings of art education throughout Western history the social forces that have shaped it and the evolution and impact of alternate streams of influence on present practice A History of Art Education is the first book to treat the visual arts in relation to developments in general education Particular emphasis is placed on the 19th and 20th centuries and on the social context that has affected our concept of art today This book will be useful as a main text in history of art education courses as a supplemental text in courses in art education methods and history of education and as a valuable resource for students professors and researchers The book should become a standard reference tool for art educators at all levels of the field The Journal of Aesthetics and Art Criticism Efland has filled a gap in historical research on art education and made an important contribution to scholarship in the field Studies in Art Education

Art Making and Education Maurice Brown, Diana Korzenik, 1993 Since the early 1980s the Getty Center for Education in the Arts an operating entity of the J Paul Getty Trust has been committed to improving the quality of aesthetic learning in our nation s schools and museums According to the organizing idea of the center s educational policy teaching about the visual arts can be rendered more effective through the incorporation of concepts and activities from a number of interrelated disciplines namely artistic creation art history art criticism and aesthetics The resultant discipline based approach to art education does not however mandate that these four disciplines be taught separately rather the disciplines are to provide justifications subject matter and methods as well as exemplify attitudes that are relevant to the cultivation of percipience in matters of art They offer different analytical contexts to aid our understanding and aesthetic enjoyment contexts such as the making of unique objects of visual interest artistic creation the apprehension of art under the aspects of time tradition and style art history the reasoned judgment of artistic merit art criticism and the critical analysis of basic aesthetic concepts and puzzling issues aesthetics Discipline based art education thus assumes that our ability to engage works of art intelligently requires not only our having attempted to produce artworks and gained some awareness of the mysteries and difficulties of artistic creation in the process but also our having acquired familiarity with art s history its principles of judgment and its conundrums

Thoughts on Art Education Rudolf Arnheim, 1989 The relationship between psychology and the arts and the role of the arts in the educational process are explored The proposition put forth argues that the sensory system is a primary resource in cognitive life The relationship of intuition to intellect of how the whole and its constituent qualities relate also is explored The forms of representation artists and art students have access to inexorably shape the content of their work The educational process too often has thwarted natural human abilities Art education however can and should have a crucial role in fostering these abilities DB

A History of Art Education Arthur Efland, 1990-01 Recent debates on the place of the arts in American life has refocused attention on art education in schools In this book the author puts current debate and concerns in a well researched historical perspective He examines the institutional settings of art education throughout Western history the social forces that have shaped it and the evolution and impact of alternate streams of influence on present practice The book treats the visual arts in relation to developments in general education and particular emphasis is placed on the 19th and 20th centuries and on the social context that has affected our concept of art today The book is intended as a main text in history of art education courses as a supplemental text in courses in art education methods and history of education and as a resource for students professors and researchers      The World of Art Education Vincent Lanier,1991      Art, Artists, and Art Education Kenneth Melvin Lansing,1969 This unique book represents a blend of the philosophical and practical aspects of art education It reflects the author s belief that efficient responsible instruction in art depends upon the existence of a reasonable point of view about the nature and value of art and the nature of the artist and the student Consequently the first half of the text is devoted to developing aesthetic criteria in the author s words to discovering a sense of mystery and excitement that can be found in art education Using the nature of art and artists as the basis for determining practical methods of instruction Dr Lansing goes on to describe in behavioristic terms the objectives of art education suitable teaching processes and a recommended curriculum Specific artistic activities are described for each grade level from nursery school through junior high school Hence the classroom teacher does not have to guess about the appropriateness of a given activity for his grade Additional features of the text include one chapter devoted to new methods of evaluation and reporting to parents and another to the need for more effective research There is also a comprehensive chapter on supervision that covers curriculum planning personnel relationships and in service education managing equipment and supplies professional obligations and public relations The text opens with a challenging introduction which realistically appraises not only the favorable aspects of teaching but its problems and frustrations as well dust jacket      The Role of Discipline-based Art Education in America's Schools Elliot W. Eisner,1986      Art in American Life and Education National Society for the Study of Education. Committee on Art in American Life and Education,1941      The Arts in Education Mike Fleming,2013-07-03 Do the arts improve academic achievement What does it mean to teach art What should the balance of classic and pop be in the music curriculum Should we encourage young children on the stage How do we judge whether what a child produces is good How do we justify the arts in the curriculum What should be the balance between form and content when teaching art The arts in education inspire considerable commitment and passion However this is not always matched by clarity of understanding In this book Mike Fleming introduces the reader to key theoretical questions associated with arts education and clearly explains how these are related to practice It offers an authoritative account of how ideas relevant to education are addressed by key authors in aesthetics art theory and cultural studies Covering all aspects of arts education the book considers definitions and theories of art influences on teaching the arts researching the arts teaching and learning creativity assessment Throughout the book there are examples of practice to illustrate key ideas and a discussion of useful background texts with a summary of content and arguments for further exploration Written by a leading authority in the field it is essential reading for students on Arts PGCE and M Level courses teachers of the arts and policy developers that require more understanding and insight into their practice      Understanding Art Education Nicholas Addison,Lesley Burgess,John
