Rehearsing John F. Colson, 2015-07-09 Following on the heels of his Conducting and Rehearsing the Instrumental Music Ensemble John F. Colson takes students to the next level in conducting practice with Rehearsing Critical Connections for the Instrumental Music Conductor Colson draws together the critical connections for those seeking to become fully capable and self-assured instrumental music conductors As he argues too often conductor training programs treat the problems and challenges of the rehearsal perhaps the single most critical element in any effort to achieve competency as a conductor as secondary Colson supplies the missing link for conductors looking for advice that allows them to complete their training for reaching complete competency as a conductor He demonstrates throughout the specific connections that the advanced conductor must know and regularly employ connections that few if any other works on the art of conducting address or bring together One connection for example illustrates the joining of music imagery inner singing and conducting technique to score study Throughout these connections describe the nitty gritty of what it really takes to stand up in front of an instrumental music ensemble and successfully rehearse in order to achieve its highest performance level Also Colson argues and demonstrates the pitfalls of the commonly mistaken assumption among instrumental music conductors that score study alone is sufficient to prepare them for the rehearsal process This grave error is regularly belied by the fact that a number of other steps precede the actual rehearsal process from the use of instrumental pedagogy during the rehearsal process to teaching through performance concepts Colson's work addresses the entire rehearsing process thoroughly and authoritatively

The Teaching of Instrumental Music Richard J. Colwell, Michael P. Hewitt, 2017-10-12 The Teaching of Instrumental Music

Fifth Edition introduces music education majors to basic instrumental pedagogy for the instruments and ensembles commonly found in the elementary and secondary curricula. It focuses on the core competencies required for teacher certification in instrumental music with the pervasive philosophy to assist teachers as they develop an instrumental music program based on understanding and respecting all types of music. Parts I and II focus on essential issues for a successful instrumental program, presenting first the history and foundations followed by effective strategies in administrative tasks and classroom teaching. Parts III, IV, and V are devoted to the skills and techniques of woodwind, brass, and percussion and string instruments. In all, The Teaching of Instrumental Music is the complete reference for the beginning instrumental teacher commonly retained in a student's professional library for its unique and comprehensive coverage.

The Conductor's Legacy Paula A. Crider, 2010. What would you ask the leading band directors of our time in a one-on-one conversation? Paula A. Crider, a seasoned and distinguished band director in her own right, shares the wealth of knowledge gleaned from her interviews of the extraordinary personalities who have changed the landscape of the wind band world in this remarkable book. With insight and clarity of thought, she asks the probing questions that prompt stories of talent, work, sacrifice, ingenuity, bravery, and determination. These pioneering and innovative conductors share their concept of band sound, views on score marking, advice to music majors and young band directors, thoughts on how to advance the wind band genre, the elements of their musical success, and much more about the art and craft of conducting a band. In calling forth these thoughts, the author inspires these leaders of the wind band profession to remind us all not only of where we have come from but also provide a stirring handoff to us and to future generations.

The Conductor's Challenge Frank Battisti, 2016-06-01. Meredith Music Resource. This extension and expansion of Guide to Score Study, co-authored with Robert Garofalo, examines the various stages conductors traverse in arriving at an interpretation. Battisti emphasizes the importance of the conductor's imagination, personality, and ongoing study weeks, months, years in developing an interpretation that is personal, well-informed, and faithful to the composer's expressive intent. He examines the score analysis process, including the role and function of a work's musical elements, the need to balance intellectual understanding and intuitive feelings about a piece, and the challenges faced by conductors when transforming an interpretation into a performance. As examples, he traces the procedures he used in forming interpretations of Lisbon and Horkstow Grange from Grainger's Lincolnshire Posy Copland's Down a Country Lane and Sinfonia from Stravinsky's Octet for Wind Instruments
