New Arctic Cinemas

Anna Westerstahl Stenport, 2023-03-14 For centuries the Arctic was visualized as an unchanging stable and rigidly alien landscape existing outside twenty first century globalization It is now impossible to ignore the ways the climate crisis expanding resource extraction and Indigenous political mobilization in the circumpolar North are constituent parts of the global present New Arctic Cinemas presents an original comparative and interventionist historiography of film and media in twenty first century Scandinavia Greenland Russia Canada and the United States to situate Arctic media in the place it rightfully deserves to occupy as central to global environmental concerns and Indigenous media sovereignty and self determination movements The works of contemporary Arctic filmmakers from Zacharias Kunuk and Alethea Arnaquq Baril to Amanda Kernell and Inuk Silis H egh reach worldwide audiences In examining the reach and influence of these artists and their work Scott MacKenzie and Anna Westerstahl Stenport reveal a global media system of intertwined production contexts circulation opportunities and imaginaries all centering the Arctic North

One Hundred Years of Canadian Cinema

George Melnyk, 2004-01-01 Melnyk argues passionately that Canadian cinema has never been a singular entity but has continued to speak in the languages and in the voices of Canada s diverse population

Arctic Cinemas and the Documentary Ethos Anna Westerstahl Stenport, 2019-02-18 A collection of essays analyzing the representation of the Arctic region in documentary films Beginning with Robert Flaherty s Nanook of the North 1922 the majority of films that have been made in about and by filmmakers from the Arctic region have been documentary cinema Focused on a hostile environment that few people visit these documentaries have heavily shaped ideas about the contemporary global Far North In Arctic Cinemas and the Documentary Ethos contributors from a variety of scholarly and artistic backgrounds come together to provide a comprehensive study of Arctic documentary cinemas from a transnational perspective This book offers a thorough analysis of the concept of the Arctic as it is represented in documentary filmmaking while challenging the notion of The Arctic as a homogenous entity that obscures the environmental historical geographic political and cultural differences that characterize the region By examining how the Arctic is imagined understood and appropriated in documentary work the contributors argue that such films are key in contextualizing environmental indigenous political cultural sociological and ethnographic understandings of the Arctic from early cinema to the present Understanding the role of these films becomes all the more urgent in the present day as conversations around resource extraction climate change and sovereignty take center stage in the Arctic's representation. Highly recommended Choice A thorough exploration of the inexorable links between the circumpolar regions and historic and contemporary documentary filmmaking. It will be valuable to Arctic humanities specialists particularly as a welcome addition to scholarship on visual depictions of the Arctic by authors such as Ann Fienup-Riordan, Richard Condon, Russell Potter, and Peter Geller as well as Mackenzie and Westerstahl. Steptoe's earlier co-edited volume Films on Ice will also be of use to anyone interested in ways of studying linkages between filmmaking environments and local and outsider communities.
