 SUMMER OUT NOW Thought and Feeling Richard E. Nisbett,2017-07-05 Recently there has been growing awareness and acceptance of the proposition that people do not exist in a world of physically defined forces and events but in a world defined by their own perceptions cognitions conclusions and imaginations We respond and react not to some objectively defined set of stimuli but to our own apperceptions of stimuli that we define subjectively The original essays in this volume center on one aspect of this process of attribution The extent to which the perception of events and causes results in the determination modification or alteration of emotions feelings and affective states This book is divided into five sections each of which elucidates and extends these theoretical conceptions Part 1 provides a historical background and analytical framework for the rest of the book Part 2 presents chapters dealing with the sorts of internal cues which may give rise to a feeling state Part 3 presents a chapter discussing the evaluative needs aroused by the internal cues Part 4 is concerned with the process of explanation triggered by the evaluative needs Part 5 deals with various external cues and how they are used to label the internal feeling state There is a concluding discussion of the cognitive alteration of feeling states The authors deal with aggression boredom obesity the control of pain and delusional systems This volume is of continuing importance to clinical and experimental psychologists as well as social psychologists Each of the authors takes the theoretical concept of cognition and relates it to research in biofeedback physiology social psychology altered states of consciousness etc Thus the book bridges the gap between cognitive theory and the use of that theory in applied research Going Ape Nicholas J.
 Hall,Nick Hall,1975 How Hard Can It Be? Allison Pearson,2018-06-05 First published in the United Kingdom by The Borough Press Copyright page New Approaches to Gone With the Wind James A. Crank,2015-12-14 Since its publication in 1936 Gone with the Wind has held a unique position in American cultural memory both for its particular vision of the American South in the age of the Civil War and for its often controversial portrayals of race gender and class New Approaches to Gone with the Wind offers neither apology nor rehabilitation for the novel and its Oscar winning film adaptation Instead the nine essays provide distinct compelling insights that challenge and complicate conventional associations Racial and sexual identity form a cornerstone of the collection Mark C Jerng and Charlene Regester each examine Margaret Mitchell s reframing of traditional racial identities and the impact on audience sympathy and engagement Jessica Sims mines Mitchell s depiction of childbirth for what it reveals about changing ideas of femininity in a postplantation economy while Deborah Barker explores transgressive sexuality in the film version by comparing it to the depiction of rape in D W Griffith s earlier silent classic Birth of a Nation Other essays position the novel and film within the context of their legacy and their impact on national and international audiences Amy Clukey and James Crank inspect the reception of Gone with the Wind by Irish critics and gay communities respectively Daniel Cross Turner Keaghan Turner and Rich Richardson consider its aesthetic impact and mythology and the ways that contemporary writers and artists such as Natasha Trethewey and Kara Walker have engaged with the work Finally Helen Taylor sums up the pervading influence that Gone with the Wind continues to exert on audiences in both America and Britain Through an emphasis on intertextuality sexuality and questions of audience and identity these essayists deepen the ongoing conversation about the cultural impact and influence of this monumental work Flawed in many ways yet successful beyond its time Gone with the Wind remains a touchstone in southern studies

Legal and Ethical Retributivism Halil Cesur, 2025-07-31 This book explores a foundational philosophical tension in contemporary retributivism revealing ambiguities in its approach to punishment between two conflicting conceptions of restoration legal justice and ethical love Through an analysis of the three parties involved in a crime the victim the offender and the state it argues that neo retributivism has not sufficiently incorporated the ethical face of punishment into its theoretical framework The pull of legal justice is often so strong that the voice of ethical love is silenced neo retributivism is at an impasse To navigate this the book engages with contemporary critical criminal justice scholarship introducing the ideal of loving justice while highlighting an unresolved tension between penal reformism and abolitionism The book will be of interest to academicians and researchers working in the areas of philosophy of punishment criminal law theory criminal justice restorative justice philosophy of law political philosophy and Hegel scholarship

The Gothic and the Rule of the Law, 1764-1820 Sue Chaplin, 2007-04-11 This book is the first full length theoretical and historical study of the relation between early Gothic fiction and an emerging modern rule of law The work identifies not only a political and cultural but also an ontological relation between what critics have conceptualized as Gothic and the nature and function of modern juridical power

Anthony Mann Jeanine Basinger, 2007-11-11 Classic study of a filmmaker's career now including every Mann film Back in print new and expanded edition Director of such often revived films as Winchester 73 The Glenn Miller Story and El Cid

Anthony Mann enjoyed a lasting and important career as one of Hollywood's premier filmmakers. Mann's Westerns, noir pictures, and epics are admired and studied by fans and scholars alike, and he was an expert in the fundamental elements of cinema: movement and placement of the camera, composition in the frame, and careful editing. Jeanine Basinger's Anthony Mann, which places the director's visual style at the center of its analysis, was among the first formal studies of any filmmaker, and it set a standard in the field over twenty-five years ago. Long out of print and much in demand, this pioneering book is now available again, featuring complete coverage of those Mann films not discussed in the original work, as well as over fifty rare film stills. Wesleyan is proud to issue this expanded edition of an essential text, making it available to new generations of filmgoers and readers.
