Men from Under the Sky Stanley Brown, 2013-03-02 The cannibal kings of Fiji are gone but their spirit lives on Cannibalism in Fiji and the gruesome earth ovens are gone the kai vavalagi the men from over the horizon changed that bringing their own brands of justice tempered by the musket disease and dissoluteness There were giants in those days Fijians and Westerners alike This gripping and unique history of Fiji by Stanley Brown a well known Fiji old timer and historian is woven around the lives of eleven Western giants Europeans and Americans who had the greatest impact on each epoch Not all these Westerners lived to tell the tale This stirring narrative is replete with hair raising accounts of battles and brutality One incident of supreme savagery was reported by Lockerby a famous trader who reported that more than three hundred fifty old men women and children were butchered after a battle As the canoes sallied back to the mainland coast in the evening the reddening sky silhouetted the bodies of children hanging from the mastheads The earth ovens were well fueled that evening But time and the tides of civilization tame the savage beast and today Fiji is busy developing its economy but the old accounts and stories still ring true

The Fear in the Sky Pat Cunningham, 2012-09-19 A vivid account of the experiences of 10 men who volunteered to risk their lives on air operations during World War II Pennant Magazine A profound respect for the RAF aircrews of the Second World War led aviation historian Pat Cunningham DFM to record the experiences of ten men who volunteered to risk their lives on air operations for some time Britain s only effective method of striking back These young men came from disparate backgrounds but having qualified in their specialist categories were skillfully merged as interdependent crew members A staggering 8 305 of the 55 573 men killed in RAF Bomber Command alone died in accidents showing that enemy action was only one of the hazards aircrews faced Others included technical malfunctions notwithstanding that each had implicit faith in their supporting ground personnel The constant pressure to get aircrews operational saw many completing the required thirty bombing sorties with less than 500 hours experience Even so they were required to navigate over hostile blacked out terrain in uncertain weather and with few radio aids in machines packed with highly volatile substances Hardly surprising then that fear was a concomitant of the job I was scared throughout every single operation says one and if any operational aircrew member says different I d say they were either liars or that age has mellowed their memories Bomber Command experiences over Central Europe feature largely but also included are maritime operations to furnish the all important meteorological reports two crew airborne interception radar sorties virtual suicide attacks by outmoded torpedo bombers against enemy capital ships operations in support of the Chindits Long Range Penetration Force in Burma and German POW incarceration that culminated with a three month death march ahead of the advancing Soviets The crew is the essential element throughout yet as the narratives show not all gelled seamlessly Surprisingly however individual traits actually strengthened the bond and gave every aircrew its special quality Praise for The Fear in the Sky An assembly of ten autobiographical accounts by Bomber Command aircrew retelling of their experiences and very hairy many of them are There are many personal touches drawn from their first forays in uniform right up to the end of their tour of duty sometimes in a German POW camp The stories make a lively read The Bulletin Assault from the Sky Dick Camp, 2013-08-26 Action packed he brings the reader artfully through the fog of war with clarity 20th Century Aviation Magazine Vietnam has often been called our first helicopter war and indeed the US Marine Corps as well as Army had to feel its way forward during the initial combats But by 1967 the combat was raging across South Vietnam with confrontational battles against the NVA on a scale comparable to the great campaigns of WWII In 1968 when the Communists launched their mammoth counteroffensive the Marines were forced to fight on all sides with the helicopter giving them the additional dimension that proved decisive in repelling the enemy The author of this book a Vietnam veteran and Purple Heart recipient who has also worked at the USMC History Division and National Museum of the Marine Corps in Quantico uses his experiences as a company commander to bring the story to life by weaving personal accounts after action reports and official documents into a compellingly readable narrative of service and sacrifice by Marine pilots and crewmen The entire story of the war is depicted through the prism of Marine helicopter operations from the first deployments to support the Army of the Republic of Vietnam against the Viet Cong through the rapid US buildup to stop the North Vietnamese Army until the final withdrawal from our Embassy Superlative research Leatherneck Fight for the Sky Douglas Bader, 2006-05-01 The only book written by the legendary legless ace the double amputee World War II fighter pilot immortalized by the film Reach for the Sky In Fight for the Sky Douglas Bader tells the inspiring story of the Battle of Britain from the viewpoint of The Few Using superb illustrations he traces the development of the Spitfire and Hurricane and describes the nail biting actions of those who flew them against far superior numbers of enemy aircraft As an added bonus other well known fighter aces including Johnnie Johnson Laddie Lucas and Max Aikten contribute to Douglas's book no doubt out of affection and respect This a really important contribution to RAF history by one of the greatest and certainly the most famous pilot of the Second World War Semper Fi in the Sky Gerald Astor, 2007-12-18 Here one of America's most popular military historians re creates using their own moving and powerful voices the true stories of the U S Marine pilots who flew the Allies to victory in World War II These riveting accounts recreate conflicts ranging from the Marines gallant defense of Wake Island where Captain Henry Baron Elrod destroyed two enemy planes before joining the fight on the ground earning a posthumous Medal of Honor in the last ditch attempt to stave off the Japanese to the Battle of Midway and Guadalcanal Running the gamut from Second Lieutenant Alvin Jensen's single handed destruction of twenty four grounded Japanese aircraft on Kahili to Lieutenant John W Leaper's sawing off a Kamikaze's tail with his propeller over Okinawa these thrilling oral histories of the Pacific war's air battles bring them

Fire From the Sky Robert C. Stem, 2020-01-31 By late 1944 the war in the Pacific had turned decisively against the Japanese and overwhelming Allied forces began to close in on the home islands At this point Japan unveiled a terrifying new tactic the suicide attack or Kamikaze named after the Divine Wind which had once before in medieval times saved Japan from invasion Intentionally crashing bomb laden aircraft into Allied warships these piloted guided missiles at first seemed unstoppable calling into question the naval strategy on which the whole war effort was based This book looks at the origins of the campaign at its strategic goals the organization of the Japanese special attack forces and the culture that made suicide not just acceptable but honourable Inevitably much mythology has grown up around the subject and the book attempts to sort the wheat from the chaff One story that does stand up is the reported massive stock piling of kamikaze aircraft for use against any Allied invasion of the home islands if the atomic bombs had not forced Japan's surrender However its principal focus is on the experience of those in the Allied fleets on the receiving end of this peculiarly alien and unnerving weapon how they learnt to endure and eventually counter a threat whose potential was over estimated by both sides In this respect it has a very modern resonance

Terror from the Sky Graham A. Thomas, 2020-01-31 The story of Britain's desperate defensive operations against the Nazis V1 flying bombs in 1944 In the summer of 1944 the Germans launched more than 10 000 flying bombs at Britain most of them toward London which had already endured the Blitz in the earlier phase of the war Thousands of people were killed and many more injured RAF fighter pilots flew round the clock patrols desperately trying to shoot the robot rockets known as V1s down and stop them from reaching their targets This history recounts the horrors of these raids and the defenses Britain used against them both on the ground and in the air as a weary but determined nation once again battled Nazi terror from above Includes photographs
