State Law as Islamic Law in Modern Egypt Clark Lombardi, 2006-01-01 This volume explores the decision by the government of Egypt in the 1970s to constitutionalize Islamic shar'a and discusses its impact on Egypt's constitutional jurisprudence. The author, who is trained in Islamic intellectual history and comparative law, begins by examining the evolution of Sunni Islamic legal theory and describes competing theories of Islamic law that co-exist in modern Egypt. The book then explores how the Supreme Constitutional Court of Egypt has developed its own approach to interpreting shar'a, one that permits the Court to argue that shar'a principles are consistent with international human rights norms. The book concludes with a discussion of the public reception of the Court's theory. This book will be essential for anyone interested in the evolution of Islamic law, the development of constitutional thought in the Middle East, or the relationship between Islam and human rights.

Egypt and Its Laws Nathalie Bernard-Maugiron, Badouin Dupret, 2021-12-28 Egyptian law is the main representative of the Arab civil law family and its influence largely extends beyond its national borders. Foreign elements have mixed with Egyptian legacies to build up a new and original legal system. Egypt and its Laws is the first book in a Western language to present in a comprehensive, systematic, and concise way contemporary Egyptian law: case law and judicial organization, Egyptian law professionals, law faculty, professor, high rank magistrates, attorneys have contributed to this project by outlining each branch of law or judicial order in a synthetic way. This includes constitutional law, administrative law, civil law, personal status law, criminal law, commercial law, company law, tax law, labor and social law, land law, press law, procedural law, commercial arbitration, public and private international law, as well as civil, criminal, administrative, and constitutional adjudication. These contributions are preceded by a substantial introduction and followed by an English-Arabic glossary, an index, and tables of cited laws and cases.

State Law as Islamic Law in Modern Egypt Clark B. Lombardi, 2006 Explores the decision by the government of Egypt in the 1970s to constitutionalize Islamic Shar'a and discusses its impact on Egypt's constitutional jurisprudence.

Islamic Law Ahmad Atif Ahmad, 2017-10-12 Introducing undergraduate students to Islamic law, this accessible textbook does not presume legal or technical knowledge. Drawing on a comparative approach, it encourages students to think through the issues of the application of Islamic law where Muslims live as a majority and where they live as a minority, including the USA, Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Pakistan. The book surveys the historical development as well as the contemporary contexts of Islamic law. In distilling the history of Islamic law for non-specialists, the author covers important topics such as the development and transformation of Islamic institutions before and after colonialism. Coverage of Islamic law across contemporary contexts draws on real case material and allows for discussion of Islam as a legal and a moral code that is activated both inside and outside the court. Readers will learn about rituals, dietary restrictions, family contracts, and property law, lawful and unlawful gain, criminal law, and punishments, and what makes a government legitimate in the eyes of Muslim individuals and authorities.

Egypt and Syria in the Fatimid, Ayyubid and Mamluk Eras III Urbain Vermeulen, 2001 This volume contains 24 papers presented at the sixth seventh and eighth Colloquium on the History of Egypt and Syria in the Fatimid Ayyubid and Mamluk Eras organized at the University of Leuven in May 1997 1998 and 1999 The main purpose of these annual colloquia is to bring together an international body of scholars from different fields of research around the central theme of Syro Egypt s high and late medieval history Resulting now in a third volume of this kind volume I OLA 73 volume II OLA 83 these proceedings again cover areas of research in the fields of medieval sociology economy archaeology codicology theology and administrative and political history ranging from the 10th to the late 15th century AD The individual contributions deal with a great number of topics including Syro Egyptian society and architecture the Crusades aspects of civil and military administration and organisation role and value of pious endowments and the intricacies of Syro Egyptian politics Islamic Law and International Human Rights Law Anver M. Emon, Mark Ellis, Benjamin Glahn, 2012-10-11 The relationship between Islamic law and international human rights law has been the subject of considerable and heated debate in recent years The usual starting point has been to test one system by the standards of the other asking is Islamic law compatible with international human rights standards or vice versa This approach quickly ends in acrimony and accusations of misunderstanding By overlaying one set of norms on another we overlook the deeply contextual nature of how legal rules operate in a society and meaningful comparison and discussion is impossible In this volume leading experts in Islamic law and international human rights law attempt to deepen the understanding of human rights and Islam paving the way for a more meaningful debate Focusing on central areas of controversy such as freedom of speech and religion gender equality and minority rights the authors examine the contextual nature of how Islamic law and international human rights law are legitimately formed interpreted and applied within a community They examine how these fundamental interests are recognized and protected within the law and what restrictions are placed on the freedoms associated with them By examining how each system recognizes and limits fundamental freedoms this volume clears the ground for exploring the relationship between Islamic law and international human rights law on a sounder footing In doing so it offers a challenging and distinctive contribution to the literature on the subject and will be an invaluable reference for students academics and policy makers engaged in the legal and religious debates surrounding Islam and the West Recasting Islamic Law Rachel M. Scott, 2021-03-15 By examining the intersection of Islamic law state law religion and culture in the Egyptian nation building process Recasting Islamic Law highlights how the sharia when attached to constitutional commitments is reshaped into modern Islamic state law Rachel M Scott analyzes the complex effects of constitutional commitments to the sharia in the wake of the Egyptian Revolution of 2011 She argues that the sharia is not dismantled by the modern state when it is applied as modern Islamic state law but rather recast in its service In showing the particular forms that the sharia takes when it is applied as modern Islamic state law Scott pushes back against assumptions that introductions of the sharia into modern state law result in either the revival of medieval Islam or in its complete transformation Scott engages with premodern law and with the Ottoman legal legacy on topics concerning Egypt's Coptic community women's rights personal status law and the relationship between religious scholars and the Supreme Constitutional Court Recasting Islamic Law considers modern Islamic state law's discontinuities and its continuities with premodern sharia Thanks to generous funding from Virginia Tech and its participation in TOME Toward an Open Monograph Ecosystem the ebook editions of this book are available as Open Access volumes from Cornell Open cornellpress.cornell.edu/cornell-open and other repositories

Freedom of Expression in Islam Muhammad Khalid Masud, Kari Vogt, Lena Larsen, Christian Moe, 2021-01-28 In Muslim countries apostasy and blasphemy laws are defended on the grounds that they are based on Islamic Shari'a and intended to protect religion But blasphemy and apostasy laws can be used both to suppress thought and debate and to harass religious minorities both inside and outside Islam This book comprising contributions from Muslim scholars experts and activists critically and constructively engages with the theological historical and legal reasoning behind the most restrictive state laws around the world to open up new ways of thinking The book focuses on the struggle within Muslim societies in Iran Egypt Pakistan and Indonesia where blasphemy and apostasy laws serve powerful groups to silence dissent and stifle critical thought The first part of the book covers the development of the law in shifting historical circumstances and surveys the interpretations of Qur'anic verses that seem to affirm freedom of religion The second part examines the present politics and practices of prosecuting alleged blasphemers and or apostates in Muslim countries The third part looks to the future and where reforms of the law could be possible Debates on Islam and freedom of expression are often cast in polarizing terms of rights versus religion East versus West This volume avoids such approaches by bringing together a diverse group of Muslim scholars and activists with the knowledge commitment and courage to contest repressive interpretations of religion and provide a resource for reclaiming the human rights to freedom of expression and belief
