A Companion to the Works of Heinrich Heine Roger F. Cook, 2002 As the most prominent German Jewish Romantic writer Heinrich Heine 1797 1856 became a focal point for much of the tension generated by the Jewish assimilation to German culture in a time marked by a growing emphasis on the shared ancestry of the German Volk As both an ingenious composer of Romantic verse and the originator of modernist German prose he defied nationalist Romantic concepts of creative genius that grounded German greatness in an idealist tradition of Dichter und Denker And as a brash often reckless champion of freedom and social justice he challenged not only the reactionary ruling powers of Restoration Germany but also the incipient nationalist ideology that would have fateful consequences for the new Germany consequences he often portended with a prophetic vision born of his own experience Reaching to the heart of the German question the controversies surrounding Heine have been as intense since his death as they were in his own lifetime often serving as an acid test for important questions of national and social consciousness This new volume of essays by scholars from Germany Britain Canada and the United States offers new critical insights on key recurring issues in his work the symbiosis of German and Jewish culture emerging nationalism among the European peoples critical views of Romanticism and modern philosophy European culture on the threshold to modernity irony wit and self critique as requisite elements of a modern aesthetic changing views on teleology and the dialectics of history and final thoughts and reconsiderations from his last prolonged years in a sickbed Contributors Michael Perraudin Paul Peters Roger F Cook Willi Goetschel Gerhard H hn Paul Reitter Robert C Holub Jeffrey Grossman Anthony Phelan Joseph A Kruse and George F Peters Roger F Cook is professor of German at the University of Missouri Columbia Anthropology in the Anthropocene Christoph Antweiler, 2024-11-25 In this book anthropologist and geologist Christoph Antweiler shows that geology is a special namely historical natural science and is therefore relevant for a historically informed anthropology He argues that we do not only need a geologically informed cultural anthropology but conversely also an anthropologically oriented geology A comprehensive geology must include material human culture as a fundamental geological phenomenon In relation to cultural anthropology the author discusses the challenge the Anthropocene poses for cultural anthropology as a traditionally micro oriented social science The book discusses where the blind spots lie in the highly interdisciplinary discussion Common narratives are critically scrutinized The author argues for the need for a new discipline geoanthropology The English Historical Review Mandell Creighton, Justin Winsor, Samuel Rawson Gardiner, Reginald Lane Poole, Sir John Goronwy Edwards, 1902 Acta Historiae Neerlandica ,

The Essence of History Aaron Turner, 2025-09-25 This book brings together historical thinkers from diverse disciplinary backgrounds to offer original interpretations of the essence of history It addresses why the essence of history itself cannot be so easily thematised or conceptualised Restating the question of the essence of history is necessary as it has been largely forgotten today Since antiquity history has been inextricably bound up with the problem of truth Contemporary philosophy of history and historiography have branched out in many different directions This complexity has made it nearly impossible for historical thinkers to engage outside of their own field The relentless advancement of historical thought has almost completely neglected the question of the essence of history The chapters in this volume respond to questions such as What is history What in the progress of historical thought from antiquity to modernity did we lose along the way And what does it mean if it means anything at all to have history to be historical The Essence of History will be of interest to scholars and graduate students working in philosophy of history historical theory and historiography and ancient history
