Adams,2015-02-18 A solid and informative biography of one of the overlooked heroes of the Second World War Wall Street Journal Of the leaders of the American Army in World War II Jacob Devers is undoubtedly the forgotten four star Plucked from relative obscurity in the Canal Zone Devers was one of four generals selected by General of the Army George Marshall in 1941 to assist him in preparing the Army for war He quickly became known in Army circles for his can do attitude and remarkable ability to cut through red tape Among other duties he was instrumental in transforming Ft Bragg then a small Army post into a major training facility As head of the armored force Devers contributed to the development of a faster more heavily armored tank equipped with a higher velocity gun that could stand up to the more powerful German tanks and helped to turn American armor into an effective fighting force In spring 1943 Devers replaced Dwight Eisenhower as commander of the European Theater of Operations then was given command of the 6th Army Group that invaded the south of France and fought its way through France and Germany to the Austrian border In the European campaign to defeat Hitler Eisenhower had three subordinate army group commanders British Field Marshall Bernard Montgomery Omar S Bradley and Jacob Devers The first two are well known here the third receives the attention he properly deserves Philippine-American Military History, 1902-1942 Richard B. American officers and enlisted men from MacArthur to Ferdinand Marcos unit histories army post and navy base histories medals and insignia books and the most extensive list of prisoner of war memoirs yet published Annotations address controversies such as the widely disparate estimates of American deaths on the Bataan Death March and include previously unpublished information such as casualty figures for American and Philippine forces in 1941 1942 Omaha Beach Adrian R. Lewis,2003-11-20 The Allied victory at Omaha Beach was a costly one A direct infantry assault against a defense that was years in the making undertaken in daylight following a mere thirty minute bombardment the attack had neither the advantage of tactical surprise nor that of overwhelming firepower American forces were forced to improvise under enemy fire and although they were ultimately victorious they suffered devastating casualties Why did the Allies embark on an attack with so many disadvantages Making extensive use of primary sources Adrian Lewis traces the development of the doctrine behind the plan for the invasion of Normandy to explain why the battles for the beaches were fought as they were Although blame for the Omaha Beach disaster has traditionally been placed on tactical leaders at the battle site Lewis argues that the real responsibility lay at the higher levels of operations and strategy planning Ignoring lessons learned in the Mediterranean and Pacific theaters British and American military leaders employed a hybrid doctrine of amphibious warfare at Normandy one that failed to maximize the advantages of either British or U S doctrine Had Allied forces at the other landing sites faced German forces of the quality and quantity of those at Omaha Beach Lewis says they too would have suffered heavy casualties and faced the prospect of defeat U.S. Leadership in Wartime Spencer C.
