of the visual texture of the various periods and episodes covered The 167 illustration groups supported by explanatory text and picture captions create a sequence of visual tours not merely a procession of individually great works viewed in isolation but juxtapositions of significant images that powerfully convey a sense of the visual environments in which works of art need to be viewed in order to be understood and appreciated The aim throughout has been to make the shape and nature of these visual presentations a stimulating and rewarding experience allowing readers to become active participants in the process of interpretation and synthesis Another key feature of the narrative is the re definition of traditional period boundaries Rather than relying on conventional labels such as Medieval Renaissance Baroque etc five major phases of significant historical change are established that unlock longer and more meaningful continuities The art of classical antiquity from c 600 BC to the fall of Rome in AD 410 The establishment of visual culture in Europe from 410 to 1527 the sack of papal Rome European visual regimes from 1527 to 1770 The era of revolutions 1770 to 1914 Modernism and after 1914 to 2000 This new framework shows how the major religious and secular functions of art have been forged sustained transformed revived and revolutionized over the ages how the institutions of Church and State have consistently aspired to make art in their own image and how the rise of art history itself has come to provide the dominant conceptual framework within which artists create patrons patronize collectors collect galleries exhibit dealers deal and art historians write The text has been written by a team of 50 specialist authors working under the direction of Professor Martin Kemp one of the UK's most distinguished art historians Whilst bringing their own expertise and vision to their sections each author was also asked to relate their text to a number of unifying themes and issues including written evidence physical contexts patronage viewing and reception techniques gender and racial issues centres and peripheries media and condition the notion of art and current presentations Though the coverage of topics focuses on European notions of art and their transplantation and transformation in North America space is also given to cross fertilizations with other traditions including the art of Latin America the Soviet Union India Africa and Afro Caribbean Australia and Canada Professor Kemp and his team similarly deal generously with the applied arts and reproductive media such as photography and prints The result is a vibrant vigorous and revolutionary account of Western art serving both as an inspirational introduction for the general reader and an authoritative source of reference and guidance for students

Mapping Gendered Routes and Spaces in the Early Modern World Professor Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks, 2015-04-28 How did gender figure in understandings of spatial realms from the inner spaces of the body to the furthest reaches of the globe How did women situate themselves in the early modern world and how did they move through it in both real and imaginary locations How do new disciplinary and geographic connections shape the ways we think about the early modern world and the role of women and men in it These are the questions that guide this volume which includes articles by a select group of scholars from many disciplines Art History Comparative Literature English German History Landscape Architecture Music and Women's Studies Each essay reaches across fields and several are written by interdisciplinary groups of authors The essays also focus on many different places including Rome Amsterdam London and Paris and on texts and images that crossed the Atlantic and the Mediterranean or that portrayed real and imagined people who did Many essays investigate topics key to the spatial turn in various disciplines such as borders and their permeability actual and metaphorical spatial crossings travel and displacement and the built environment

Culture and Management in the Americas Alfredo Behrens, 2009-04-02 Latin Americans are culturally different from North Americans in ways that so far have been inaccurately portrayed in the management literature In Culture and Management in the Americas Alfredo Behrens argues that these differences merit a substantial overhaul of management theory and practice to make the best of the significantly untapped Latin American potential for creativity innovation and teamwork This applies in organizations with North American ownership and management whether they are based in the U S or Latin America Behrens a management consultant and academic who has studied taught and practiced in South and North America and Europe explains why the use of traditional North American research methods to capture cultural traits in the multi cultural workforce is inappropriate This practice produces a false picture of the cultural attributes and capabilities of Latin American managers and key staff And this in turn leads to serious shortcomings in the development of appropriate motivation and leadership strategies and of appraisal and control instruments Rather than relying on standardized surveys for measuring cultural attributes to underpin and develop such strategies and tools the author suggests that managers look to the arts particularly literature and cinema for a richer and more useful alternative He illustrates his points by reference to literary icons such as Argentina's Martin Fierro Brazil's Macunaima and America's Captain Ahab He uses a variety of case studies to demonstrate what we can learn from these iconographic characters and what we can expect of each other when we apply these lessons whether we are leading following or working in self directed teams This readable and enjoyable book will be an invaluable engaging and practical tool for anyone charged with managing at any level in workforce that combines both North American and Latin American cultures
