The Routledge International Handbook of Religious Education Derek Davis, Elena Miroshnikova, 2013-02-01 How and what to teach about religion is controversial in every country The Routledge International Handbook of Religious Education is the first book to comprehensively address the range of ways that major countries around the world teach religion in public and private educational institutions It discusses how three models in particular seem to dominate the landscape Countries with strong cultural traditions focused on a majority religion tend to adopt an identification model where instruction is provided only in the tenets of the majority religion often to the detriment of other religions and their adherents Countries with traditions that differentiate church and state tend to adopt a separation model thus either offering instruction in a wide range of religions or in some cases teaching very little about religion intentionally leaving it to religious institutions and the home setting to provide religious instruction Still other countries attempt managed pluralism in which neither one nor many but rather a limited handful of major religious traditions are taught Inevitably there are countries which do not fit any of these dominant models and the range of methods touched upon in this book will surprise even the most enlightened reader Religious instruction by educational institutions in 53 countries and regions of the world are explored by experts native to each country These chapters discuss Legal parameters in terms of subjective versus objective instruction in religion Constitutional statutory social and political contexts to religious approaches Distinctions between the kinds of instruction permitted in elementary and secondary schools versus what is allowed in institutions of higher learning Regional assessments which provide a welcome overview and comparison This comprehensive and authoritative volume will appeal to educators scholars religious leaders politicians and others interested in how religion and education interface around the world

Handbook of Research on Training Teachers for Bilingual Education in Primary Schools Estrada Chichón, José Luis, Zayas Martínez, Francisco, 2023-02-06 Modern societies tend to demand innovative learning modalities in which foreign languages are used to teach content subjects from very early educational stages Education authorities in different geographical areas of the world are currently working to determine how bilingual teaching should be developed depending along with many other factors on the initial training of bilingual education teachers On this basis it is necessary to review how tertiary education institutions deal with the theoretical foundations and practical approaches necessary for this learning modality to train bilingual education teachers for primary schools The Handbook of Research on Training Teachers for Bilingual Education in Primary Schools includes international experiences of teacher training for bilingual education in primary schools in which educators should be able to recognize themselves and identify concrete working formulas to apply in their daily work Covering key topics such as teacher training language learning and primary education this reference work is ideal for administrators teacher trainers policymakers researchers scholars practitioners academicians instructors and students

Mapping Corporate Education Reform Wayne Au, Joseph J. Ferrare, 2015-04-10 Mapping Corporate Education Reform outlines and analyzes the complex relationships between policy actors that define education reform within the current neoliberal context Using social network analysis and powerful data visualization tools the authors identify the problematic roots of these relationships and describe their effects both in the U S and abroad Through a series of case studies each chapter reveals how powerful actors from billionaire philanthropists to multinational education corporations leverage their resources to implement free market mechanisms within public education By comprehensively connecting the dots of neoliberal education reforms the authors reveal not only the details of the reforms themselves but the relationships that enable actors to amass troubling degrees of political power through network governance A critical analysis of the actors and interests behind education policies Mapping Corporate Education Reform uncovers the frequently obscured operations of educational governance and offers key insights into education reform at the present moment

Multilingual Education and Sustainable Diversity Work Tove Skutnabb-Kangas, Kathleen Heugh, 2013-06-17 This book documents current research showing how in countries where educational practices are inclusive of linguistic diversity and responsive to local conditions implementation of bi multilingual education in both system wide and minority settings can be successful

Closing the Achievement Gap from an International Perspective Julia V. Clark, 2013-10-24 In a changing world that demands new skills a vital concern of public education is the gap in academic performance between low and high achieving students There is no excuse for the achievement gaps that persist among poor and minority students in schools today All students can succeed at high levels regardless of race ethnicity and economic background Several countries have successfully confronted inequities in achievement demonstrating that any school can close achievement gaps regardless of the community they serve and that all students can achieve at high levels when they are provided with the right opportunities This book is about understanding what factors selected countries have applied to promote progress and what factors contribute to progress in the closing of achievement gaps It is about creating opportunities for all students Closing the Achievement Gap from an International Perspective Transforming STEM for Effective Education is written in response to rising concern for the improvement of quality education especially in mathematics and science provided to all students The contributors take a systematic view of the subject beginning with a cross national analysis of teacher qualifications and the achievement gap that spans 50 countries The content of the book is organized in sections describing education around the globe North and South America Europe Asia Africa and Australia Individual chapters offer close up analysis of efforts to close achievement gaps in the U S and Canada Mexico England Turkey China South Africa and Australia among many others The contributors provide information on the achievement gap in mathematics and science review current research and present strategies for fostering improvement and raising performance with a focus on school related variables that adversely affect educational outcomes among poor and minority students The authors of the various chapters looked at how students data correlated with classroom practices teacher instruction and academic programming as part of their efforts to measure student growth Qualitative and quantitative data are provided to provide evidence not only of the problem but also for the solution The book concludes with a chapter on promoting equality and equity to shrink the achievement gap worldwide
