Creating Socially Responsible Citizens David L. Grossman, John J. Cogan, 2012-09-01 This book originates from a collaborative research initiative to examine how various societies in the Asia Pacific Region construct moral and civic education and to what extent these systems achieve the democratic objective of creating socially responsible citizens In many western societies there is at least a rhetorical tendency to separate the moral and civic dimensions of citizenship education and in some cases to exclude the moral dimension from the discourse of preparing citizens However as cross societal dialogues and research about citizenship education have increased in the past two decades scholars have identified differences in the emphasis put on the moral dimension of citizenship education across the Asia Pacific region In many predominantly Confucian Islamic and Buddhist societies for example the emphasis on the moral dimension of citizenship education is explicit and in some cases central While awareness of a divide or perhaps more appropriately a continuum in the role of moral versus civic education in democratic societies has been recognized for some time to our knowledge this book marks the first effort of this scope to address the issue of the moral civic divide in citizenship education Thus through a cross cultural dialogue across societies in the Asia Pacific Region this book addresses the issue of whether elements of both civic and moral education can be effectively joined to create a socially responsible citizen

Education in Bhutan Matthew J. Schuelka, T.W. Maxwell, 2016-09-16 Bhutan is a country in the Himalayas with a relatively new education system and a unique governmental philosophy known as Gross National Happiness This book explores the history culture challenges and opportunities of schooling in Bhutan It discusses topics including historical perspectives on Buddhist monastic education the regional and international influence on educational development traditional medical education higher education and the evolution of Bhutanese educational policy to name but a few It also investigates contemporary challenges to schooling in Bhutan such as adult education inclusive education early childhood education rurality and gender Throughout the book the developmental philosophy of Gross National Happiness is explored as a novel and culturally vital approach to education in Bhutan The majority of the authors are prominent Bhutanese scholars and educational leaders with select non Bhutanese international scholars with strong links to Bhutan also contributing This book is a valuable resource not only for those specifically interested in education in Bhutan but for anyone with an interest in South Asian studies general Asian studies educational development comparative education Buddhist education and the Gross National Happiness development philosophy
