Publications of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, 1964-2005

Metropolitan Museum of Art,2012-10-09 The present volume Publications of The Metropolitan Museum of Art 1964 2005 is a successor to a volume published by the Museum in 1965 entitled Publications of The Metropolitan Museum of Art 1870 1964 These two bibliographic volumes endeavor to list all the known books pamphlets and serial publications bearing the Museum s imprint and issued by the institution during the first 135 years of its existence through June 2005 The first volume was compiled by Albert TenEyck Gardner at the time an Associate Curator of American Paintings and Sculpture and the present volume has been compiled from the Annual Reports issued by the Museum during the relevant years Together the two volumes testify to the tremendous contributions made to knowledge by the curators and conservators of the Metropolitan and by the many other experts who have contributed to the Museum's exhibition catalogues. Various issues of the Bulletin emphasize the great sweep of the Museum's acquisitions during these years and the exhibition catalogues a number of them. Alfred H. Barr Jr. Award or the George Wittenborn Award testify to the continuity of the institution's dedicated program to enrich people's lives through knowledge of art. This title was originally published in 2006. Portrait Miniatures from the Clarke Collection Stephen Lloyd, Scottish National Portrait Gallery, 2001. Concernes les artistes genevois Benjamin Arlaud, Jean Petitot. A Companion to Margaret More Roper Studies Elizabeth McCutcheon, William Gentrup, 2022-08-05. This volume is an important contribution to the field of Margaret More Roper studies: early modern women's writing as well as Erasmian piety, Renaissance humanism and historical and cultural studies more generally. Margaret More Roper is the learned daughter of St. Thomas More, the Catholic martyr; their lives are closely linked to each other and to early sixteenth-century changes in politics and religion and the social upheaval and crises of conscience that they brought. Specifically, Roper's major works, her translation of Erasmus's commentary on the Lord's Prayer and the long dialogue letter between More and Roper on conscience, highlight two major preoccupations of the period: Erasmian humanism and More's last years, which led to his death and martyrdom. Roper was one of the most learned women of her time and a prototype of the woman writer in England, and this edited volume is a tribute to her life, writings and place among early women authors. It combines comprehensive and convenient joining of biographical, textual, historical and critical components within a single volume for the modern reader. There is no comparable study in print and it fills a significant gap in studies of early modern women writers. The Met and the Masses in Postwar America Mitchell B. Frank, 2022-11-17. This book explores the collaborations during the mid-20th century between the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Book of the Month Club. Between 1948 and 1962 the two institutions collaborated on three book projects: The Metropolitan Museum of Art Miniatures 1948-1957, The Metropolitan Seminars in Art 1958-60 and a print reproduction of Rembrandt's Aristotle Contemplating the Bust of Homer 1962, bringing art from the Met's collections right into the homes of subscribers. The Met and the Masses places these commercial enterprises in a variety of contemporary and historical contexts, including the relation of cultural education to democracy in America, the history of the Met as an educational institution, the rise of art education in postwar America and the concurrent transformation of the home into a space that mediated familial privacy and the public sphere. Using never before published archival material, the book demonstrates how the Met sought to bring art to the masses in postwar America whilst upholding its reputation as an institution of high culture. It is essential reading for scholars, researchers and curators interested in the history of modern art, museum and curatorial studies, arts and cultural management, heritage studies as well as the history of art publications. Art Journal, 1960. Catalog of Copyright Entries. Shakespearean Objects in the Royal Collection, 1714–1939 Kirsten Tambling, 2025-09-22 The British royal collection includes nearly 2 000 objects with a connection to Shakespeare What stories do these objects tell of the relationship between the man often described as Britain's national poet and Britain's royal family Royal collecting of Shakespeare did not really begin until 1714 and has therefore broadly tracked the development and entrenchment of the Hanoverian and latterly the Saxe Coburg Gotha royal family Not entirely coincidentally this period also saw a general increase in public interest in objects associated with Shakespeare's life and biography often to the detriment of Shakespeare's works a development partially spearheaded by the Shakespeare Jubilee masterminded by the actor David Garrick at Stratford upon Avon in 1769 The histories of specific works of art in the royal collection from Thomas Gainsborough's painting of Mary Robinson to a collection of relic objects relating to Herne's Oak and Shakespeare's mulberry tree reveal how royal engagement with Shakespearean objects between 1714 and 1939 contributed to the development of a new constitutional settlement between the monarchy and its subjects under George IV Queen Victoria and George V and Queen Mary During this period objects relating to Shakespeare increasingly regarded by the royal family as nostalgic souvenirs from a fantastical national past were useful tools in shoring up these ideas and in yoking the fortunes of the British monarchy to a new vision of shared national history
