Working Group III.,1996-06-27 The consequences of climate change for society are analysed in this landmark assessment from the IPCC This book assesses the available knowledge on the many issues that society has to face including the international decision making framework applicability to climate change of techniques for assessing costs and benefits the significant social costs of projected climate change and the economic assessment of policy instruments to combat climate change nationally and internationally Some important conclusions of this Second Assessment Report indicate that 10 to 30% of greenhouse gas emissions in most countries can be reduced at negative or zero cost no regrets measures Also the literature indicates that climate change will cause aggregate net damage which provides an economic rationale for going beyond no regrets measures It also indicates that a portfolio of mitigation adaptation and research measures is a sound strategy for addressing climate change given the remaining uncertainties This report speaks directly to the issues that are faced by the many countries committed to limit emissions of greenhouse gases by the year 2000 and currently negotiating actions to be taken beyond that date Will be of great value to the international community of policymakers interested in the consequences of climate change as well as to economists social and natural scientists      Conservation of Genetic Resources

Detlef Virchow,2012-12-06 Over the past decade the importance of natural resources for sustainable agricultural development has been increasingly discussed at international forums and conferences Aside from the sustainable management of soil water and air it now seems to be accepted that the sustainable management of genetic resources is one of the four indispensable preconditions for a sustainable agriculture The discussion on conservation of plant genetic resources for food and agriculture PGRFA however has to reflect the costs of conservation as well These have not yet been discussed intensively The study analyzes the conservation costs of plant genetic resources it also assesses the effectiveness of conservation and the efficiency of the different conservation instruments It is based on extensive surveys in relevant countries Following the detailed cost and impact analysis the results show that the effectiveness of conservation strategies may be increased      International Summitry and Global Governance Emmanuel Murlon-Druol,Federico

Romero,2014-03-05 This volume is the first detailed study of the emergence of regular and frequent heads of government meetings summits covering the period from the mid 1970s to the early 1990s Summit meetings of heads of government have become banal in today's world Yet they are a relatively recent practice that took off only in the mid 1970s The aim of the book is to explore the origins of this new feature of global governance in its historical context Why did heads of Western governments decide to regularly meet up in the European Council and the G7 What were they aiming at How were these meetings run and what consequences did they have How did other actors of international relations states as well as non state and or transnational actors react to this transformation Based on newly released archival material International Summitry and Global Governance investigates the rise of regular international summitry and its impact on international relations The volume brings together the best specialists of this new field of historical enquiry in order to explore those features of global governance in their historical context and open up an interdisciplinary dialogue with social scientists who have studied summits from their own disciplinary perspectives This book will be of much interest to students of international history Cold War studies global governance foreign policy and IR in general     East European Accessions Index ,1960     The Courier ,1993 European Community African Caribbean Pacific varies     East European Accessions List ,1955-07     East European Accessions List Library of Congress.
