Telò, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2001 This is a collection of papers that look at the structure of the global economy and its changing paradigms over the years The contributors look at how the classic concept of state autonomous sovereign and freed of all constraint never really reflected the reality of the international scene despite the role it has played in realist and neo realist theory for many decades Instead they consider that the political social and economic characteristics originally attributed to states seem increasingly to be expressed through regional constructs The papers in this volume show that even within regionalism there are a variety of different models that exist and examine five of those models the European Union Mercosul Mercosur the North American Free Trade Area NAFTA the Association of South East Asian Nations ASEAN and the South African Development Community SADC European Union and New Regionalism Professor Mario

Telò, 2014-08-28 Stemming from an international and multidisciplinary network of leading specialists this best selling text is fully updated with new chapter additions With the first edition prepared at the end of the last century and the second edition adding inter regional relations this new edition focuses on competing models of regional cooperation within a multipolar world and the role of the European Union The New Regionalism in Western Europe Michael Keating, 1998 In the 1990s the states of Western Europe faced twin challenges from above in the shape of globalization and European integration and from below in the form of new regionalist movements In this authoritative book Michael Keating traces the historical origins of regionalism showing that territorial politics has always been a feature of the West European state Then he analyses the post war model of territorial management in the Keynesian welfare state and shows how current trends are re shaping the meaning of political space and encouraging new forms of political mobilization and action This new regionalism is no longer contained within the nation state so that regions must face the global market and an integrating Europe directly Professor Keating argues that regionalism is a complex phenomenon spanning culture economics politics and policy It takes different forms in different settings shaped by the imperatives of economic competition in a global age as well as by political forces within the regions themselves There is a discussion of regionalism as a strategy for economic development of the emergence of a regional level of government and of regions with the European Union The New Regionalism in Western Europe will be essential reading for academics and students interested in European politics future integration within the European Union and European political history The European Union and Europe's New Regionalism Boyka M. Stefanova, 2017-10-24 This book presents a new approach to studying the European Union's regional and global relevance It recasts into a dynamic perspective the three most significant systemic processes that define the EU as a regionalist project its enlargement neighborhood and mega regional policies The book argues that these processes collectively demonstrate a dynamic shift of the core tenets of European regionalism from an inward looking process of region building to an open selective system of global interactions European Union and New Regionalism Mario Telò, 2017-12-08 This title was first published in 2001 This is a collection of papers that look at the structure of the global economy and its changing paradigms over the years The contributors look at how the classic concept of state autonomous sovereign and freed of all constraint never really reflected the reality of the international scene despite the role it has played in realist and neo realist theory for many decades Instead they consider that the political social and economic characteristics originally attributed to states seem increasingly to be expressed through regional constructs The papers in this volume show that even within regionalism there are a variety of different models that exist and examine five of those models the European Union Mercosul Mercosur the North American Free Trade Area NAFTA the Association of South East Asian Nations ASEAN and the South African Development Community SADC New Regionalism and the European Union Alex Warleigh-Lack, Nick Robinson, Ben Rosamond, 2011-06 This book explores regionalism in the European Union in comparative context with Latin American African Asian North American regionalism It also investigates the links between the EU and other regional organisations and assesses the implications for the study of contemporary regionalism both inside and beyond Europe European Union and New Regionalism Professor Mario Telò, 2014-08-28 Stemming from an international and multidisciplinary network of leading specialists this best selling text is fully updated with new chapter additions With the first edition prepared at the end of the last century and the second edition adding inter regional relations this new edition focuses on competing models of regional cooperation within a multipolar world and the role of the European Union European Union and New Regionalism Regional Actors and Global Governance in a Post-Hegemonic Era Mario Telò, 2014-08-01 Stemming from an international and multidisciplinary network of leading specialists this best selling text is fully updated with new chapter additions With the first edition prepared at the end of the last century and the second edition adding inter regional relations this new edition focuses on competing models of regional cooperation within a multipolar world and the role of European Union Interregionalism and the European Union Mario Telò, Louise Fawcett, Frederik Ponjaert, 2016-03-09 Is the EU isolated within the emergent multipolar world Concentrating on interregional relations and focussing on the European Union

New Regionalism or No Regionalism? Ruxandra Ivan,2016-04-29

The nation states in the Black Sea area have initiated many co operative policies but the area also sees numerous tensions between neighboring states The conflict co operation paradox along with ethnic fragmentation and shared culture are two of the most salient features of the Black Sea Area These paradoxes are not the only force in the evolution of the region though There are also issues such as ethnic and national identity the failure of democratization energy and resources as well as the influence of other powers such as Russia the EU and the USA The key questions asked by the authors in this book are to what extent is there an emerging regionalism in the Black Sea area Is the Black Sea a region What are the common interests shared by the former USSR states the three EU member states neighboring the Black Sea Bulgaria Greece and Romania and a NATO country Turkey Are the fault lines dividing them more pervasive than the incentives for cooperation Can we speak of a shared identity The first part of the book places the Black Sea problematique in a wider historical and spatial context The authors then take a closer look at the region and examine further the structure of the Black Sea area They offer a perspective on smaller actors with great ambitions such as Azerbaijan and Romania and go on to make a comparison between the emerging regionalism in the Black Sea area and regionalisms in other parts of the world
