Gehring, Marie-Claire Cordonier

Segger, 2005-01-01 In Johannesburg at the World Summit on Sustainable Development in 2002 over one hundred and eighty states assumed a collective responsibility to advance and strengthen the interdependent and mutually reinforcing pillars of sustainable development economic development social development an environmental protection at the local national regional and global levels This remarkable collection of papers sponsored by the Centre for International Sustainable Development Law CISDL demonstrates that sustainable development serves as a unifying concept with the potential to facilitate much needed respect for international law and timely implementation of diverse and overlapping international commitments It builds on the substance of a rich and complex debate at the intersections among economic social and environmental law bringing together a broad cross section of viewpoints and voices The authors review recent developments in WTO discussions and negotiations and in the recent decisions of the WTO Appellate Body from a sustainable development law perspective They also survey relevant new developments in trade and economic agreements at regional inter regional and bi lateral levels The various essays focus on sustainable development aspects of key issues in recent trade negotiations such as the Singapore Issues investment competition trade facilitation and government procurement intellectual property rights investment arbitration and the linkage between the WTO and multilateral environmental accords MEAs and s Among the specific topics covered are the following Emerging areas of law and policy in trade and sustainable development The underlying development agendas in global trade law negotiations Cooperation and potential negotiation on international competition law Sustainable development aspects of intellectual property rights negotiations Overlaps between multilateral environmental accords MEAs and the WTO Recent developments in WTO dispute settlement procedures and proceedings Human rights and environmental opportunities from trade liberalisation and increased market access Human rights and environment impact assessment techniques used to analyse trade agreements Recent developments in bilateral and regional trade agreements Trade investment and competition law practitioners and negotiators in developed and developing countries will find this book of great value as will development and environment law professionals with responsibility for trade and WTO law related matters With rich contributions from leading trade law practitioners academics and WTO panel and appellate body roster members Sustainable Developments in World Trade Law offers a constructive timely and accessible expert analysis of recent discussions and advances in the field providing an integrated and essential guide to some of the most important issues in international economic law today

Handbook on Integrated Assessment of Trade-related Measures, 2005 The World Summit on Sustainable Development has identified trade as a tool for achieving sustainable development and adopted a plan of action which includes elements aimed at reducing poverty changing unsustainable patterns of production and consumption and protecting and managing the environment and the natural resource base for economic and social development This handbook focuses on the agricultural sector and presents a range of economic environmental and social issues that can be taken into consideration when assessing the impact of trade related policies

The Political Economy of Foreign Aid to Pakistan Mumtaz Anwar, 2007 All political decision making processes reflect the interaction of different utility maximising actors politicians voters bureaucrats and interest groups Theoretical literature on the subject is not conclusive and thus far little empirical work exists This study presents an econometric analysis of the allocation of development aid to Pakistan based on a political economic framework of aid allocation Looking at bilateral and multilateral aid to Pakistan from 1960 to 2002 results suggest that aid flows to Pakistan are highly motivated by special interests within donor countries and international financial institutions IFIs Looking more specifically at bilateral aid and especially aid by the single largest donor to Pakistan i.e. the US analysis suggests that Pakistan and Indian ethnic lobbies could play a role in aid flows and in the passage of two important amendments the Pressler and Brown Amendments in US aid authorisation bills regarding aid to Pakistan Analysis of multilateral financial flows to Pakistan shows that Pakistan receives a large amount of lending but with considerable variations over time To some extent personal contacts of Pakistani international civil servants appear to play a role in multilateral lending to Pakistan along with major shareholders economic interests
