Acadian Reminiscences Felix Voorhies,2013-10-23 The Acadian Reminiscences is a word painting of the life of the Acadians in the Teche Country in the long ago The plain simple frugal life of these people their devotion to principle their unbound faith in the goodness of God their love for each other during all their misfortunes and perilous wanderings appeal to the heart The simple pathos of the grandmother s story comes to us with such consummate art that the eye unwittingly grows moist as the reader follows the journeyings of this little band self exiled and noble in their poverty from desolated homes on the bleak Acadian coast to their final destination in the hospitable valley of the Teche With them the Acadians we hear in their peaceful Acadian homes the first war cry that startles the country and shudder at the near approach of the cruel and merciless foe We hope against hope that God or man will interfere in their behalf till the dreaded day dawns on which they must decide whether or not they will be true to their God their King their country lose all and become wanderers on the face of the earth or sacrificing these supinely yield to Britain and continue to live at ease and in plenty in the homes of their youth and till the soil hallowed by the graves of their forefathers When these issues were presented to them much as they loved their homes and the land that gave them birth they cried out with one accord No no a thousand times Sacrifice our religion our King our country No let ruin desolation despair let death overtake us we cannot we will not give up those And so the die was cast In the utmost haste valuables were gathered together or thrown into wells objects of spoil were destroyed and they themselves applied the torch that soon reduced their beloved village to ashes In the darkness of the night lighted only by the lurid glare of their burning homes they left their devoted St Gabriel forever Andrew Thorpe from the Introduction

The Acadian Exiles Sir Arthur George Doughty, 1916     The Acadians James Laxer, 2010-05-14 An evocative and beautifully written history of some of Canada's earliest settlers and their search for a definitive home In 1604 a small group of migrants fled political turmoil and famine in France to start a new colony on Canada's east coast Their roughly demarcated territory included what are now Canada's Maritime provinces land that was fought over by the British and French empires until the Acadians were finally expelled in 1755 Their diaspora persists to this day The Acadians is the definitive history of a little known part of the North American past and the quintessential story of a people in search of their identity In the absence of a state what defines an Acadian is elusive and while today's Acadian community centred in New Brunswick is more confident than ever it is entering a contentious debate about its future James Laxer's compelling book brilliantly explores one of Canada's oldest and most distinct cultural groups and shows how their complex often tragic history reflects the larger problems facing Canada and the world today     Seeking an Acadian Nation Warren Perrin, Mary Perrin, 2019-11-11 Over the last two and a half centuries the Acadian Deportation and the epic poem Evangeline have defined the French speaking people known as Acadians After their tragic deportation by the British from their homeland Acadia now known as Nova Scotia those who re-settled in Louisiana are today called Cajuns American yet clearly distinct Seeking an Acadian Nation The 1930 Diary of an Evangeline Girl is a book based on the travel journal and scrapbook of Corinne Broussard a young woman from Breaux Bridge Louisiana who along with 24 other Evangeline Girls represented Louisiana in Canada for the 175th anniversary of the Deportation Here in Corinne's own words is the story of her adventure a 17 day 3 000 mile train trip called a pilgrimage by Sen Dudley J LeBlanc who spearheaded the trip and who was preparing to run for governor of Louisiana This was the first time a group of Cajuns returned to their ancestral homeland since the exile began in 1755 It could be considered the birth of the French Renaissance in Louisiana Beginning in the 1880s Acadian leaders in Canada began a movement to reunite all of the Acadians in the world based upon a common language religion genealogy and history This book has three parts first the efforts at reunification to create an Acadian Nation 1880 1930 second the pilgrimage to Grand Pr as reported in Corinne's diary with annotations 1930 and third the Louisiana French Renaissance 1930 present This narrative aligns Corinne's personal experiences with the Great Depression emerging women's rights religion prohibition and other forces reshaping the modern world in between the two world wars Her journal reveals how history can be gleaned from resources such as scrapbooks newspapers correspondence and diaries Although the diary and annotations are in English half of the 46 newspaper articles and other items in the scrapbook materials are in French

Acadian Reminiscences Felix Voorhies, 2017-05-08 Acadian Reminiscences depicting the True Life of Evangeline is a story centered about the life of the Acadians whose descendants are now residents of the Teche Country also known as the Land of Evangeline These people lived a pure and simple life with an unbounded devotion to their religion and with an unshakable faith in their God Their love for one another is unparalleled in the annals of human history to which may be attributed their fortitude and perseverance in their travels from Canada upon being expelled by the British to their chosen Land on the banks of Bayou Teche The author Judge Felix Voorhies relates the story as it was told to him by his grandmother The story begins by telling of the native land of these Acadians and of the village of St Gabriel from which they were driven when the French Province was surrendered to the British It tells of members of the same families being separated and placed aboard different ships and some never to see each other again The story tells of their landing in Maryland and after some time hearing that members of theirs and other families having landed in Louisiana This news brought encouragement and determination in face of great dangers to travel to the beautiful Land of the Teche The author was best able to present this story as it was handed down to him by word of mouth by his grandmother who adopted Evangeline when orphaned at an early age The writer repeats the story in a simple narrative manner characteristic of the Acadians To this day travelers may visit the quaint town of St Martinsville on the banks of Bayou Teche and pay their respects at the grave shrine of Evangeline and for a few fleeting moments live the life of these early settlers Because of the demands for this story and in tribute to Judge Felix Voorhies my grandfather a man of noble character staunch patriotism and unerring judgment I together with all members of the Voorhies family dedicate this book FELIX BIRNEY VOORHIES Table of Contents Introduction I Reminiscences II Acadian Manners and Customs III Rumors of War IV Threatening Clouds V Acadian Exiles VI A Night of Terror VII Generous Friends VIII Evangeline IX Louisiana
