Market in Postrevolutionary France Andrea Mansker,2024-12-15 Matchmaking and the Marriage Market in Postrevolutionary France uncovers the unexplored history of matrimonial agents their novel marketing tactics and the rise of personal advertisements to track the commercialization of marriage in nineteenth century France Brokers transformed courtship and marriage into forms of commercial exchange linking them to the burgeoning urban values of abundance pleasure and social mobility By studying agents and readers media fictions on love alongside court cases legislation and literature surrounding the industry Andrea Mansker reveals the intimate and socioeconomic pressures of finding a spouse At the same time she demonstrates how contemporaries used the business of matrimony to reimagine their public identities relationships and courtship rituals following unprecedented historical change due to the French Revolution and Napoleonic wars The matchmaking business both responded to and helped shape national anxieties over fluctuating nuptial rates and changing laws on marriage and divorce As a result marriage itself was reconceived as a commercial contract inseparable from the atomistic and corrupt marketplace The debates and pressures Mansker describes in Matchmaking and the Marriage Market in Postrevolutionary France are still relevant today As contemporary online daters likely understand the possibility of finding a mate in an expanded pool of candidates beyond one's family locality and nation offered individuals the liberating opportunity to explore new personas just as it produced a novel sense of danger about these impersonal transactions in the anonymous marketplace
