prove that he's a good guy after all. Putting his best foot forward, he treats her like royalty and is just what she needs to pull through the chaos that has recently become her life. But no matter how hard Angel loves her, Rio still has a piece of Leo's heart, a piece that just might land her in a life or death situation when Rio's dark side comes to light.

Food: The Good Girl's Drug
Sunny Sea Gold, 2011-04-05

Bingeing, compulsive eating, food addiction, emotional overeating: no matter what you call it, too many women wrestle day to day with what they eat. It's a love-hate relationship that always seems to be spiraling out of control. Food: The Good Girl's Drug is one recovered binge eater's attempt to inject some sanity back into the discussion about food, body image, and overeating. Sunny Sea Gold started fighting binge-eating disorder in her early teens. But books on the topic were often aimed at housewives with kids and a white picket fence: women she had a hard time relating to. What about the girls who found themselves using all their roommate's peanut butter, nibbling from the work refrigerator, or hiding a stash of chocolate from boyfriends and were too ashamed to say anything? Calling on top mental health professionals, nutritionists, and fitness experts, Sunny offers real advice to a new generation fighting an age-old war. With humor and compassion, Food: The Good Girl's Drug is about experiences shared by so many women, whether they've been struggling for years or have recently admitted to themselves that yes, it's more than just a bad habit.

The American Dream for Students of Color
Gretchen Givens Generett, Amy M. Olson, 2021-03-24

In The American Dream for Students of Color, the tenets of the American Dream as a merit narrative enacted in schools are examined to better understand how beliefs about talent, hard work, and perseverance support the status quo rather than critically analyze barriers to educational success for students of color and students from a poverty context. Using narrative methodologies, this book explores the connections and consistencies within and between their personal narratives and the narratives of school youth and educators that work with them. Based on analysis of these shared stories, the authors argue for the importance of moving from individualized success stories that reify hard work and perseverance to collective communal stories that serve to break down myths of meritocracy, critically examine inequities, and move educational advocates forward in authentic, audacious, hopeful ways.

The Autobiography of H. Lan Thao Lam
Lana Lin, 2025-09-30

Longlisted for the 2025 National Book Award in Nonfiction. Situated between memoir, social criticism, and conceptual art, The Autobiography of H. Lan Thao Lam is an incisive response to a modernist classic and an affecting exploration of the poetics and politics of our times. In her 1933 The Autobiography of Alice B. Toklas, Gertrude Stein invented a new literary form by narrating her own story from the perspective of her partner, blurring the lines between portrait and self-portrait. Almost a century later, experimental filmmaker and artist Lana Lin has resurrected Stein's project to tell a different story of queer love, life, and artistic collaboration. At heart, a candid chronicle of her partner Lan Thao's life journey from Viet Nam during the war and her own troubled history as a gender-queer Taiwanese American, Lin draws in subjects as varied as photography, cancer, tropical fruit, 9/11, and Eve Sedgwick's eyeglasses, weaving an intimate landscape of living that
