

A photograph of a woman with blonde hair hugging a young boy with brown hair. Both are smiling and looking down. The image has a soft, warm tone with a slight vignette effect.

To my stepson, I choose you.
And I'll choose you over and over. Without a doubt. In a heartbeat. I'll keep choosing you.

Bradley, 2021-11-29 From the time I was old enough to form my first memory my childhood was already headed down the inevitable path of dysfunction With divorce in the books and a new man in the house these events actually turned out to be the easy part The hard part was absolutely everything else that followed From the depths of addiction to the height of recovery From a life threatening diagnosis to the ultimate loss of a lifetime my story will take you through a journey of one mother's love for her two young boys and the relentless courage to protect us at any cost from the very danger that she unwittingly had a hand in creating It was a danger that would force us to disappear without a trace from the only home we ever knew to a small town that no one could even pronounce And as our lives were so quickly being turned upside down all reasons for this upheaval could only point to one thing the new man in the house As the secrets began to pile up there seemed to be far more questions than answers The pressure to keep these secrets from us would inevitably take its toll and by the time the truth was finally revealed the emotional damage had already been done No matter what degree of dysfunction that was dealt us as two innocent boys from Chicago thanks to our mother's unwavering love we always had one thing to hold on to hope Hope of a second chance Hope of a fresh start The hope of a better ending to our story than the tragic beginning we were so unfairly given The Correspondence of Reginald Pole Thomas F. Mayer, 2017-09-19 Reginald

Pole 1500-1558 cardinal and archbishop of Canterbury was at the centre of reform controversies in the mid 16th century antagonist of Henry VIII a leader of the reform group in the Roman Church and nearly elected pope Julius III was elected in his stead His voluminous correspondence more than 2500 items including letters to him forms a major source for historians not only of England but of Catholic Europe and the early Reformation as a whole In addition to the insight they provide on political history both secular and ecclesiastical and on the spiritual motives of reform they also constitute a great resource for our understanding of humanist learning and cultural patronage in the Renaissance Hitherto there has been no comprehensive let alone modern or accurate listing and analysis of this correspondence in large part due to the complexity of the manuscript traditions and the difficulties of legibility The present work makes this vast body of material accessible to the researcher summarising each letter and printing key texts usually in critical editions together with necessary identification and comment The first three volumes in this set will contain the correspondence the fourth and fifth will provide a biographical companion to all persons mentioned and will together constitute a major research tool in their own right This first volume covers the crucial turning point in Pole s career his protracted break with Henry and the substitution of papal service for royal One major dimension of this rupture was a profound religious conversion which took Pole to the brink of one of the defining moments of the Italian Reformation the writing of the Beneficio di Christo

Delaney,2011-12-06 So for centuries your people have worked as farmers and hunters knowing the future would roll down to the end days prophecied by the Mayan culture like a run away freight train Sue asked Yes it is true Frank replied We didnt have much choice we had to keep body and soul together until the end days We rocked along for centuries working in the fields and hunting We domesticated fowl eating their meat and eggs We were all small communities and lived in simple dwellings that were relatively easy to repair If we suffered natural disasters like earthquakes and tornadoes that destroyed our homes we cleared away the rubble and started over Then we came up on the twentieth century and everything got different We went through a surge of creating new inventions We learned to fly and made electricity toilets that flushed fancy cell phones and the internet Suddenly there wasnt anything happening on the planet we didnt know about Weve become complacent now and a hundred years after the inventions came our fancy inventions are beginning to crumble We got so we depended on the economy The monetary system took over Men became greedy and pulled and tugged at the proceeds from Wall Street until it all began to unravel They created bigger and better weapons not where you had your enemy in your sights but you could take out whole cities at a time The Hopi tell in their prophecies of villages in metal and glass canyons where a man could walk all day and never see the horizon One day someone would push a button and where a city had been there would just be steam The people would have no choice but to just walk away if they survived We are getting to be like the Olmecs and Mayans and Aztecs who couldnt feed their people because their population and their cities got too big and they had to abandon them Its not impossible New York could become an abandoned city It could happen They could just walk away In the twentieth century for the first time skirmishes became world wars The young men left the land their forefathers defended and went to lose their blood and their lives defending someone elses land One day soon we will lose all our fancy toys to the end of the age of electricity and technology and succumb to sunspots that will devastate communications Our forefathers never knew sunspots existed
