Social Work in Higher Education Karen Lyons, 2019-01-22 First published in 1999 in the light of recent moves towards deprofessionalisation and instrumentalism Karen Lyons has conducted extensive research into the challenges facing social work training as a higher education discipline Here these challenges are located in a discussion of wider changes in both higher education and the personal social services and are also linked to debates about professional education and the nature of knowledge The analysis is based on original data and includes reference to pedagogical and cultural factors and to internal and external policies which might make social work viable or vulnerable in the higher education context This multi disciplinary perspective reflects a characteristic of social work study itself a quality which might be seen as either problematic or as a strength The book concludes that while the future scale and form of the social work subject area lie partly outside the control of social work educators they have a key role to play in the development of the discipline This includes the promotion of research which should underpin the creation of knowledge and inform professional practice in the changing field of personal social services

Reflecting on Social Work - Discipline and Profession Karen Lyons, 2017-03-02 Social work has always been a contested activity and its status as an academic discipline remains uncertain There is currently renewed interest in the theoretical and research dimensions of social work at a time when significant changes in the broad social political and economic context in which practice takes place require a re evaluation of social work's role and a re examination of its identity This timely book brings together leading social work academics to examine the state of social work at the beginning of the 21st century With their focus on the relationships between research theory and practice they reflect critically on the nature of social work as a discipline in higher education and the importance of this to the profession as a whole The book represents an exploratory conversation among social work academics about the current state and future aspirations of the discipline and the profession It aims to stimulate wider debate about the dominant constraints and opportunities for social work in the 21st century
