European Union Law Law In A Box S:

European Union Law Robert Schütze, 2015-04-02 Provides a clear yet rigorous coverage of all the core topics of EU law with numerous case extracts and one hundred visual aids Research Handbook on the Economics of European Union Law Thomas Eger, Hans-Bernd Schöfer, 2012-01-01 This comprehensive volume comprises original essays by authors well known for their work on the European Union Together they provide the reader with an economic analysis of the most important elements of EU law and the mechanisms for decisions within the EU The Handbook focuses particularly on how the development of EU law negotiates the tension between market integration national sovereignty and political democracy The book begins with chapters examining constitutional issues while further chapters address the establishment of a single market The volume also addresses sovereign debt problems by providing a detailed analysis of the architecture of the EU's monetary institutions its monetary policy and their implications The depth and breadth of the Handbook's coverage make it an essential reference for students scholars and policymakers interested in the complexities of the European Union

European Union Law Catherine Barnard, Steve Peers, 2020 This text offers students a relevant case focused account of EU law Under the experienced editorship of Catherine Barnard and Steve Peers it draws together a range of perspectives on EU law designed to introduce students to the key debates and case law which shape this vast subject Oxford Principles of European Union Law Robert Schütze, Takis Tridimas, 2018-02-23 Since the 1957 Rome Treaty the European Union has changed dramatically in terms of its composition scope and depth Originally established by six Western European States the EU today has 28 Members and covers almost the entire European continent and while initially confined to establishing a common market the EU has come to influence all areas of political economic and social life In parallel with this enormous geographic and thematic expansion the constitutional and legislative principles underpinning the European Union have constantly evolved This three volume study aims to provide an authoritative academic treatment of European Union law Written by leading scholars and practitioners each chapter offers a comprehensive and critical assessment of the state of the law Doctrinal in presentation each volume nonetheless tries to present a broader historical and comparative perspective Volume I provides an analysis of the constitutional principles governing the European Union It covers the history of the EU the constitutional foundations the institutional framework legislative and executive governance judicial protection and external relations Volume II explores the structure of the internal market while Volume III finally analyses the internal and external substantive policies of the EU Variations on a theme? The implementation of the EWC Recast Directive Romuald Jagodzinski, 2015-09-30 Since 1994 the EU has established mechanisms for information and consultation procedures for workers in transnational companies European Works Councils Directive 94/45/EC In 2009 the EWC Directive was reviewed and amended Recast EWC Directive 2009/38/EC The year 2016 will see the formal conclusion of a new evaluation procedure designed to ascertain whether the improvements of 2009 have had any impact on the EWC's conditions of operation and whether any further amendments should be considered This book assesses in detail the ways in which key improvements brought about by the 2009 EWC Recast Directive have been implemented in national legislation The authors of the book have looked into the national transposition legislation of the 31 countries of the European Economic Area The findings are very relevant for EU policy making and for practitioners to deal with differing national legislative regimes The Architecture of Fundamental Rights in the European Union Šejla Imamovic,2022-02-10 This book analyses the new architecture for the protection of fundamental rights in Europe after the entry into force of the Lisbon Treaty As a starting point it identifies how the EU has gained a prominent role in promoting and protecting fundamental rights at European level despite the absence of an unlimited mandate to address fundamental rights violations This new setting affects the traditional relationship between the EU the ECHR system and the Member States and in the absence of EU accession to the ECHR enhances the risk of tensions and conflicts between the case law of the two European Courts Examples of these tensions and conflicts are explored in the Area of Freedom Security and Justice which is one of the most fundamental rights sensitive areas of EU law and one of the busiest areas of activity for the CJEU The book offers new insights into existing rules on the resolution of conflicts between EU and ECHR law before mapping out techniques actually used by domestic courts to avoid or address such conflicts Strategic Environmental Assessment in International and European Law Simon

Marsden,2012-05-16 Strategic environmental assessment SEA is a regulatory requirement for development across Europe North America Australasia and elsewhere yet understanding the legal aspects is challenging This comprehensive guide provides that understanding in a clear and straightforward way The introduction considers SEA and the law explaining what SEA is why it is needed how it works and why it is required as well as examining the role of the law Part One provides an overview of international law environmental impact assessment EIA and international law including treaties customary international law and soft law relevant to SEA It analyses the Kiev SEA Protocol and related UNECE conventions the Espoo Convention on EIA in a Transboundary Context and the Aarhus Convention on Access to Information Public Participation and Access to Justice in Environmental Matters It also analyses the role of SEA in conservation conventions Part Two considers how the European legal system works including an overview of the current status of European law It examines the EIA Directive and SEA Directive together with other relevant directives and regulations such as the Habitats and Wild Birds Directives the Water Framework Directive the Public Participation for Plans and Programmes Directive and the Structural Funds Regulations Finally the volume draws conclusions about the relationship and comparisons between international and European law generally and in regulating SEA Cases and Materials on EU Law Stephen Weatherill,2014 The 11th edition of this respected book provides a valuable selection of significant cases and legislation and an engaging range of carefully selected extracts all of which are presented alongside insightful author notes in an easy to use and accessible format Handbook on European Union Public Administration Gijs J. Brandsma,2024-05-02 This Handbook introduces the institutions organisations and policy processes that make up EU public administration including those that typically operate beneath the surface and critically reviews the state of the art in research Paying close attention to the multi level nature of EU governance it is a vital resource for graduate and postgraduate students in the disciplines of European studies political science and EU law This title contains one or more Open Access chapters EU Trade and Investment Treaty-Making Post-Lisbon Gesa Kübek,2024-06-27 This book offers the first thorough legal analysis of the practice of mixity since the Lisbon Treaty providing the perspectives of international EU and national law It sets out a detailed theoretical understanding of mixity the common commercial policy and the recent case law of the EU Court of Justice It assesses recent practice and current challenges such as the non ratification of mixed agreements ensuring parliamentary participation in EU treaty making the new architecture for concluding EU trade and investment agreements as well as the new trade agreement between the EU and the UK post Brexit In so doing the author argues that in the field of trade and investment mixity is no longer a procedural technique to overcome legal uncertainties about competence allocations between the EU and the Member States Instead mixity has become a deliberate substantive design choice This brings a fresh and innovative perspective to a key tenet of EU external relations law The Constitutional Dimension of European Criminal Law Ester Herlin-Karnell,2012-05-31 Criminal law is one of the most rapidly changing areas of contemporary EU law and integration The Treaty of Lisbon has elevated it to a central place in the constitution of the EU within the dynamic area of freedom security and justice The phenomenon of EU criminal law as such is however far from new but has developed on an ad hoc basis not least as a result of the case law of the European Court of Justice Central to the Court s reasoning in this area has been the principle of effectiveness A main theme running through the book is therefore the role of the axiom of effectiveness which is critically examined with particular attention to its use by the European Court of Justice in recent leading cases This book explores the constitutional principles underlying it both those determining the substantive values it embodies and those determining its scope and extent Other chapters consider the phenomenon of preventative criminalisation at EU level and the protection of subsidiarity and proportionality in EU criminal law The balance between effective EU action proper control of competence and adequate protection of individual rights is of growing importance as EU criminal law expands but as this book suggests has not yet been fully articulated or entrenched by the institutions of the EU Innovative Approaches to EU Multilevel Implementation Eva Thomann,Fritz Sager,2019-10-23 Multi level governance systems like the European Union EU calibrate integration with member state discretion in order to implement common yet context sensitive solutions to shared policy problems Research on implementation in the EU typically focuses on legal compliance with EU policy However this focus gives us an incomplete picture of EU implementation its diversity and practice The contributions of this collection represent a shift toward a more performance oriented perspective on EU implementation as problem solving They approach implementation fundamentally as a process of interpretation of superordinate law by actors who are embedded within multiple contexts arising from the coexistence of dynamics of Europeanization on the one hand and what has been termed domestication on the other. Moving beyond legal compliance, the contributions provide new evidence on the diversity of domestic responses to EU policy, the roles and motivations of actors implementing EU policy, and the black box of EU law in action and its enforcement. By reassessing the relative importance of EU policy and domestic factors and actors for the outcomes of EU implementation, the results give insight into the nuanced interplay between Europeanization and domestication forces useful for both EU researchers and practitioners. The chapters, originally published as a special issue in the Journal of European Public Policy, The External Dimension of the EU's Migration Policy (Katharina Eisele, 2014-05-08). In recent years, the EU has been active in developing a common European immigration policy in cooperation with third countries and in building an external dimension of such an EU policy. The linkages between the EU's external relations and migration policies have influenced the distinct legal positions of third country nationals and non-EU nationals. This book critically discusses whether the EU's objective of creating a common EU migration policy can be achieved against the backdrop of a highly fragmented EU framework for migration law and policy, and it argues that it is difficult to speak of one single unitary group of third country nationals forming the counterpart to EU citizens.

Responsible business conduct in the avocado industry: a guide for producers and exporters (Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2024-06-13). This guide aims to support growers and businesses operating in the global avocado industry in their efforts to implement responsible business conduct (RBC) practices to improve the sustainability of their operations. By committing to RBC and implementing due diligence processes, these businesses can avoid social conflicts and environmental damage, which will also help to minimize financial losses and maintain long-term profitability. Responsible business conduct helps to identify, prioritize, and deal with problems as they arise rather than waiting for them to grow bigger or be discovered by others. The purpose of this guide is to strengthen the capacity of avocado producing, packing, and exporting businesses and associations, including small and medium-sized companies, to begin their RBC journey by implementing Step 2 of the due diligence process, i.e., identify and prioritize risks of negative impacts. The guide also discusses ways to address these risks to implement Step 3: Cease, remedy, prevent, and/or mitigate risks. The guide builds on the OECD-FAO Guidance for Responsible Agricultural Supply Chains and provides references to many other useful resources. It was developed by the Responsible Fruits Project with support from the Government of Germany.

Mass data surveillance and predictive policing (Plixavra Vogiatzoglou, 2025-01-29). This book critically assesses legal frameworks involving the bulk processing of personal data initially collected by the private sector to predict and prevent crime through advanced profiling technologies. In the European Union, EU mass data surveillance currently engages three sectors: electronic communications under the ePrivacy Directive, air travelling under the Passenger Name Records Directive, and finance under the Anti-Money Laundering Directive, and increasingly intersects with the deployment of predictive policing techniques. The book questions the legitimacy and impact of these frameworks in light of the EU's powers to provide security while safeguarding fundamental rights particularly privacy data protection effective remedy fair trial and presumption of innocence Focusing on the security shift towards forestalling crime before it occurs the book identifies its distinct characteristics such as the blurred lines between the public and private sector actors and interrogates whether the legal bases and traditional theories on security can account for it The book further explores the challenges these pre crime practices pose including their questionable effectiveness and the ambiguous application of human rights safeguards in situations where no crime has been committed yet individuals face consequences as a result of deploying predictive analytics on mass amounts of commercially collected personal data In examining the interference with several fundamental rights the book also highlights aspects neglected by the jurisprudence of the Court of Justice of the European Union and the European Court of Human Rights such as the expansive nature and the collective and cumulative effects of these frameworks

Empowerment and Disempowerment of the European Citizen Michael Dougan, Niamh Nic Shuibhne, Eleanor Spaventa, 2012-11-05 This collection of essays engages with a central theme in scholarship on EU citizenship the emancipation of certain citizens the alienation of others and seeks to expand its horizons to interrogate whether similar debates and trends can be identified in other fields of European integration The focus of the book is distinctly citizen focused It delivers the potential for the opening out of analysis of the implications of European citizenship beyond the parameters of Articles 18-25 TFEU and beyond the disciplinary confines of legal analysis alone The book construes EU citizenship in its broadest sense and explores the extent to which the European citizen is or indeed is not genuinely at the heart of EU law and policy making Within the broader theme of empowerment and disempowerment the contributors reflect on a range of cross cutting themes for example the extent to which channels of citizen participation can inform EU policy making in a bottom up sense or whether the EU is a catalyst for the construction of new spaces and new identities

A European Social Union after the Crisis Frank Vandenbroucke, Catherine Barnard, Geert De Baere, 2017-08-24 The first book to examine the social and economic arguments for and the legal feasibility of a European Social Union
