European Writers:

European Writers in Exile Robert C. Hauhart, Jeff Birkenstein, 2018-10-26 European Writers in Exile collects a series of original essays that address the writers universal existential dilemma when viewed through the lens of exile who am I where am I from and what do I write and to whom While we often understand the term exile to refer to writers who have either been forced to leave their home country or region or chosen self exile this term need not be defined so narrowly and the contributors to this volume explore a range of interesting and evolving definitions Various countries in Europe have long been both a refuge for people and writers from many countries and a strife torn region which has forced many to flee within the continent or beyond it The phrase in exile involves writers moving across borders in multiple directions and for multiple reasons including for reasons of duress or personal quest and these themes are addressed and critiqued in these essays This volume naturally examines the cataclysmic and near universal exilic experiences relating to the world wars including essays on Thomas Mann Vladimir Nabokov Hannah Arendt and Leo Strauss Additionally essays address the unique early twentieth century experiences of Emile Zola Franz Kafka Joseph Conrad and James Joyce More contemporary essay subjects include Milan Kundera Norman Manea Eva Hoffman Caryl Phillips and W G Sebald This collection of transnational globalized European literature studies envisions understanding the intersection of our contemporary world and various writers in exile in new cultural historical spatial and epistemological frameworks How does literary production in an increasingly globalized world when seen from exile affect a view back towards a country or region left behind Or conversely how does exile push a writer to look outward to new trans nationalized space s These and other questions are important to investigate Taken in sum European Writers in Exile offers an academically rigorous important and cohesive volume

European Writers William Thomas Hobdell Jackson, George Stade, 1983 Covers writers who have made significant contributions to European literature Includes in depth critical and biographical analysis

Columbia Dictionary of Modern European Literature Jean Albert Bédé, William Benbow Edgerton, 1980 With more than 1800 critical entries on the writers and literatures of 33 languages this work presents the entire range of modern European writing from the symbolist and modernist works rooted in the last decades of the nineteenth century through the avant garde and existentialist movement to Barthes Blanchot Breton and continental thought pertinent today

Books and Archives Caroline Keane, Poland. Ministerstwo Kultury i Sztuki, Council of Europe, Polish Chamber of Books, 1997-01-01 On cover Books archives Conference organised by the Council of Europe in co operation with the Polish Chamber of Books and the Ministry of Culture and Fine Arts of the Republic of Poland

The Exile and Return of Writers from East-Central Europe John Neubauer, Borbála Zsuzsanna Török, 2009-10-28 This is the first comparative study of literature written by writers who fled from East Central Europe during the twentieth century It includes not only interpretations of individual lives and literary works but also studies of the most important literary journals publishers radio programs and other aspects of exile literary cultures The theoretical part of introduction distinguishes between exiles migrants and expatriates while the historical part surveys the pre twentieth century exile traditions and provides an overview of the exilic events between 1919 and 1995 one section is devoted to exile cultures in Paris London and New York as well as in Moscow Madrid Toronto Buenos Aires and other cities The studies focus on the factional divisions within each national exile culture and on the relationship between the various exiled national cultures among each other They also investigate the relation of each exile national culture to the culture of its host country Individual essays are devoted to Witold Gombrowicz Paul Goma Milan Kundera Monica Lovinescu Milo Crnjanski Herta and Paul Miller and to the internal exile of Imre Kertész Special attention is devoted to the new forms of exile that emerged during the ex Yugoslav wars and to the problems of homecoming of exiled texts and writers

Frontier Orientalism and the Turkish Image in Central European

Literature Charles D. Sabatos, 2020-01-02 This comparative study analyzes the ways that Central European writers used stereotypes of the Turks to develop their national identities from the early modern period to the present Charles D Sabatos uses Andre Gingrich's concept of frontier Orientalism to foreground his analysis of Central European Orientalism designating the nations of the former Habsburg Empire as the occident and the Turks as the oriental Other This study applies theoretical approaches to literary history as developed by scholars such as Stephen Greenblatt and Linda Hutcheon to a range of texts from the early modern period the nineteenth century national revivals interwar independence and the communist and postsocialist regimes By following these depictions across literatures and over an extensive historical period this study illustrates how the Turkish stereotype evolved from a menace to a more abstract yet still powerful metaphor of resistance and finally to a mythical figure that evoked humor as often as fear

Lateness and Modern European Literature Ben

Hutchinson, 2016 Modern European literature has traditionally been seen as a series of attempts to assert successive styles of writing as new In this groundbreaking study Ben Hutchinson argues that literary modernity can in fact be understood not as that which is new but as that which is late Exploring the ways in which European literature repeatedly defines itself through a sense of senescence or epigonality Hutchinson shows that the shifting manifestations of lateness since romanticism express modernity's continuing quest for legitimacy With reference to a wide range of authors from Mary Shelley Chateaubriand and Immermann via Baudelaire Henry James and Nietzsche to Valéry Djuna Barnes and Adorno he combines close readings of canonical texts with historical and theoretical comparisons of numerous national contexts Out of this broad comparative sweep emerges a taxonomy of lateness of the diverse ways in which modern writers can be understood in the words of Nietzsche as creatures facing backwards Ambitious and original Lateness and Modern European Literature offers a significant new model for understanding literary modernity

Anti-Americanism in European Literature J.

Gulddal, 2011-12-19 Pursues the hypothesis that fictional literature has been instrumental in the development and dissemination of European anti Americanism from the early 1800s to today Focusing on Britain France and Germany it offers analyses of a range of canonical literary works in which resentful hostility towards the United States is a predominant feature

A History of European Literature Theo D'haen, Anders Pettersson, 2025-09-05 An ideal introduction and a reliable guide for students and teachers of European literature Uniquely broad in both geographic and chronological scope A History of European Literature introduces students to the origins influences and historical development of European poetry drama and fictional prose Authors Theo D haen and Anders Pettersson provide an easily accessible narrative history of European literature while contextualizing the cultural material and intellectual conditions in which literary works were produced and experienced Assuming only minimal familiarity with the subject this student friendly textbook explores European literature in its many manifestations starting from its origins in European antiquity through the Medieval period and early modern Europe to the opening years of the twenty first century Clear jargon free chapters contain a wealth of citations from both well known and lesser known works of European literature including Greek and Roman oratory and philosophy early Christian literature literary expressions of Enlightenment thought secular non classical drama eighteenth century novels modernist poetry and many more Providing a balanced and up to date foundation in the literary tradition of Europe A History of European Literature From Antiquity to the Present Offers a comprehensive yet highly readable survey of more than two millennia of European literary history Presents a consistent and unified view of European literary history by two leading scholars in the field Discusses the cross connections and mutual influences between Europe and other cultural and literary traditions Highlights the differences between ancient and modern concepts of literary production and reception Includes coverage of writers in European languages who were born elsewhere but active in Europe Integrating contemporary literary theory throughout including postmodern and postcolonial perspectives A History of European Literature From Antiquity to the Present is the perfect textbook for undergraduate and graduate courses in Comparative Literature European Literature and World Literature as well as relevant courses in Cultural Studies History and European Studies programs

Essays on European Literature Ernst Robert Curtius, 2015-03-08 Although the reputation of the great German scholar Ernst Robert Curtius was firmly established for English and American readers by the translation of European Literature and the Latin Middle Ages much of his work is still unknown to them These twenty four essays written over a period of nearly thirty years range widely in time and scope and consider some of the greatest figures in European literature among them Virgil Goethe Balzac Joyce Eliot Ortega y Gasset and Hesse The essays show the qualities that made Curtius one of the great critics of our age his lucid penetrating mind his comprehensive erudition his cosmopolitan outlook and above all his passionate concern for European culture Like T S Eliot the subject of one of his finest essays Curtius believed in an ideal order a cultural unity of the West The unifying element in all these essays is a concern to insure the conservation and continuance of European humanistic culture For him this culture consisted of the literary heritage of Greece and Rome developed and enriched by the Christian civilization of the Middle Ages Consequently he selected for discussion those poets and writers who have been conscious of the unity of these two European currents and who have striven to maintain it in our time As he ranged freely through the languages and literatures of all Western cultures Curtius himself did much to preserve this tradition to demonstrate its relevance and insure its continuity Originally published in 1973 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Hidden Multilingualism in 19th-Century European Literature Jana-Katharina Mende, 2023-08-21 The disparagement of multilingualism is a European development of the 18th and 19th centuries in which one national language and national literature were advocated established and institutionalised Multilingual writers made use of the creative potential of several languages even then However they often adapted to an increasingly monolingual book market which made their individual multilingualism invisible This is evident in literary historiography which established a monolingual national canon Researching hidden multilingualism is often difficult since multilingual texts by multilingual writers were often not published or were published in a monolingual version sources are scarce Literary histories of the time often do not mention multilingualism Furthermore many multilingual writers were members of minority groups women Jewish Non European and thus often neglected The volume offers methods and theories to systematically approach this hidden material as well as case studies on authors and national literatures in a multilingual context It thus contributes to the restructuring of a multilingual transnational literary history that is applicable to different philologies

European Literature from Romanticism to Postmodernism Martin Travers, 2006-08-15 An anthology of key theoretical writings by the major representatives of the schools and movements of European literature Each chapter in this book is devoted to one particular school of movement from within a body of literature from romanticism realism and modernism through to the literature of political engagement of the 1920s and 1930s

A Hand-book of Modern European Literature Margaret E. Foster, 1850
