Eusebius Christianity And Judaism:

Eusebius, Christianity, and Judaism Harold W. Attridge, Gōhei Hata, 1992 Scholars of the history and literature of Christianity and Judaism explore the life and enduring contributions of Eusebius of Caesarea an important writer and historian from the early fourth century The essays focus on elements of the story that Eusebius tells the story of the early church its re Eusebius and the Jewish Authors Sabrina Inowlocki, 2018-12-10 Eusebius and the Jewish Authors examines Eusebius of Caesarea's use of non biblical Jewish texts e g Philo Josephus Aristobulus in his Praeparatio evangelica and Demonstratio evangelica In the first part Sabrina Inowlocki looks at the citation process in Ancient Greek Literature and in Eusebius own double apologetic work She also analyzes Eusebius conception of Judaism The second part is devoted to a detailed study of Eusebius methodology in appropriating these texts from both a philological and a philosophical theological perspective Through the lens of his exploitation of Jewish quotations this book defies the traditional perception of Eusebius as being a mere compiler and nuances the manner in which his presentation of the relation between Judaism and Christianity is often seen This study will be very useful to readers interested in the reception of Jewish texts in Christian literature in the relations between Judaism and Christianity and in Christian apologetics This translation was made possible through a generous grant from the Fondation Universitaire in Brussels www.fondationuniversitaire.be Eusebius of Caesarea Against Paganism Arie H. Kofsky, 2002-01-01 Eusebius was more than a mere collector of history He was a vigorous apologist and polemicist in his own right Kofsky encourages us to take seriously Eusebius's efforts against the pagan assailants of the Christianity of his time This publication has also been published in hardback please click here for details

Jewish-Christianity and the History of Judaism Annette Yoshiko Reed, 2018-07-12 Jewish Christianity is a contested category in current research But for precisely this reason it may offer a powerful lens through which to rethink the history of Jewish Christian relations Traditionally Jewish Christianity has been studied as part of the origins and early diversity of Christianity Collecting revised versions of previously published articles together with new materials Annette Yoshiko Reed reconsiders Jewish Christianity in the context of Late Antiquity and in conversation with Jewish studies She brings further attention to understudied texts and traditions from Late Antiquity that do not fit neatly into present day notions of Christianity as distinct from Judaism In the process she uses these materials to probe the power and limits of our modern assumptions about religion and identity Eusebius Eusebius, 2012-02-01 This highly affordable paperback edition includes Maier's best selling translation historical commentary on each book of The Church History and numerous maps and illustrations Jews and Christians in the First and Second Centuries: Mapping the Second Century, 2024-09-16 The second century is a crucial period for the formation of both Judaism and Christianity but remains in important ways terra incognita This volume brings together specialists in Jewish studies and Christian studies two closely related disciplines that nonetheless continue to operate in relative isolation Taking into consideration the full panoply of Jewish and Christian identities the volume proposes fresh ways to map the interrelated histories of Jews and Christians Contributions by leading scholars offer new insights into this period informed by a rich variety of perspectives including theoretical literary thematic and material approaches Eusebius as Church Historian Robert M. Grant,2006-11-01 This study casts some light on Eusebius and his times by tracing or trying to trace modifications in his views as expressed in the Church History Everyone agrees that such modifications can be found in Books VIII X This study seeks to find them in the first seven books as well It does not make much difference whether we are illuminating the first quarter of the fourth century or in addition the last years of the third century In either case our sources for the history of Christianity are so meagre that closer analysis can only prove helpful And whether or not one agrees with every detail of the portrait of Eusebius that begins to emerge it is at least a picture of a human being neither a saint nor intentionally a scoundrel Eusebius' work is important not just because of the documents he used but because of the ways in which he used them These ways illuminate the history of the Christian Church in one of its most important transitions a transition in which Eusebius himself played a prominent part adapted from the concluding chapter Studies in Josephus And the Varieties of Ancient Judaism Louis H. Feldman,Shaye J. D. Cohen,Joshua J. Schwartz,2007 This collection of articles honoring eminent classicist and historian Louis H Feldman brings together a host of prominent scholars from all over the world writing on such fields as biblical interpretation Judaism and Hellenism Jews and Gentiles Josephus Jewish Literatures of the Second Temple Mishnah and Talmud periods History of the Mishnah and Talmud periods Jerusalem and much more Christianity in Relation to Jews, Greeks, and Romans Everett Ferguson,1999 First published in 1999 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informal company From Anti-Judaism to Anti-Semitism Robert Chazan,2016-12-24 From its earliest days Christianity has viewed Judaism and Jews ambiguously Given its roots within the Jewish community of first century Palestine there was much in Judaism that demanded Church admiration and praise however as Jews continued to resist Christian truth there was also much that had to be condemned Major Christian thinkers of antiquity while disparaging their Jewish contemporaries for rejecting Christian truth depicted the Jewish past and future in balanced terms identifying both positives and negatives Beginning at the end of the first millennium an increasingly large Jewish community started to coalesce across rapidly developing northern Europe becoming the object of intense popular animosity and radically negative popular imagery The portrayals of the broad trajectory of Jewish history offered by major medieval European intellectual leaders became increasingly negative as well The popular animosity and the negative intellectual formulations were bequeathed to the modern West which had tragic consequences in the twentieth century In this book Robert Chazan traces the path that began as anti Judaism evolved into heightened medieval hatred and fear of Jews and culminated in modern anti-Semitism Making Christian History Michael Hollerich,2021-06-22 Known as the Father of Church History Eusebius was bishop of Caesarea in Palestine and the leading Christian scholar of his day His Ecclesiastical History is an irreplaceable chronicle of Christianity's early development from its origin in Judaism through two and a half centuries of illegality and occasional persecution to a new era of tolerance and favor under the Emperor Constantine In this book Michael J Hollerich recovers the reception of this text across time As he shows Eusebius adapted classical historical writing for a new nation the Christians with a distinctive theo political vision Eusebius s text left its mark on Christian historical writing from late antiquity to the early modern period across linguistic cultural political and religious boundaries until its encounter with modern historicism and postmodernism Making Christian History demonstrates Eusebius s vast influence throughout history not simply in shaping Christian culture but also when falling under scrutiny as that culture has been reevaluated reformed and resisted over the past 1 700 years Christianity, Empire, and the Making of Religion in Late Antiquity Jeremy M. Schott, 2013-04-23 In Christianity Empire and the Making of Religion in Late Antiquity Jeremy M Schott examines the ways in which conflicts between Christian and pagan intellectuals over religious ethnic and cultural identity contributed to the transformation of Roman imperial rhetoric and ideology in the early fourth century C E During this turbulent period which began with Diocletian s persecution of the Christians and ended with Constantine s assumption of sole rule and the consolidation of a new Christian empire Christian apologists and anti Christian polemicists launched a number of literary salvos in a battle for the minds and souls of the empire Schott focuses on the works of the Platonist philosopher and anti Christian polemicist Porphyry of Tyre and his Christian respondents the Latin rhetorician Lactantius Eusebius bishop of Caesarea and the emperor Constantine Previous scholarship has tended to narrate the Christianization of the empire in terms of a new religion s penetration and conquest of classical culture and society The present work in contrast seeks to suspend the static essentializing conceptualizations of religious identity that lie behind many studies of social and political change in late antiquity in order to investigate the processes through which Christian and pagan identities were constructed Drawing on the insights of postcolonial discourse analysis Schott argues that the production of Christian identity and in turn the construction of a Christian imperial discourse were intimately and inseparably linked to the broader politics of Roman imperialism T&T Clark Handbook of the Early Church Ilaria L.E. Ramelli, J.A. McGuckin, Piotr Ashwin-Siejkowski, 2021-12-16 Exploring the key documents authors and themes of Early Christian traditions this volume traces the vital trajectories of emerging distinctive Christian identity in the Graeco Roman world Special attention is given to the coherent growth of Christian faith in connection with worship alongside the crucial transformation of Christian life and doctrine under the Christian Emperors As well as offering a chronological development of the Early Church the book examines the interaction between Christian worship and faith In addition readers interested in systematic theology can refer to chapters on the roots of some significant theological notions in Christian Antiquity also with reference to ancient philosophy Issues addressed include Distinctiveness of the Christian identity during the first centuries Diversity of communities and their theologies Connection between faith and worship Transition from the persecuted minority to triumphant Church with Creeds History of early Christian thought and modern systematic theology Jewish Traditions in Early Christian Literature, Volume 3 Philo in Early Christian Literature Douwe (David) Runia, 1993-01-01 It is a remarkable fact that the writings of Philo the Jew from Alexandria were preserved because they were taken up in the Christian tradition But the story of how this process of reception and appropriation took place has never been systematically researched In this book the author first examines how Philo's works are related to the New Testament and the earliest Christian writing and then how they were used by Greek and Latin church fathers up to 400 c e with special attention to the contributions of Clement Origen Didymus Eusebius Gregory of Nyssa Ambrose and Augustine Philo in Early Christian Literature is a valuable guide to the state of scholarly research on a subject that has thus far been investigated in a rather piecemeal fashion Philo of Alexandria and the Construction of Jewishness in Early Christian Writings Jennifer Otto, 2018-05-03 Philo of Alexandria and the Construction of Jewishness in Early Christian Writings investigates portrayals of the first century philosopher and exegete Philo of Alexandria in the writings of Clement of Alexandria Origen and Eusebius It argues that early Christian invocations of Philo are best understood not as attempts simply to claim an illustrious Jew for the Christian fold but as examples of ongoing efforts to define the continuities and distinctive features of Christian beliefs and practices in relation to those of the Jews This study takes as its starting point the curious fact that none of the first three Christians to mention Philo refer to him unambiguously as a Jew Clement the first in the Christian tradition to openly cite Philo's works refers to him twice as a Pythagorean Origen who mentions Philo by name only three times makes far more frequent reference to him in the guise of an anonymous one who came before us Eusebius who invokes Philo on many more occasions than does Clement or Origen most often refers to Philo as a Hebrew These epithets construct Philo as an alternative near other to both Christians and Jews through whom ideas and practices may be imported to the former from the latter all the while establishing boundaries between the Christian and Jewish ways of life The portraits of Philo offered by each author reveal ongoing processes of difference making and difference effacing that constituted not only the construction of the Jewish other but also the Christian self Early Christian Attitudes Toward Images Steven Bigham, Stéphane Bigham, 2004 For all iconophiles that is those who accept the dogma of the Seventh Ecumenical Council but especially the Orthodox who claim that the icon has a sacramental and mystical character it is naturally disquieting to hear the claim that the early Christians were aniconic and iconophobic If this claim is true the theology and the veneration of the icon are seriously undermined It is therefore natural for iconophiles to attempt to disprove the thesis according to which the early Christians had no images whatsoever aniconic because they believed them to be idols iconophobic It is equally natural for iconophiles to want to substantiate as much as this is possible their deep intuition that the roots of Christian iconography go back to the apostolic age This study weakens the notion and credibility of the alleged hostility of the early Christians to non idolatrous images providing a more balanced evaluation of this question Caesarea Maritima Avner Raban, Kenneth G. Holum, 2023-09-29 This deluxe volume on Caesarea climaxing new excavations in 1992 95 discusses comprehensively a famous ancient city's archaeology history and culture New discoveries include the amphitheater and royal palace temple dedicated to Roma and Augustus and the spectacular artificial harbor explored under water Medieval Jews and the Christian Past Ram Ben-Shalom, 2015-10-29 The focus in this book is on the historical consciousness of the Jews of Spain and southern France in the late Middle Ages and specifically on their perceptions of Christianity and Christian history and culture Ram Ben Shalom offers a detailed analysis of Jews' exposure to the history of those among whom they lived He shows that the Jews in these southern European lands experienced a relatively open society that was sensitive to and knowledgeable about voices from other cultures and that this had significant consequences for shaping Jewish historical consciousness

Dictionary of Biblical Criticism and Interpretation Stanley E. Porter, 2007-01-24 First Published in 2007 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Challenge of the Mosaic Torah in Judaism, Christianity, and Islam, 2020-10-12 The aim of The Challenge of the Mosaic Torah in Judaism Christianity and Islam is to address the theological issues arising when different ancient religious groups inside three Abrahamic religions attempted to understand or define their opinion on the Mosaic Torah Twelve articles explore various instances of accepting modifying ignoring criticizing and vilifying the Mosaic Torah They demonstrate a range of perspectives of ways in which the Mosaic Torah has formed a challenge These challenges include Persian religious policy when the Mosaic Torah was formed intra Jewish discussions e.g. Samaritans religious practices the New Testament debates of ritual laws and interreligious debates on validity of the Torah stipulations with Christians and Muslims All the papers were discussed at the international conference The Challenge of the Mosaic Torah in Judaism Christianity and Islam organized by Åbo Akademi University and held in Karkku Finland 17-18 August 2017
