1859 at the height of William Gilmore Simms's career. It is a history through fiction of early Charleston, South Carolina, and completed Simms's series of Revolutionary War novels. Through satire and realism, he portrays the charm and the corruption of late seventeenth-century Charleston society and contrasts the quiet majesty of the wilderness with the violence of man. The book was widely reviewed and highly praised and it confirmed Simms's position as the nation's best-known novelist.
