Harvey, 2012-12-20 I believe that Jesus died on the cross for the forgiveness of my sins and yours because He loves us There are some things you have to do repeatedly for someone to show them your love However what Christ did for us on the cross He had to do only once His undying love for us was displayed for eternity He has given us An Everlasting Encore The inspirational poems are written as praise and worship to God for all that He has done and continue to in all of our lives They are thank you notes for His unfailing and undying love He alone has done more than we could ever imagine I am so glad He loves us His love and mercy towards us are new every morning despite where we are from who we are how we look and what weve done He loves us more than we will ever comprehend The inspirational poems tell of a past present and future relationship with God God is truly amazing Hes The Everlasting Encore Between Gone and Everlasting Danita Dodson,2024-05-06 Danita Dodson writes with emotive transparency about loss the passing of generations and the love of a father whose memory becomes a source of light after his death Between Gone and Everlasting pans the perimeters of mourning with a phenomenal scope heartrending reflections on grief tender odes of remembrance stunning elegies about Appalachia s fading past and stirring psalms of spiritual awakening amid loss Gracefully illustrating how the griever inhabits the umbral space between lamenting the gone and celebrating the everlasting Dodson examines a central paradox the irrevocable absence of the departed illuminates that which remains In these poems the past echoes inside the present with song like rhythms intricately threaded together with a warmth reminiscent of the quilts she describes As the speaker commemorates her father s presence in rural East Tennessee she gathers images rooted in her sense of place and reverence of nature revealing that the hills hold space for honoring loss for remembering and for seeing light in the mourning In energetic words that summon healing and tap into the universal human experience Dodson makes the personal space a communal one where grief becomes a sacred creative act connecting the bereaved to the departed within poetry s thin place
