Every Teacher As A Leader Realizing The Potential Of Teacher Leadership:

Every Teacher as a Leader Marilyn Katzenmeyer, Gayle Moller, 1996-11-05 Every day principals assistant principals superintendents and others in educational leadership positions struggle to manage day to day school operations and still find time to champion school reform Meanwhile teachers remain a largely untapped resource With their daily access to students and immediate understanding of what contributes to and what stands in the way of improving learning experiences teachers have the knowledge experience and leadership potential to bring about significant reform But how can principals and others effectively tap this resource What leadership roles are appropriate for teachers given their other responsibilities Where can they be most effective How can schools identify potential leaders among teachers and support their leadership work The authors of this volume address these and other important questions providing insights and ideas for ways to capitalize on this important but sadly underutilized resource This is the first issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for School

Leadership For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page Teacher Leadership Kokila Roy Katyal, Colin William Evers, 2014-03-14 In recent years teacher leadership has undergone one major revolution and is in the process of undergoing another The first came about as schools turned out to be far too complex for the responsibility of formulating and achieving their goals to be vested entirely in principals and head teachers As a consequence the rise of distributed leadership as an alternative model for understanding schools and their functioning is now commonplace The second major revolution affecting teacher leadership is the rise of the Internet and ICT and the way these give rise to greater and more flexible opportunities for students to become autonomous learners Autonomous student learning now occurs in significant new ways and under parameters that are far more expansive than school based learning An effective model of teacher leadership thus needs to capture these changes in order to reflect the new realities of student learning and student engagement with their schools International Handbook of School Effectiveness and Improvement Tony International Handbook of Information Technology in Primary and Secondary Education Joke Voogt, Gerald Knezek, 2008-08-26 Since the introduction of the computer into education in the 1960s its potential for K 12 education has been widely recognized. The terminology used at times confusing due to rapid technology change has continuously evolved. We are in transition to an information society and the term computer technology has been replaced by information technology IT or information and communication technology ICT. New demands from the information society require education to focus on information management and communication skills for which IT can be an essential resource. IT offers promising environments and tools to support new approaches to teaching and learning. Despite major investments the implementation of IT in education has been a persistent problem. And although it is generally assumed that IT has high potential for improving education major research findings have only recently confirmed positive results of IT on students performance. While there is a vast amount of research on information technology IT in K 12 education most of it is scattered. Until now a unified presentation of the research from a broad international perspective has not been accomplished. As a ground breaking publication the two volume International Handbook on Information Technology fully synthesizes the major issues and directions of research in the field. One major focus of the Handbook is the design and potential of IT based student learning environments. Offering the latest research in IT and the learning process distance learning and emerging technologies for education these chapters address the critical issue of the potential for IT to improve K 12 education. A second important theme deals with the implementation of IT in educational practice. In these chapters barriers and opportunities for IT implementation are studied from several perspectives: the teacher, the curriculum, the school organization and educational policy. Curriculum competencies and attitudes, teacher learning, schools and international and regional programs and policies are examined to improve understanding how the implementation of IT in K 12 educational practice can be supported. Additional topics addressed in the Handbook include the role of education in the information society, threats to equity in education and as well various approaches to research in IT in education. The International Handbook on Information Technology in Primary and Secondary Education provides researchers, policy makers and practitioners with an integrated and detailed overview of this complex field making it an essential reference for all libraries and educators.

The International Baccalaureate in Asia Moosung Lee, Ewan Wright, Allan Walker, 2024-12-23 Drawing on extensive scholarly work, datasets and experience with International Baccalaureate (IB) schools in Asia, this book illuminates contemporary debates, discussions and discoveries surrounding IB schools in the region. Schools adopting IB programmes are growing exponentially worldwide where Asia has seen the fastest growth since 2000. By critically exploring the roles, practices and impacts of IB schools, this book enhances our understanding of whether and how IB programmes can drive improvements in school practices and systems in Asia. The book is organised into four parts and 12 chapters aiming to discern the light and shadow of schools implementing IB programmes. Part 1 provides insights into International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme (IBDP).

students learning experiences and outcomes Part 2 focuses on school leadership examining the role of leadership in programme implementation and its relationship with IBDP student achievement Part 3 offers a comparative perspective on the IB exploring topics such as the pedagogical characteristics of the Middle Years Programme MYP the introduction of IB programmes into local and national education systems and comparing the promised and actual benefits between the IBDP and other international programmes Finally Part 4 addresses two critical issues related to the expansion of IB programmes in Asia the introduction and operation of IB programmes within national contexts and the emergence of educational stratifications and inequalities by the expansion of IB schools Built on substantial data and empirical studies this book fills a crucial gap in understanding the evolving nature of IB programmes in Asia It provides readers with a critical and comprehensive understanding of the changing landscape of IB schooling practices and systems in the region This book is an invaluable resource for academics educators scholars and graduate students in the fields of educational leadership and administration comparative and international education higher education and education policy and governance

Cultivating Leadership in Schools Gordon Donaldson,2006 Who's Teaching Your Children? Vivian Troen,Katherine Boles,2004-01-01 The shortage of qualified teachers in our nation s classrooms is critical and it is getting worse This thought provoking book reveals the reasons for the crisis and offers concrete affordable solutions A practical vision of how our children can get the high quality teaching they deserve a vision worth pondering and even implementing Ted Fiske former Education Editor of the New York Times and coauthor of When Schools Compete A Cautionary Tale This book should be read not just by teachers and teacher educators but also by parents citizens and policy makers by all those who need to speak out for children Deborah Meier Educational Leadership Why do so few people go into teaching or once they have begun a career in public school teaching abandon it Kitty Boles and Vivian Troen teachers both investigate that question and then propose considerable and thoughtful changes that would bring great benefit to our beloved profession TheodoreSizer and Nancy Faust Sizer authors of The Students Are Watching Schools and the Moral Contract Understanding Communities of School Leadership Joseph F. Murphy,2023-02-16 This book examines the evolution of schooling from bureaucracy and hierarchy to post industrial schools and places teachers leadership on center stage at the same time That is it asks teachers to deepen leadership in their classrooms and with other teachers The book carries education and schooling from formal control to a social influence process and addresses the deeply rooted difficulty of focusing too much energy on content It reveals the strong power of internal and external context and helps educators implant the idea of the school not as a fixed immutable home but as a relatively deep social process It shows how co leadership comes alive in schools Communities of schooling is one of the three most critical developments in education in the last 140 years When it is linked with the two other fundamental reorientations in schooling dispersed ownership and constructivist work it becomes the most powerful force in education since the 1700s This book shows how communities of schooling replace the earlier pillars of learning as telling hierarchy of control and non democratic influence The work also explains the meaning and understanding of school work as a social influence process where all school based educators exert power but at different levels The idea of enhancing individual and collective capacity through interdependency shared work and collective responsibility is unpacked Exam
