Everyday American History Through The Ci:

Cue ,1966      The Civilian Conservation Corps in Southern Illinois, 1933-1942 Kay Rippelmeyer,2015-03-03

Drawing on more than thirty years of meticulous research Kay Rippelmeyer details the Depression era history of the simultaneous creation of the Civilian Conservation Corps CCC and the Shawnee National Forest in southern Illinois Through the stories of the men who worked in CCC camps devoted to soil and forest conservation projects she offers a fascinating look into an era of utmost significance to the identity citizens wildlife and natural landscape of the region Rippelmeyer outlines the geologic and geographic history of southern Illinois from Native American uses of the land to the timber industry s decimation of the forest by the 1920s Detailing both the economic hardships and agricultural land abuse plaguing the region during the Depression she reveals how the creation of the CCC under Franklin Delano Roosevelt coincided with the regional campaign for a national forest and how locals first became aware of and involved with the program Rippelmeyer mined CCC camp records from the National Archives newspaper accounts and other correspondence and conducted dozens of oral interviews with workers and their families to re create life in the camps An extensive camp compendium augments the volume featuring numerous photographs camp locations and dates of operation work history and company rosters Satisfying public curiosity and the need for factual information about the camps in southern Illinois this is an essential contribution to regional history and a window to the national impact of the CCC      The Engineering-Business Nexus Steen Hyldgaard

Christensen,Bernard Delahousse,Christelle Didier,Martin Meganck,Mike Murphy,2018-11-14 Fascinating and compelling in equal measure this volume presents a critical examination of the multilayered relationships between engineering and business In so doing the study also stimulates ethical reflection on how these relationships either enhance or inhibit strategies to address vital issues of our time In the context of geopolitical economic and environmental tendencies the authors explore the world that we should want to create and the role of the engineer and the business manager in this endeavor Throughout this volume the authors identify periods of alignment and periods of tension between engineering and business They look at focal points of the engineering business nexus related to the development of capitalism The book explores past and present movements to reshape reform or reject this nexus The volume is informed by questions of importance for industry as well as for higher education These are What kinds of conflict arise for engineers in their attempts to straddle both professional and organizational commitments How should professionals be managed to avoid a clash of managerial and professional cultures How do engineers create value in firms and corporations What kinds of tension exist between higher education and industry What challenges does the neoliberal entrepreneurial university pose for management faculty students society and industry Should engineering graduates be ready for work and can they possibly be What kinds of business issues are reflected in engineering education curricula and for what purpose Is there a limit to the degree of business hybridization in engineering degree programs and if so what would be the criterion for its definition Is there a place in engineering education curricula for reflective critique of assumptions related to business and economic thinking One ideal of management and control comes to the fore as the Anthropocene the world transformed into an engineered artefact which includes human existence The volume raises the question as to how engineering and business together should be considered given the fact that the current engineering business nexus remains embedded within an economic model of continual growth By addressing macro level issues such as energy policy sustainable development globalization and social justice this study will both help create awareness and stimulate development of self knowledge among practitioners educators and students thereby ultimately addressing the need for better informed citizens to safeguard planet Earth as a human life supporting system

Honor, Status, and Law in Modern Latin America Sueann Caulfield, Sarah C. Chambers, Lara Putnam, 2005-06-08 This collection brings together recent scholarship that examines how understandings of honor changed in Latin America between political independence in the early nineteenth century and the rise of nationalist challenges to liberalism in the 1930s These rich historical case studies reveal the uneven processes through which ideas of honor and status came to depend more on achievements such as education and employment and less on the birthright privileges that were the mainstays of honor during the colonial period Whether considering court battles over lost virginity or police conflicts with prostitutes vagrants and the poor over public decorum the contributors illuminate shifting ideas about public and private spheres changing conceptions of race the growing intervention of the state in defining and arbitrating individual reputations and the enduring role of patriarchy in apportioning both honor and legal rights Each essay examines honor in the context of specific historical processes including early republican nation building in Peru the transformation in Mexican villages of the cargo system by which men rose in rank through service to the community the abolition of slavery in Rio de Janeiro the growth of local commerce and shifts in women's status in highland Bolivia the formation of a multiethnic society on Costa Rica's Caribbean coast and the development of nationalist cultural responses to U S colonialism in Puerto Rico By connecting liberal projects that aimed to modernize law and society with popular understandings of honor and status this volume sheds new light on broad changes and continuities in Latin America over the course of the long nineteenth century Contributors Jos Amador de Jesus Rossana Barrag n Sueann Caulfield Sidney Chalhoub Sarah C Chambers Eileen J Findley Brodwyn Fischer Ol via Maria Gomes da Cunha Laura Gotkowitz Keila Grinberg Peter Guardino Cristiana Schettini Pereira Lara Elizabeth Putnam

Impression Management Theory and Social Psychological Research James T. Tedeschi, 2013-09-24 Impression Management Theory and Social Psychological Research gathers together the various strands of thinking and research on impression management This book does not easily lend itself to a singular organization Not only do the authors deal with very different topics they sometimes disagree with one another on assumptions and interpretations Nevertheless there are chapters that tend to group together The book can be organized into six parts Part I General Theory consists of chapters that deal primarily with issues related to the reasons for and specific tactics of impression management Part II Impression Management and Laboratory Research includes two chapters that make a major contribution to the social psychology of the experiment Part III Attitudes as Tactics of Self Presentation centers around the concept of attitudes The chapters in Part IV Self Presentation and Harm Doing are organized around the theme of harm doing Part V Bargaining Distributive Justice and Impression Management focuses on the distribution of rewards in groups Part VI Individual Differences and Impression Management is concerned with individual differences such as mental illness social anxiety and shyness      Mental Health Care Issues in America Michael Shally-Jensen,2013-01-07 This two volume encyclopedia examines the social cultural and political dimensions of mental illness in America Americans are becoming more cognizant of the importance of mental wellness as incidents of bullying random shootings and eating disorders pervade our society This comprehensive resource provides an expansive overview of mental health and illness in the United States analyzing the current state of the health care system and objectively examining the therapies and treatment options traditionally recommended by the medical community Mental Health Care Issues in America An Encyclopedia covers major mental disorders theories and treatments delves into major advances and ongoing controversies in the field and shares the most current research on the subject in varied disciplines including ethnic studies criminal justice education and social work Each entry features a clear definition of the issue along with a brief review of its history Additionally the author situates the material within the mental health field as well as within society in general Organized alphabetically topics include advocacy legal issues media portrayals of psychological disorders and homelessness and mental illness      Officers and Students University of California (System),1921      Black Men and Racial Trauma Yamonte Cooper,2024-02-23 This volume comprehensively addresses racial trauma from a clinical lens equipping mental health professionals across all disciplines to be culturally responsive when serving Black men Written using a transdisciplinary approach Yamonte Cooper presents a Unified Theory of Racism UTR Integrated Model of Racial Trauma IMRT Transgenerational Trauma Points TTP Plantation Politics Black Male Negation BMN and Race Based Shame RBS to fill a critical and urgent void in the mental health field and emerging scholarship on racial trauma Chapters begin with specific definitions of racism before exploring specific challenges that Black men face such as racial discrimination and health trauma criminalization economic deprivation anti Black misogyny and culturally specific stressors emotions such as shame and anger and coping mechanisms that these men utilize After articulating the racial trauma of Black men in a comprehensive manner the book provides insight into what responsive care looks like as well as clinical interventions that can inform treatment approaches This book is invaluable reading for all established and training mental health clinicians that work with Black men such as psychologists marriage and family therapists social workers counselors and psychiatrists      Women's Health Research Institute of Medicine,Board on Population Health and Public Health Practice,Committee on Women's Health Research,2010-11-27 Even though slightly over half of the U S population is female medical research historically has neglected the health needs of women. However, over the past two decades, there have been major changes in government support of women's health research in policies, regulations, and the organization of research efforts. To assess the impact of these changes, Congress directed the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to ask the IOM to examine what has been learned from that research and how well it has been put into practice, as well as communicated to both providers and women. Women's Health Research finds that women's health research has contributed to significant progress over the past 20 years in lessening the burden of disease and reducing deaths from some conditions, while other conditions have seen only moderate change or even little or no change. Gaps remain both in research areas and in the application of results to benefit women in general and across multiple population groups. Given the many and significant roles women play in our society, maintaining support for women's health research and enhancing its impact are not only in the interest of women; they are in the interest of us all.

MH/CHAOS Frank J. Rafalko, 2011-10-15. Operation MH/CHAOS was the code name for a domestic espionage project conducted by the Central Intelligence Agency in the late 1960s and early 1970s. MH/CHAOS: The CIA's Campaign Against the Radical New Left and the Black Panthers is an insider's account of the CIA's Counterintelligence Staff's Special Operations Group, first charged by President Lyndon Johnson and later by Richard Nixon to find foreign intelligence, terrorist organizations, or government contacts controlling or influencing Anti-Vietnam War activists or American black extremists protesting bombing and carrying out other anti-government, unlawful, or illegal activities in the United States. The operation was launched under Director of Central Intelligence Richard Helms by chief of counterintelligence James Jesus Angleton and headed by Richard Ober. The program's goal was to unmask possible foreign influences on the student antiwar movement. The MH designation signified that the program had a worldwide area of operations. When President Nixon came to office in 1969, all of the existing domestic surveillance activities were consolidated into Operation MH/CHAOS and used CIA stations abroad to report on antiwar activities of United States citizens traveling abroad, employing methods such as physical surveillance and electronic eavesdropping, utilizing liaison services in maintaining such surveillance. The operations were later expanded to include 60 officers. In 1969, following the expansion, the operation began developing its own network of informants for the purposes of infiltrating various foreign antiwar groups located in foreign countries that might have ties to domestic groups. Eventually, CIA officers expanded the program to include other leftist or counter-cultural groups with no discernible connection to Vietnam, such as groups operating within the women's liberation movement, including Students for a Democratic Society, the Black Panther Party, and Women Strike for Peace. Also targeted was the Israeli embassy and domestic Jewish groups such as the B'nai B'rith. As a result of the Watergate break-in involving two former CIA officers, Operation MH/CHAOS was discontinued. The secret nature of the program was exposed by Seymour Hersh in the New York Times on December 22, 1974. The following year, further details were revealed during Representative Bella Abzug's House Subcommittee on Government Information and Individual Rights. The government, in response to the revelations, launched the Commission on CIA Activities Within the United States The Rockefeller Commission lead by then Vice President Nelson Rockefeller to investigate the depth of the surveillance In Operation MHCHOAS the author who is a former CIA officer refutes the charges made by the New York Times and the Washington Post at the time that this domestic spying program first made headlines and takes issue with conclusions of the Rockefeller Commission and the Church Committee He relates how the Special Operations Group began was staffed and how it was transformed into an anti terrorist unit before it ceased operation Rafalko details the information that Special Operations Group collected against the New Left and Black extremists and makes the case that the MHCHAOS program was justified why the CIA was the logical agency to conduct the collection and the consequences suffered later by American counterintelligence because of these investigations      Public Health Reports ,2002      The New York Daily Tribune Index ,1893      Peru in Theory P. Drinot,2014-10-23 Can theory teach us anything about Peru Can Peru teach us anything about theory The chapters in this volume explore these questions by establishing a productive dialogue between Peru and theory Focusing on institutional weakness and economic social gendered racialized and other forms of exclusion key issues in recent social scientific inquiry in Peru the contributors to this volume assess the extent to which the analytical frameworks of a number of social and cultural theorists can inform and at the same time be informed by Peru as a case study      The Daily Bond Buyer ,1917      Bulletin Salem Public Library,1903
