Malthus were writing at a time when capitalist development was expanding fast and growth was a central in the process The gradual impact of the West on the rest of world became part of a wider process of change in the World Economy European capital increased its domination of the world trade through expansionist commercial policies Wallerstein 1979 The economic growth encouraged commerce The necessity to export and other technological changes formed part of the reason for the decline of feudalism This transition from feudalism to capitalism began in the West and soon made an impact on the rest of the World T Farhang Morady Hakan Kapucu mer Yal nkaya Development GDP treats resources as income without excluding depletion or depression of the resources Moreover GDP has been criticised for disregarding income distribution Despite all the criticism GDP has been the most significant indicator of growth and development With the Post War II reconstruction of devastated countries and in order to kick start the World Economy the state in both developed and developing counties became the important agency to facilitate economic growth The establishment of the Bretton Woods institutions the Keynesian model of government intervention and the US implementation of New Deal facilitated growth This was deliberate strategy to reconstruct and create networks of international cooperation This was pointed out by President Truman in 1949 A program of development based on the concepts of democratic fair dealing All countries including our own will greatly benefit from a constructive program for the better use of the World s human and natural resources Truman 1949 This meant the reinforcement and need to distribute the Benefits of capitalist form of development more widely against the planned economy sustained by the Soviet Union The economist such as Joseph Schumpeter pointed to the possibility that capitalist growth if it is sustained could abolish poverty Schumpeter 1954 pp66 68 Whilst development meant rapid industrialisation GDP became a key policy objective for the policy makers and governments around the world not just in the Soviet Union but the Western Capitalist World to set targets for their Growth Rate The end of the Cold War in the 1980s for some meant triumph of Neoliberal Capitalism The others talked of trade liberalization free movement of capital and the development of information technology facilitating the relocation of businesses across the world Ohmae 1995 Friedman suggested that globalization is the Inevitable Integration of markets nation states and technologies enabling individuals corporations and nation states to reach around the world farther faster deeper and cheaper than ever before Friedman 1999 Development China India and Brazil helped the world economy to grow at least for now However the unevenness of the world economy continues to cause difficulties especially the US as they feeling the threat of their competitors such as China Germany and even India The victory of Donald Trump as the S President has represented an ideological shift from free trade advocator of global capitalism to a mixture of right wing populism Before and after the presidential election he called for the revival of the American economy which has been under considerable pressure since 2008 World Recession In order to prove growth rate Trump has a huge challenge ahead not least to deal with the competition from South East Asian economies especially China It remains to be seen whether the new US administration will continue with their populist rhetoric In this book Economic

The Informal

Economy in Developing Countries Jean-Pierre Cling, Stéphane Lagrée, Mireille Razafindrakoto, François Roubaud, 2014-08-21

Informality is ubiquitous in most developing countries Understanding the informal economy is therefore of utmost importance from a political economic and social point of view Paradoxically despite its economic importance knowledge is extremely limited regarding the informal economy It remains largely unrecognized by researchers is neglected by politicians and is even negatively perceived as it is meant to disappear with development This book aims to amend this situation by presenting recent high level research which studies the informal sector and informal employment Fresh research into this subject is presented through empirical analysis which covers Asia Africa and Latin America Each chapter relies on data and a detailed knowledge of the context of the countries studied in order to question the dominant schools of thought on the origins and causes of informality The results provide interesting insights into the constraints faced by informal workers the dynamics of the informal economy and its link with poverty issues On the basis of the evidences provided by results adequate policies could be defined to address informality issues The principal characteristics of the informal sector testify to some profound similarities between developing countries low qualifications and the precariousness of jobs mediocre incomes and working conditions atomization of production units and lack of articulation with the formal economy etc This general statement does not contradict the observation that there is a high level of heterogeneity in the sector and in informal employment within each country confirmed by several chapters in this work In the absence of a sufficient number of job creations the informal sector essentially constitutes a refuge for workers seeking and is here to stay in the short and medium term even in emerging countries
