Economic Systems of Foraging, Agricultural, and Industrial Societies Frederic L. Pryor,2005-01-10 Drawing upon the disciplines of economics anthropology statistics and history and employing a new and unified analytic approach Frederic L. Pryor reformulates in this book the entire field of comparative economic systems He examines large samples of foraging hunting gathering and fishing agricultural and industrial economies to explore four key questions What are the distinct economic systems found in each group Why do certain societies or nations have one economic system rather than another What impact do economic systems have on the performance of the economy How do these economic systems develop and change The results provide a context that allows us to move beyond the chaos of case studies and ideological assertions to gain an overview of the development of economic systems over the millennia It also raises a series of new analytic and empirical issues that have not hitherto been systematically explored Consistency and Viability of Islamic Economic Systems and the Transition Process J. Marangos,2013-08-27 Consistency and Viability of Islamic Economics Systems and the Transition Process outlines the transition problem for non market economies and creates an analytic framework for understanding the cause and effect of these economies Regional Trading Blocs in the World Economic System Jeffrey A. Frankel,Ernesto Stein,Shang-Jin Wei,1997 Covers trends from 1957 to 1995 The Anthropology of Complex Economic Systems Niccolo Leo Caldararo,2013-11-14 Today we live in what Ulrich Beck has aptly characterized as a risk society shaped by intensifying crises outside of our control and seemingly outside of our comprehension The master narrative that was supposed to lead us to secular salvation economics has proved to be a large part of the problem rather than the much anticipated solution In The Anthropology of Complex Economic Systems Niccolo Caldararo offers a much more radical and challenging answer that the fundamental assumptions on which the modern science of economics has been erected are false and that it is through the medium of anthropology particularly the relatively neglected field of economic anthropology that an alternative and sound basis for both the understanding of economic behavior and for the shaping of economic futures can be constructed Caldararo not only challenges the foundational assumptions of conventional economic theory but situates economic behavior something quite different and universal amongst human beings in both a historical and an ecological context Contemporary discussions of sustainability especially in the field of development studies have oddly neglected to look to anthropology Economic anthropology is the repository of a vast store of wisdom both about actual alternative and workable economic systems and about their evolution By drawing on this source Caldararo builds a model of the evolution of human economies which stir up substantial debate shows how economic anthropology provides a tool for the interrogation of economic theory and ties economics to ecology It has been the rupture of this fundamental relationship that lies at the basis of much of our present crisis and the unsustainable economic patterns that humans have created By bringing together in a new configuration economic anthropology ecology and culture history Caldararo not only proposes a new model of human social evolution but equally importantly creates a methodology for speaking to and against our present economic and environmental situation
