Eco's Chaosmos Cristina Farronato, 2003-01-01 While Umberto Eco's intellectual itinerary was marked by his early studies of post-Crocean aesthetics and his spectacular concentration on linguistics information theory structuralism semiotics cognitive science and media studies what constitutes the peculiarity of his critical and fiction writing is the tension between a typically medieval search for a code and the hermeneutic representative of deconstructive tendencies This tension between cosmos and chaos order and disorder is reflected in the word chaosmos In this brilliant assessment of the philosophical basis of Eco's critical and fictional writing Cristina Farronato explores the other distinctive aspect of Eco's thought the struggle for a composition of opposites the outcome deriving from his ability to elicit similar contrasts from the past and re play them in modern terms Focusing principally on how Eco's scholarly background influenced his study of semiotics Farronato analyzes The Name of the Rose in relation to William of Ockham's epistemology C S Peirce's work on abduction and Wittgenstein's theory of language She discusses Foucault's Pendulum as an explicit comment on the modern debate on interpretation through a direct reference to Early Modern hermetic thought correlates The Island of the Day Before as a postmodern mixture of science and superstition and reviews Baudolino as an historical fantastic novel that once again situates the Middle Ages in a postmodern context Eco's Chaosmos demonstrates how Eco's use of semiotic theory is important for an understanding of the postmodern aspects of today's literature and culture

combination three authors who have written movingly about mourning two medieval Italian poets Dante Alighieri and Francesco Petrarca and one early twentieth century French novelist Marcel Proust Each of these authors through their respective narratives of bereavement grapples with the challenge of how to write adequately about the deeply personal and painful experience of grief In Jennifer Rushworth's analysis discourses of mourning emerge as caught between the twin conflicting demands of a comforting readable shared generality and a silent solitary respect for the uniqueness of any and every experience of loss Rushworth explores a variety of major questions in the book including what type of language is appropriate to mourning What effect does mourning have on language Why and how has the Orpheus myth been so influential on discourses of mourning across different time periods and languages Might the form of mourning described in a text and the form of closure achieved by that same text be mutually formative and sustaining In this way discussion of the literary representation of mourning extends to embrace topics such as the medieval sin of acedia the proper name memory literary epiphanies the image of the book and the concept of writing as promise In addition to the three primary authors Rushworth draws extensively on the writings of Sigmund Freud Julia Kristeva Jacques Derrida and Roland Barthes These rich and diverse psychoanalytical and French theoretical traditions provide terminological nuance and frameworks for comparison particularly in relation to the complex term melancholia

S. Peirce's work on abduction and Wittgenstein's theory of language She discusses Foucault's Pendulum as an explicit comment on the modern debate on interpretation through a direct reference to Early Modern hermetic thought correlates The Island of the Day Before as a postmodern mixture of science and superstition and reviews Baudolino as an historical fantastic novel that once again situates the Middle Ages in a postmodern context Eco's Chaosmos demonstrates how Eco's use of semiotic theory is important for an understanding of the postmodern aspects of today's literature and culture

Medieval Crime Fiction Anne McKendry, 2019-05-14 Combining elements of medievalism the historical novel and the detective narrative medieval crime fiction capitalizes upon the appeal of all three the most famous examples being Umberto Eco's The Name of the Rose one of the best-selling books ever published and Ellis Peters endearing Brother Cadfael series Hundreds of other novels and series fill out the genre in settings ranging from the so called Celtic Enlightenment in seventh century Ireland to the ruthless Inquisition in fourteenth century France to the mean streets of medieval London The detectives are an eclectic group including weary ex crusaders former Knights Templar enterprising monks and nuns and historical poets such as Geoffrey Chaucer This book investigates the enduring popularity of the largely unexamined genre and explores its social cultural and political contexts Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2003

Postmodern Artistry in Medievalist Fiction Earl R. Anderson,2018-06-09 Focusing on modern day fiction set in the Middle Ages or that incorporates medieval elements this study examines storytelling components and rhetorical tropes in more than 60 works in five languages by more than 40 authors Medievalist fiction got its postmodern start with such authors as Calvino Fuentes Carpentier and Eco Its momentum increased since the 1990s with writers whose work has received less critical attention like Laura Esquivel Tariq Ali Matthew Pearl Matilde Asensi Ildefonso Falcones Andrew Davison Bernard Cornwell Donnal Woolfolk Cross Ariana Franklin Nicole Griffith Levi Grossman Conn Iggulden Edward Rutherford Javier Sierra Alan Moore and Brenda Vantrease The author explores a wide range of medievalizing tropes discusses the negative responses of postmodernism and posits four hard problems in medievalist fiction Canadian Books in Print ,1975 The Knights of Modernism Branko Vraneš,2021-06-07 According to the customary literary historical and theoretical notion the fact that the first modern novel represents a parody or travesty of the chivalric ideal merits no particular attention Failing to become attuned to the real role of the chivalric ideal at the beginning of the era of the modern novel commentators missed the chance to adequately review the role of chivalry at the end of that period The modern novel did not only begin but also ended with a travesty of the chivalric ideal The deep need of a significant number of modernist writers to measure their own time according to the ideals of the high and late Middle Ages cannot therefore be explained by a set of literary historical spiritual historical or social circumstances The predilection of a range of twentieth century novelists for a distant feudal past suggests that there exists a fundamental poetic connection between the modern or at least the modernist novel and the ideals of chivalry Possible Worlds in Humanities, Arts and Sciences Allén Sture,2010-11-22 No detailed description available for Possible Worlds in Humanities Arts and Sciences
