The Visual Worlds of Life Writing Kerstin Maria Pahl, 2025-01-04 An Open Access edition is available The Visual Worlds of Life Writing brings into conversation the two most popular genres in long eighteenth century England portraits and biographies As key instruments of social formation when Britain was forging the nation Linda Colley they were wielded alike by Whigs and Tories the aristocracy and the commercial middle classes high class artists and grub street writers They were most persuasive however when used jointly portrait prints ideally accompanied by Brief Lives sold by the thousands National histories were re issued to include pictures Portraitists were required to stage their sitters as though taken from real life situations Embedded into such interplay between texts and images was an aesthetic claim doing biography was a multimedia enterprise Far from being just words on a page eighteenth century life writing came with frontispiece portraits illustrations or elaborate title pages Biographers directed their readers to existing portraits of their subjects to enhance the reading experience Portraits made of calligraphic writing blurred the boundaries between text and image As a thorough reassessment of visual culture s role in producing biographies this book offers an in depth analysis of the rhetorics of portraiture and life writing an historical account of their sister arts tradition and an inquiry into the social function of profiling people

Difference and Disease Suman Seth, 2018-06-07 Before the nineteenth century travellers who left Britain for the Americas West Africa India and elsewhere encountered a medical conundrum why did they fall ill when they arrived and why if they recovered did they never become so ill again The widely accepted answer was that the newcomers needed to become seasoned to the climate Suman Seth explores forms of eighteenth century medical knowledge including conceptions of seasoning showing how geographical location was essential to this knowledge and helped to define relationships between Britain and her far flung colonies In this period debates raged between medical practitioners over whether diseases changed in different climes Different diseases were deemed characteristic of different races and genders and medical practitioners were thus deeply involved in contestations over race and the legitimacy of the abolitionist cause In this innovative and engaging history Seth offers dramatically new ways to understand the mutual shaping of medicine race and empire

The Oxford History of Historical Writing José Rabasa, Masayuki Sato, Edoardo Tortarolo, Daniel Woolf, 2012-03-29 Volume III of The Oxford History of Historical Writing contains essays by leading scholars on the writing of history globally during the early modern era from 1400 to 1800 The volume proceeds in geographic order from east to west beginning in Asia and ending in the Americas It aims at once to provide a selective but authoritative survey of the field and where opportunity allows to provoke cross cultural comparisons This is the third of five volumes in a series that explores representations of the past from the beginning of writing to the present day and from all over the world
