Why Russian Policy is Failing in Asia Stephen Blank, 1997 Since its inception as a state Russia has been both a European and an Asian power Although Russia today as was true during much of its history is torn by an identity crisis over where it belongs its elites have never renounced Russia s vital interests in Asia and the belief that it should be recognized as a great power there However that belief and Moscow s ability to sustain it are now under threat due as Dr Stephen Blank s thorough analysis informs us to the ongoing failures of Russian policymakers to come to grips with changed Russian and Asian realities At the same time this aspect of Russian policy has been neglected in American assessments of Russia This is a serious shortcoming because in Dr Blank s view Russia s Asian policies viewed in their full breadth are important signs of present and future trends concerning its behavior at home and in the wider world Those policies are also significant as Asia s importance in world affairs rises We ignore the threatening situation facing Russia and Moscow s failure to adjust to those threats only at our own peril The growing concern over Russian arms transfers to China a subject addressed in the study is only one sign of unexpected negative trends that might work against U S interests if we continue to neglect Asian aspects of Russia s global behavior and policy Future survey annual : a guide to the recent literature of trends, forecasts, and policy proposals. 16.1996 Michael Marien,1996 The Political Economy of New Regionalisms in the Pacific Rim José Briceño-Ruiz,Philippe De Lombaerde,2019-08-28 Combining an analysis of regionalism from a systemic view with a domestic political economy analysis this book sheds light on the new dynamics and emerging configurations of regionalisms and interregionalisms in the post Trans Pacific Partnership TPP Donald Trump s presidency has transformed trans Pacific economic and political relations contrasting sharply with President Obama s pivot to Asia strategy Unilateralism and bilateralism have returned to the center stage at the cost of regionalism interregionalism and multilateralism Understanding these new dynamics requires closer examination of the underlying domestic political economies Examining ten country case studies of multi actor agency at the national level expert contributors argue that trans Pacific relations should not only be explained in terms of the behavior of the major powers but that medium powers and even small countries can exert influence and occupy strategic nodes and contribute to shaping a new international relations network Their findings will be of interest to scholars of international relations international political economy regionalism and international economics
